Superintendent Julius E. Warren and Samuel Thurber also head the large supporting cast of former years: Arthur G. Hildreth, Caroline M. Noonan, Louise Richardson, Carl Swan, Edith Newcombe, Daniel Willard, Daniel Koughan, Thomas G. Walters, Frederick Hussey, Charles B. Harrington, and a long list of efficient extras.

Hurley Appoints Donald Mayberry As Newton Judge

Donald E. Mayberry of Plymouth rd., Newton Highlands was appointed by Governor Hurley on Wednesday to succeed the late William F. Bacon as presiding justice of the Newton district court. The nomination will have to be confirmed by the Executive Council.

Mr. Mayberry was born at Waltham, 41 years ago, the son of George L. and Mary (Atchinson) Mayberry. His father, who served as Mayor of Waltham for several years, died two weeks ago. Donald Mayberry was educated in Waltham public schools and preparatory schools in Boston, and was preparing to take entrance examinations for Harvard when war was declared in 1917. Several days later he enlisted in the United States Naval Reserve and served on submarine chasers on this side for a year, and overseas for 18 months. Following the war he again went to preparatory school for a year, and then entered Boston University Law School. He graduated in 1923 and was admitted to the bar in 1924.

Mr. Mayberry has been a resident of this city for 10 years. His wife is the former Priscilla Lombard and they have two children. Mr. Mayberry is not a member of any organization.

COMMUNITY CHEST CAMPAIGN OPENS WITH ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING OF 1500 WORKERS

D. Frank P. Speare, and Director A. L. Harwood, Jr., Principal Speakers at High School

Inaugurating the intensive period of the Newton Community Chest Campaign for $192,305, more than 1,500 campaign workers attended the opening meeting last night at the Newton High School Gymnasium. Today these solicitors begin their task of calling on every home in the city. With more than 16,000 calls to be made during the next two weeks, campaign officials stress the need of a prompt response by contributors. Competition among the village teams to be the first to reach their quota is already keen. To aid them, large signs have been erected in each village which will record the daily progress of the campaign.

In a stirring address at the dinner last night, A. Leslie Harwood, Jr., director of the 1937 campaign, declared, "We are working for the welfare of neighbors who now need help. We will succeed in this campaign and give that help through the hard work of individual workers." The invocation was given by Rev. John A. Sheridan and the response by the Highlands Glee Club under the direction of D. Ralph McLean. Other speakers were Mayor Edwin O. Childs, Maynard Hutchinson and Dr. Frank Palmer Speare, president of Northeastern University.

THE BOSTON ELECTION

Columns and columns have been written about the election in Boston this week. Newton citizens in general rejoice that the voters have exercised a most admirable choice for mayor of that city. Gone is the old-time flavor of political domination and in its stead arises a hope that youth and vigor, with a vision of the future and a knowledge of existing conditions that are in need of reform, will bring back to the city of Boston a government which will be financially sound and administered with the intention of benefiting the citizenry and not the aggrandizement of selfish advancement. With its provision of prohibiting the re-election of its mayor Boston was faced with the choice of returning to the political bosses who are responsible for the present condition of affairs or of wiping the slate clean and starting afresh. A new leaf has been turned and Maurice Tobin as mayor has the opportunity to serve his fellow citizens in a manner offered to few persons. In him Boston has placed its trust and confidence.

PARENTAL CO-OPERATION A FACTOR

The accident this week in which a Newtonville lad was shot in the eye by a playmate with an air-rifle is of deep concern to many parents. There is an ever-constant menace in the use of air-rifles by young boys. Police state that the problem is becoming more acute with an increasing number of these playthings in evidence. In most cases little blame can be charged to the youth who possesses the toy. In this particular case the merchant in a neighboring community who apparently broke the law in selling the air-rifle to a boy under fifteen without the parents' knowledge is the responsible individual. In general, parental co-operation in control of the possession of air-rifles is a potent factor in responsibility for the safety of the youth of the city.

Democrats Protest Mayberry As Judge

The Newton Democratic Ward and City Committee held a meeting on Wednesday night at the Newton Free Library. Much indignation was expressed over the appointment on that day by Governor Hurley of Donald Mayberry of Newton Highlands as presiding justice of the Newton District Court to succeed the late Judge William F. Bacon. A telegram of protest was sent to the Governor which stated — "Newton Democratic Ward and City Committee, and your delegates, at meeting last evening voted to strongly object to your selection of Donald E. Mayberry, as Judge of Newton District Court." The telegram, which was authorized by the meeting, was signed by Joseph J. Dargatzis, chairman of the committee, and sent to the Governor on Thursday morning.

The members of the Democratic City Committee asserted that last May the Governor had given them the promise that he would consult them before making an appointment of Judge Bacon's successor. They agreed that while a Democratic should have been appointed, that if the Governor desired to succeed Judge Bacon by another Republican, he should have appointed either Judge Lloyd Allen or Judge Thomas Weston, both of whom have served as associate justices at the Newton court for twenty years.

Another important matter discussed at the meeting was the selection of a candidate to run for the office of Mayor at the coming election. The committee has been endeavoring to induce Edward Dalton of Newton Centre to accept the nomination, but he has not given his consent.

Armistice Ball Of Newton Post

Newton Post No. 48, American Legion, will conduct its Nineteenth Annual Armistice Ball on Thursday, November 11th, 1937, at the State Armory, West Newton.

This year's party is expected to be the most successful ever staged by the local post, as a large committee, headed by Captain J. Joseph Ward, has been handling the details to assure the success of the annual entertainment. A well known radio broadcasting orchestra has been engaged to furnish the music for the dancing, and at eleven o'clock a tribute will be paid in memory of the departed Members of Newton Post. Past Commander Leon H. Mayer will have charge of this memorial service and is arranging for a tableau in connection with this service.

One of the entertainment features of the ball will be a drill staged by the champion Girl Drill Team from Brighton, of which Captain Ward is the instructor and drill master; these girls have won several prizes throughout Greater Boston and are making their appearance in Newton to honor their instructor for being the Captain of the National Champion Rifle Team of the American Legion. The Newton Legion Guards, the National Champions, will also stage the same drill which won them first honors at the recent convention held in New York.

Captain J. Joseph Ward is the general chairman of the committee, assisted by Commander Sherman Irving, Charles E. Walker, John B. Foley, Daniel Murphy, Austin Morgan, and Joseph A. Beattie in charge of the tickets. Francis D. Duggan will be the floor director, Past Commander Leon H. Mayer will have charge of hall arrangements, Francis P. Frazier will serve as treasurer, and the following will be on the reception committee: Philip W. Carter, chairman; Captain Roy S. Edwards, Past Commander of the Mass. Canadian Veterans Association; Arthur A. Hunt, George Henriksen, John J. Pendergast, Mildred B. Ely, Harold D. Ames, Frank R. Gaw, John F. Foran, Arthur R. McCarthy, Donald M. Hill and Carl B. Peterson.

Fined $50 For Drunken Driving

Charles Furden, 43, of 141 Galen st., Watertown, was fined $50 in the Newton court by Judge Allen on Saturday for driving a car while under the influence of liquor. A drunkenness charge was filed. Furden was given until December 18 to pay the fine. Furden was engaged on Friday to install a heater in a car owned by a Newton lawyer. He became under the influence of liquor and while at Nonantum square on Friday afternoon backed into a car which had stopped at the traffic signal.

In the Newton court on Monday Judge Allen found Dr. Louis Salerno of East Boston not guilty of driving to endanger the safety of the public. On September 17 a car driven by Sal-

Mr. Harwood said in part: "It is a wonderful inspiration to see the group here gathered and to realize the objective that brings us together. We are to embark on a vitally important undertaking, one that means much for our community. Such an organization as this has in it tremendous power and ability. It is, I believe, the best marshalling of capacity for doing a job that has ever been brought together in our city. With the determination to win which has every where been very evident during these last few weeks, which is tonight clearly shown in your faces, this splendid co-operative effort cannot help but succeed."

"We shall in the 12 short days ahead make it possible for those in our city who during the next 12 months need a helping hand and for those being trained for community service and civic responsibility to be adequately served by the fine fourteen member agencies who look to the Chest to finance that part of their necessary outlay for which their beneficiaries for the time being are unable to pay."

"And we are working for the welfare of neighbors who just now need help. And the persons of those who are served is ever changing, few who are not active in these member agencies realize how great is the change from year to year, yes, even from month to month. And those who today may be aided are splendid citizens, most of whom in the past have helped maintain our standards, who today offer splendid examples of moral courage and the will to conquer temporary difficulty and who tomorrow will again resume their customary activity and influence for the betterment of our life."

"So we will go out from this meeting, each one to contribute his full share in effort and in money for the maintenance and for the betterment of our society. This Campaign can only succeed through individual, hard, conscientious work. Your best, your best, everyone's best. And those who will be helped because of our work are our neighbors, splendid individuals who themselves contribute vitally to our common welfare. Good neighbors are not confined to those who contribute, good neighbors are not confined to those who work, good neighbors are all inclusive, good neighbors embrace our entire citizenship."

Dr. Speare said in part, "The City of Newton is generally regarded as one of the outstanding municipalities in America and those who make it their home, or place of business are indeed highly privileged."

"The audience before me is a cross-section of this great community and represents all classes, professions and occupations. We are motivated by a passion for service and the welfare of our citizens, young and old, rich and poor, sick and well. We have mobilized to safeguard and sustain the institutions represented here tonight which stand for the best things in life and bring opportunities and invaluable service to those who urgently require them."

"To raise money under present conditions is no easy task—many are hard pressed to meet their current bills, while others who have large incomes have been unable to reduce their expenses proportionately. There are, however, large sums of money in circulation—retail trade is excellent, there are more automobiles on the roads than ever before, the colleges and private schools are crowded, the largest number of people on record toured Europe this last summer and the Southern hotels and steamship lines report unprecedented activity. This means one thing—that people can obtain and spend money when they want to and when properly approached and told why this campaign is held and how the money is to be expended, they will respond as they have in the past. Success depends wholly upon work. Worn shoe leather is the badge of devotion to the cause. If enough people ask enough people, the money will be obtained."

"One should not be disappointed at refusals as some of them are justified and the solicitor should fortify himself with the philosophy of the traveling salesman who interviews many prospects and may sell but few. This does not discourage him and he continues with buoyant enthusiasm, knowing that the law of averages is at work and that if he believes thoroughly in his mission, sees enough people and keeps everlastingly at it, he will succeed. This must be our attitude."

"We are serving a noble purpose, we are meeting pressing needs, we are enabling well-organized, highly effective, skillfully administered institutions of public welfare to function and they in turn extend their benefactions to those in need of their services."

"It is a privilege, as well as a duty for every member of this great gathering to throw himself wholeheartedly into the undertaking, attack the problem with courage and determination and preserve this great blanket insurance policy which guards and protects the lives of our people."

Upon leaving school he entered the automobile business and for eight years owned and operated a trucking business and sales agency.

In 1929 he joined the sales force of the Federal Motor Truck Company at their branch factory in Brighton and moved to Auburndale. In 1932 he became sales manager and continued in this position when the Sterling Motors Corp. took over the sale of Federal trucks in this territory. This position he holds today.

Mr. Ricketson has been active in community work since his residence in Auburndale serving as a member of and now as chairman of the Boy Scout Committee, Troop 15. His three children attend Newton schools.

The motor and some of the tools were recovered by Patrolmen Hoyt and Taife who investigated the matter.

Maybe I shouldn't spit out that Cod Liver Oil. Wonder if it will help my teeth grow? The District Nurse said it would. She told mother I needed Milk and Cod Liver Oil to make my legs and back straight and strong and my teeth good. Wonder how she knows so much? See you next week.

(Sunbeam Chats are sponsored by the Newton District Nursing Association.)

62 YEARS AGO

Newton Republican, Nov. 6, 1875

We hope at the city election next month that party lines will be overthrown and that the citizens will nominate the best men to represent them in the various Wards. Vote for the best man for the office in every case.

The annual meeting of the Waltham & Newton Street Railway Company was held last week at the Waltham Watch Factory. Last year 92,300 passengers were carried and the total receipts amounted to $7200, a gain over the preceding year of $1400. It was left optional with the directors to take up the track between the watch factory and West Newton. The refusal of the City of Newton to allow the company to lay tracks on Highland st. to the depot caused much discouragement.

The engine "Wachusett" on the Boston & Albany has had its name changed to "Modoc" and now draws the 10 a. m. Modoc express.

The annual meeting of the Newton Free Library was held at the library building on Wednesday evening. Warren P. Tyler, treasurer, reported cash on hand, Oct. 1, 1874, $3685.55; received from City Treasurer, $5000; from private subscription, $135; total, $9912.70. Expended for salaries $1,929.86; for books, $976.54; balance on notes receivable and interest, $3552.50; cash on hand, $942.02; amount brought forward Oct. 1, 1875, $4494.52. Hannah Jones, the librarian, reported that there are 11,003 books in the library, books delivered during the year, 57,259, an increase over last year of 9607. Books added through the year, 914; donated, 302; purchased, 612.

On and after Sunday until further notice, Grace Episcopal Church at Newton will be open for the evening prayer and sermon at 3 in the afternoon.

A Newtonville ave. man suggests that the lamp post near his residence be whitewashed, as there is no light from it, and it is dangerous on dark nights. He thinks if it is whitewashed, people may pass it safely.

At the special meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Saturday evening the committee of ordinances reported that the ordinance of fast driving ought to pass. The report was accepted.

Alderman Keith stated that the matter of breaking street lamps has become a serious evil. Recently 28 lamps on Centre and Beacon sts. were broken in one night. In two months the Gas Company has paid $75 to repair malicious mischief damage to lamps and posts. He offered an order authorizing the Mayor to pay $25 for the conviction of anyone who injures a street lamp.

50 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, Nov. 4, 1887

The foundation of the new Eliot Church is progressing and some idea can now be gained of the size of the building.

There is much complaint about the damage done by boys with sling shots. The owners of greenhouses have especially suffered by the many panes of glass which have been broken.

Dr. Utley is suffering from overwork and is confined to his home for a few days. Fortunately it is nothing serious and he expects to be out in a day or two.

The auction of lots on Pearl, Thornton and Warren sts., Newton, last Saturday was very successful. The lots on Waban st. sold from 16 1/2 to 21 cents a foot; on Pearl st. from 12 3/4 to 16 cents a foot, and two lots on Crescent square at 9 1/2 and 11 1/4 cents a foot.

An open barouche belonging to the Boston Cab Company and containing Mrs. Mudge of Boston, another lady and a child, created quite a sensation on Park st., Newton, on Thursday. The horse became unmanageable and tore along at a furious pace toward the railroad crossing at Washington st. The gates were down, a train was approaching, but the driver managed to rein the horse against a building near the crossing. The carriage was badly broken, but the occupants were not injured. The ladies procured another team at Daniels' stable and proceeded to Boston.

The Democrats of the 2nd Middlesex District met at the city hall on Wednesday. Edwin O. Childs called the convention to order. Mr. Childs presented the name of Sherman Hoar of Waltham for Senator and moved that he be nominated by acclamation. Mr. Gavin of Watertown opposed the motion. He said Hoar was a mugwump and such a man should not be nominated. In the interest of harmony Mr. Childs withdrew Mr. Hoar's name. A ballot was then taken. Mr. Childs received 14 votes, Mr. Halloran, 9; J. Russell Reed, 2. Mr. Childs' nomination was made unanimous, but he declined and presented Mr. Halloran's name. The latter also declined and urged the nomination of a strong Democrat. The name of J. R. Reed of Lexington was presented and he was nominated by acclamation. He is a Harvard graduate and a lawyer.

Powers' Paragraphs

Edwin O. Childs delivered his first inaugural address on Monday, January 12, 1914. It was a very usual address and because it enunciated at considerable length political and moral doctrines professed by the Mayor, we shall quote here some of the paragraphs it contained. Mayor Childs opened his address by saying:

"On the ninth day of last December something happened in the City of Newton. Some call it an accident, others a miracle. Still others there are who do not attempt to give it a name, but who rest contented with a recital of the simple fact that after a brief but interesting campaign, during which most of our so-called influential citizens—the newspapers and the leaders of both the Republican and Progressive parties were working zealously for the election of a better man, the largest number of those who voted on that day recorded their ballots in favor of me."

"I appreciate fully both the honor and the responsibility which goes with this important office, and I want to thank at this time all who supported me and especially the newspaper editors, as well as my other supporters, but guided friends who by their every opposition made votes for me every time they took their pen in hand or spoke. A great many things, both unkind and untrue were said against me and my candidacy while the campaign was waxing warmest, to all of which I made no reply. I figured this way: that my friends wouldn't believe the misstatements, and that those who were against me wouldn't believe the corrections. Moreover, I decided at the outset to so conduct myself during the campaign, that win or lose I should still have the respect of those who thought enough of me to offer me the nomination. Many candidates for political office today and in the past have been defeated because they talked too much. Few suffer defeat because they keep silent."

"Gentlemen, the glory of (Childs' victory, Ed.) may be shared, but what view one takes, the Democratic leaders must have credit of having discovered the candidate in a remote but interesting corner of the city, and of having brought him to light. The victory sobers rather than elates. I have never allowed any temporal success to interfere with my equilibrium for I realize all too well that those who shout 'Hoanah' the loudest, may shout 'Crucify Him,' before my term of office is ended."

"It is the custom, gentlemen, upon an occasion like this for the newly elected Mayor to review municipal affairs, outline policies and make specific recommendations. From this old-time custom the present incumbent will depart for several reasons. In the first place all that needs to be said has probably been covered by Mayor Hatfield's valedictory address or will be covered by the customary address of the new President (of the Aldermen). So much talk and gossip, however, as to what the new Mayor proposes to do, has been scattered broadcast in this city, that I feel I ought to let you know where I stand on certain matters, and to at least suggest the spirit in which I come among you."

Mayor Childs then proceeded to state that he had never sought political office, that the Democratic City Committee had exacted no promises and asked no favors when he was tendered the nomination, that he had refused to make any promises when asked to do so by certain groups during the campaign and that he took the office with only the promise that he would try to accomplish the greatest good for the greatest number. He referred to a comment he had heard—"that my election is a calamity because of the gang behind me." He prophesied that the man or men who run for Mayor 15 years from now will have to reckon with that "gang," for they will be the men who will have the votes, not only to elect Mayors, but the Aldermen of Newton. He said it was not a fact that he intended to turn city hall upside down by discharging department heads and employees, and said that so long as he remained Mayor the employees of the city might vote as they pleased without fear of being discharged. He said that if any department head is incompetent, he should be removed. Mayor Childs said that improvement in the conduct of city affairs would be his watchword, and that he would guard against extravagance and waste.

In many respects the Mayor has fulfilled the doctrines he enunciated on his first inaugural day, nearly twenty-four years ago. But not in all, in our opinion. One must make mistakes in an important public office over a long term of years.

A friend of ours on the Board of Aldermen asked us last Sunday why we had not stated our reasons for not supporting Mayor Childs this year? Apparently he and others expected us to start right out lambasting the Mayor. In due time we shall state our reasons. Anyone who expects strong denunciation will be disappointed.

When one has been so friendly both personally and politically with a man as we have been over a long period with Mayor Childs, and when we have changed our viewpoint, we shall take our own time and use our own judgment in telling why we now are not politically friendly with him. Last Friday we were told by a person quite interested in our narrative concerning the Mayor, that we would receive some comments from persons about it. On Monday we received a comment which was insulting to us and very laudatory to the Mayor. The person who signed that comment, and who therefore allegedly was the author of it, is the same person who a few years ago sent us a very lengthy tribute to Mayor Weeks, and shortly afterwards sent in another gushing tribute. Until we have concluded our paragraphs regarding Mayor Childs we shall not print comments either favorable or critical. Later, we may do so, and we shall answer those who seem to have a proclivity toward publicly eulogizing whatever Mayor happens to be holding office.

A reader sends us a note which reads—"In the November number of 'The Month at Goodspeed's' there is a print of Newton Corner as seen from Fisk Hill, now known as Mount Ida. 'Daddy' Fisk's farm occupied the summit of the hill, where there was a large apple orchard. We truly wish that the original name had been retained."

"Tom" Rodden, who was retired last week on a pension, after having served 37 years as a letter-carrier at the Newton postoffice, certainly does not enjoy his enforced idleness. There are not many men who love work to the extent that Tom Rodden does. We worked in the postoffice with Tom for 16 years and he was regarded as one of the most faithful employees in the service. Tom never complained that he had too many streets on his route. In the post-office service, human nature asserts itself the same as it does in other walks of life. Some of those who do the least amount of work are prone to do the most complaining about allegedly being overworked.

Tom Rodden was—in fact—too anxious to work. He was entitled to several weeks' leave of absence with pay, and

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Possible Candidate

In spite of the fact that no one has remotely suggested that I be a candidate for public office I think it just as well to be prepared for emergencies. Therefore, I have drawn up a platform, rather incomplete in a way but which can be added to at short notice. Let it then be known that I favor:

Free taxicabs! The custom of offering voters a ride to the polls on primary and election days would be extended so that they would have a taxicab call for them every morning and convey them anywhere within the city limits, returning at night. Other times they could use taxicabs at will, providing they paid for half the gas used.

Refreshments at City Hall hearings! People obliged to address the Board of Aldermen would be supplied with hot dinners so they wouldn't have to hurry from their own tables. In cases where the aldermanic meetings were lengthy would have taxpayers permitted to use dormitories which would be built at City Hall for taxpayers and aldermen.

Police service for householders! The duties of policemen who ride in cruising cars would be extended and a citizen would have the right to put up a card in his window, similar to the ice card system. This would be a notice that a policeman or two was wanted to do some repairs on the radio, put out the waste paper barrels and perform whatever small chores as offered.

Seems to me that there is a good start. I am going to have this copyrighted because I know that candidates for political office have a way of stealing each other's thunder and if my platform has no thunder it certainly has a lot of wind.

Strangely Missing

Some time ago there appeared the ten most beautiful words in the English language. I do not remember who was responsible. Later somebody else came forward with ten more and so on until the topic was worn threadbare. Now another friend of humanity has advanced ten words which he declares are most commonly used. In fact he asserts they are abused and criticizes his fellow Americans for their lack of originality. Additions to the list have been made and the end is not in sight. I've followed both discussions pretty closely but nowhere among either the beautiful or the overworked have I found the word "honesty."

Election Prophets

Now that the result of the Boston city election is definitely known should we give credit to the political prophets who were so certain it would turn out as it did? Personally, I have a higher regard for the man who says, "I was very much surprised" than for him who boastfully asks, "What did I tell you?"

Cuttin' Capers

Maybe the young people don't know a good thing when they see it! For years many city residents, somewhat proud of their sophistication, have regarded a huskin' bee as a gathering of simple-minded rustics in holiday mood. The younger generation is not to blame for having absorbed that very notion. Now what has actually caused such a genuine amazement? Simply this, an enterprising railroad, mindful of the success of snow trains, bicycle trains, etc., decided to run out of New York City to a farm in Connecticut a "huskin' bee train." The number eager to board it was astounding. Their enjoyment of all the festivities of such a harvest celebration, red ears, cider, apples, doughnuts and whatnot, was so great they were loath to leave. Sort of a reversal of the old saying or rather the new order yielding to the old and glad to do it.

Timely Survey of World Conditions Informative

The regular meeting of the Women's Club of Newton Highlands was held at the Congregational Parish House on November 2nd, with the president, Mrs. H. Herbert Hale, presiding.

Announcement was made of the Drama Reading at the Work Shop on Friday, November 5th. Also that a week later, on Friday, November 12th, there will be the first "At Home" at the Work Shop. Members were cordially invited to attend, bring their sewing, and become acquainted with each other. Provision also will be made for any desiring to play cards. This is a new enterprise of the Club and it is hoped will meet with enthusiasm.

A representative of the Community Chest Campaign presented the subject of the approaching Drive in a very convincing manner. Mrs. Lillian Smith rendered a delightful group of three songs, accompanied by Mrs. Mildred Reidy at the piano.

Mrs. Frank Mansfield Taylor was the guest speaker and gave a very enlightening "Survey of World Conditions." She began with the "U. S. A." citing the President's Chicago speech and its far-reaching effect. She urged people to watch the Brussels Conference which is about to occur. From the United States she went on to comment on affairs in China, Russia, Spain, and, in fact, gave a very general comment on all countries and on their various problems at this moment.

"Blows for peace as forceful as those for war," seems an outstanding statement she made, well worth remembering at this time.

Speaker on Children's Problems

The American Home committee of the Newtonville Woman's Club will give its first meeting in the Club House, and one also that is open both to members and guests, on Wednesday, November 10th, at 2:30 p. m. For speaker, the committee has been fortunate to secure Mr. Cheney Jones, a well-known authority on children's problems, who will address the Club on "The Awkward Situation for Children."

Tea will be served. Mrs. George W. Hinman, chairman, is in charge of this meeting.

Two other activities of the American Home committee will take place on the same day, November 10th; the Cook-Out at Edmonds Park, Newton, at 11 a. m., the last of the fall series; and at 1 p. m. the first in the series of Contract Bridge lessons, under the direction of Mrs. Merton S. Keith, at the Club House. Members who wish to attend both affairs will find it quite possible to do so, as the Cook-Out is such a short distance by car from the Club House. Those wishing transportation should call Mrs. Frank A. Wightman, West Newton 0734M.

Juniors to View Pictures of Coronation

The Newton Centre Junior Woman's Club will hold an International Relations meeting on Tuesday evening, November 9th, at 6 o'clock, at the Club House. Following an English dinner, Mrs. Austin C. Benton will show pictures of the English Coronation. A talk on "England Today," based on personal experiences during much time spent in the British Isles, will be given by Mr. William W. Gallagher. As safety is being stressed throughout the Newtons this fall, a brief talk on this subject will conclude the meeting.

Various Events And Programs

Newton Community Club

"America Wake Up" was the subject of Honorable Sybil H. Holmes spoke on before the Newton Community Club on October 28th. In a pleasing presentation of present-day facts she said that we were not only living in a vital time of the Christian Era but that we have a real sense of security here in America, lacking elsewhere in the world. She stressed that we must be non-partisan if we have the welfare of the nation at heart, and that America is no place for a Dictator. She told briefly of Bills considered by the General Court and said that out of 2,500 different measures so considered only one-fifth, about 500, of them became laws.

Senator Holmes stressed the sanctity of the ballot, and suggested three ways by which a voter could be identified: first, photograph; second, finger-print; and third, comparison of signatures.

During the business session preceding the program, Miss Florence Bacon announced that the tickets for the Interior Decorating Class were going fast. She told also of several Art Exhibits being held in various Museums.

Bundles of warm clothing would be of great help to the Community Service committee. Mrs. Louis J. Hunter, chairman, asked for volunteers to take a chintz bag and fill it with certain articles for the Veterans for Christmas.

It was suggested by the Education committee that members visit Mrs. Howard LeSourd's Gift Shop "The Candle Beam." She told an interesting story in regard to the name. The shop will give a certain percentage of profit to the Scholarship Fund, on sales to Club members. November 22nd is to be Community Club Day at the Shop.

Mrs. Chester C. Smith stated that a program would be placed on the bulletin, telling about important dates and places of interesting International Relations meetings to be held in Boston.

Mrs. Harold C. Daniels spoke about the State Division of Radio and the different stations and hours of broadcast.

Mrs. Daniel Goodrich announced that the Rummage Sale would be held in the store formerly occupied by the Hebert Candy Co. on Friday and Saturday, November 5th and 6th.

Miss Adelaide Ball advised members to be sure to register before November 24th if they are not already registered as a voter. Trips to the State House were suggested for the near future.

Mrs. Benjamin Dwight Miller, Twelfth District director, was the guest of the afternoon. She outlined the program of the Conference to be held in Waban November 10th, and pointed out the value it would be to every club member.

Delicious cider, doughnuts, and cheese were served by the Social committee. Mrs. Leroy P. Gulon, Mrs. Edwin O. Childs, Mrs. Roswell Furman, and Mrs. Howard Selby were the pourers.

A Food Sale for the Philanthropic Fund was held after the meeting.

The next meeting of the Newton Community Club will be held on Thursday, November 18th, as the usual date of meeting, November 11th, is a holiday.

Newton Highlands C. L. S. C.

On Monday, November 8th, the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. will meet with Mrs. C. T. Clark, Pleasant st., Newton Centre.

Social Science Club

A Tea will be held at the home of Mrs. Ralph W. Hall on Wednesday, November 10th, from 3:30 to 5:30 p. m., for members of the Social Science Club. The hostesses will be, besides Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Newton A. Merritt, president of the Club, Mrs. Joe W. Gerry, and Mrs. Charles Bemis Gleason.

Lend-A-Hand Masque

The Lend-A-Hand Masque of Newton and Greater Boston will hold the second meeting of the season on Monday, November 8th, at the home of Miss Olive Webster, 91 Hillside ave., West Newton. Members of the Junior Masque will be guests of the evening. The entertainment, under the direction of Miss Margaret Arnold, of Brookline, will be a Reading by various members of the Club of the Children's Play which has been chosen to be produced in the spring at the Newton High School. The play this year will be "Ozma of Oz," delightful tale of adventures in the Land of Oz, dramatized from the famous book by Frank Baum. Miss Katherine Esson and Miss Elizabeth Kilburn, of West Newton, will assist Miss Webster as hostesses.

Newtonville Woman's Club

"First Impressions are Important and lasting," said Mrs. Thomas G. Walters, chairman of the Program committee, as she introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. Raymond A. Green, a Club member, at the first meeting of the season of the Newtonville Woman's Club, on Tuesday, November 2nd, in a memorable program forecasting an interesting year for the Club.

The enthusiasm of the large audience proved that Mrs. Green in her delightful lecture on "Costumes Here and There," with living models, did transport her listeners into fascinating foreign lands and customs. At the beginning of her talk she told the audience that she had been to the

Arrest Women
For Shoplifting

Two Nonantum women were arrested in Waltham on Monday afternoon after they had been detected shoplifting in a store. They were taken into custody by Patrolman Lovquist. In the Waltham court on Tuesday Mrs. Madeleine Vergato, 23, of 169 Adams st., and Mrs. Josephine Vergato, 22, of the same address pleaded guilty and were placed on probation until January 20.

Air Rifle Shot
Hits Boy's Eye

Robert Bell, 13, of 34 Walden st., Newtonville, was hit in the left eye on Monday afternoon by a BB shot from an air rifle. The shot came from an air rifle discharged by another 13 year old boy at the Cabot Park playground. The Bell boy was given first aid by Dr. Cecil Clark. He has been under treatment by Dr. William B. Rowland of Newton. While the shot did not penetrate the boy's eye, the eye has been bleeding considerably since it was hit and the extent of the injury is not yet determined. The boy who fired the shot purchased the rifle in Waltham without the knowledge of his mother, who was in Maine. The law forbids the sale of air-rifles to any person under the age of 15. Newton police confiscated the rifle.

Woman Swallows
Pin and Medal

Miss Anna Martin, 28, of 63 Grafton st., Newton Centre is in a serious condition as a result of accidentally swallowing a small safety pin and religious medal on Monday evening. The young woman was holding the medal in her mouth when it slipped down and lodged in her throat. She rushed to Mosher's drug store at the corner of Centre st. and Commonwealth ave., and a clerk telephoned police headquarters. Patrolmen Riley and Taffe rushed the woman to the Newton Hospital in a police car. Physicians at the hospital were unable to remove the medal and pin, and later that evening Miss Martin returned against their advice to the home of A. W. Armstrong where she was employed. Her condition became serious on Tuesday and she was taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital.

Stores Closed
Armistice Day

Stores in the Newtons will be closed on November 11, Armistice Day. The law compels all retail places of business to be closed on that day between the hours of 7 a. m. and 1 p. m. Most stores in this city will remain closed all day on November 11.

Want City To Buy
Auburndale Land

A meeting of the Auburndale Garden Club was held last Friday night at the home of Mrs. John F. Brown Jr., 360 Central st. About 40 persons were present including Aldermen Bacon and Colby and Supt. of Playgrounds Hermann. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss the purchase by the city of 15½ acres of land near Grove st., on which is located a ridge on properties owned by Ernest Hersum and Mabel Eager. Mr. Hersum has petitioned for a permit to be allowed to level that part of the ridge on his property, and sell the gravel and sand it contains. A hearing was recently held at City Hall on this petition and many Auburndale residents appeared to protest against it. At the meeting of the Garden Club last Friday night a signed petition asking the city to take the 15½ acres for playground purposes. Part of the area is owned by the Boston Consolidated Gas Company. The petition is being circulated at Auburndale. It is in charge of Miss Anne Bunker of 176 Grove st. Mr. Hermann explained how the area might be converted into a playground, with the esker, or glacial ridge being used to advantage for winter sports. Last year Alderman Cronin advocated that this land be taken for playground purposes.

Newton Policemen's
Slayer and Jury
Come to Newton

Tuesday morning and noon Edward Simpson, the slayer of Patrolman Bell and Murphy, Newton policemen, was brought to Newton and Watertown. Manacled between two Middlesex County deputy sheriffs, Simpson rode in a car which was in a motorcade containing Judge Swift who is presiding at his trial, Sheriff McElroy, District Attorney Warren Bishop, the jury drawn to serve at the trial, a court stenographer, John Boyle, Simpson's attorney, several deputy sheriffs who formed the vanguard and rear guard of the jurors procession, and a large number of newspaper reporters and photographers. The officials and the jurors followed the route in Newton from the Community Theatre where Patrolmen Whelan and Bell first sighted Simpson and his girl companion, Frances Frada, along Washington and Adams sts. to Nonantum, thence along Watertown st. to Washburn st., where Simpson's car was halted by the policemen, and then to the spot near the Calvary Tabernacle in Watertown, a third of a mile distant, where Simpson shot Patrolmen Bell and Murphy. At this place the jury was guided across vacant lots and behind old buildings to Piccolo's drug store at the corner of Galen and California sts., where Simpson seized a car owned by Piccolo, after forcing Mrs. Piccolo from the car at gun point.

The jurors were then taken to the police stations at Watertown and West Newton to be shown the car in which Simpson was riding when accosted by the police, and the car seat of Piccolo's automobile, blood stained from the murderer's wound. Simpson was taken from the car in which he was riding and led across the route he took in making his escape from where he shot the policemen on Watertown st. until he reached Piccolo's store. The crowd which had gathered gaped into the window of the automobile in which he was sitting, and many followed him as he walked across the field, but apart from one faint boo, none manifested any hostile attitude against Simpson. He tried to appear nonchalant, but obviously was laboring under a severe nervous strain.

Among the Newton residents who were summoned as witnesses at the trial now proceeding were Chief Hughes, Captain Vedeccio, Inspector Burke and Patrolman Whelan of the police department; Medical Examiner Gallagher and Asst. City Engineer Leonard.

Aldermen Again
Refuse Annuity
To Mrs. Charlton

A petition from Mrs. Delphine Charlton of Linwood ave., Newtonville, asking for a reopening of her claim for an annuity, occupied a couple of hours' time of the Newton Board of Aldermen on Monday night. Mrs. Charlton is the widow of Charles Charlton, for 17 years a member of the Newton fire department. Mr. Charlton died several months ago of Berger's disease, and it is contended that the disease resulted from an ankle injury the dead fireman received in 1934 while on duty. Charlton's family physician asserted that the injury was responsible for the fireman's death, and two physicians connected with the Newton Hospital said the injury might have caused the disease. Other physicians testified to the contrary at hearings held by the Claims and Rules Committee of the Newton Aldermen in recent months. At the meeting of the Aldermen on Oct. 4, the Board, by a vote of 14 to 5, refused to grant Mrs. Charlton an annuity of $1000 for herself, and $200 for each of her three children.

Charles Charlton served during the World War with the 101st Infantry in France and some of the Aldermen supposed that Mrs. Charlton was eligible to receive a considerable pension from the government for herself and her children. When they learned that such a pension would amount to only $38 monthly, they favored the reopening of the matter so that Mrs. Charlton might again petition for the annuity from the city. The Aldermen remained in executive session from 8:40 Monday night until about 1 o'clock Tuesday morning. When the question came up for a vote in the open meeting it was defeated 11 to 7. Those voting to give the matter further consideration were Aldermen Bacon, Barwise, Colby, Cronin, Fahey, McCabe and McKay. Alderman Floyd, who put the voice vote, also favored the reopening of the matter.

Newton Policemen
Are Shifted

Several Newton policemen had their route assignments shifted on Monday. Patrolman William Condrin who has been temporarily assigned to the day route at Nonantum since the retirement of Patrolman Judson Sartwell, has been regularly assigned to this route. Patrolman James Gaquin has been transferred from night duty to a day route at West Newton. Patrolman Martin Greeley takes Gaquin's former assignment on Division 2 car on night patrol at West Newton and Newtonville. Patrolman McEneaney has been assigned to night patrol in Division 1 car at Newton. Patrolman Maloney has been assigned to day relief work.

Owner of Biting
Dogs In Court

Henry J. Larkin of 926 Dedham st., Oak Hill, was arraigned in the Newton court on Wednesday on the charge of not restraining two St. Bernard dogs after he had been ordered to do so by Newton police. It is alleged that on September 25th Larkin was ordered to restrain the dogs after one of them had bitten a son of Dr. Sumner Roberts. On October 30 one of the dogs severely bit Mrs. Henry S. Cummings of Oak Hill when she entered the Larkin yard to deliver Community Chest literature. The case was continued until November 10.

Bell-Murphy
Relief Fund

The Bell-Murphy Fund, which now closely approximates $6000, will undoubtedly reach the goal of $10,000, is the view of the Citizens' Committee. During the ensuing few weeks devoted to the Community Chest Drive, the active work of the sponsors of the fund will be discontinued.

The interest shown by the residents, corporations and associations throughout the city has been most encouraging, and it is not felt cessation of activities at this time will interfere with the ultimate success of the undertaking.

Kaltenborn Doubts If Roosevelt Will Seek Third Term

Believes Japan Cannot Conquer the Chinese

Fourteen hundred people gathered in the Newton High School auditorium last Sunday afternoon to hear Hans von Kaltenborn speak for the first of the Newton Community Forum series of lectures for the season 1937-38.

Mr. Kaltenborn started out by saying that a third term for President Roosevelt seems very doubtful and it will all depend upon what happens in the ensuing three years. He believes London utterly inadequate to the situation, and Hoover, although far from being the perfect candidate, seems most probable at the present moment. He gave Mr. Hoover great credit for having improved in many ways since his last term in the White House, especially in the way of radio technique and campaign tactics.

Turning to Europe, Mr. Kaltenborn summed up the situation in few and well selected words. He has studied the Spanish revolution most thoroughly from both the rebel and loyalist viewpoints, informing the largest audience that the Forum has ever had in its three years that had it not been for the external influence of Fascism, the revolution would not have lasted over three months. As it happened, however, the forces of Germany and Italy have augmented those of the rebels and thus enabled them to maintain a foothold that could not otherwise have been accomplished. As yet, Britain and France have not received sufficient provocation to step in and act in any way that would hasten a decision one way or the other. There is little doubt in Mr. Kaltenborn's mind that it was Italy who was responsible for the sinking of the British ship in the Mediterranean, and if any Italian bomber should take it into his head to drop an aerial bomb on the H. M. S. "Hood," the largest ship of war in existence, which is anchored off the island of Majorca, there is no knowing what may happen to Europe.

The speaker does not believe that the end will come either this fall or during the winter, for Madrid is well fortified, the loyalist troops well trained and well equipped with artillery, which after all amounts to 90 per cent of any fighting force. The only chance of Franco's winning this war lies in the recognition by England and France of his belligerence. This is not likely to come about because their sympathy lies largely with the rebels, and according to Kaltenborn, the best way to deal with dictators is boldly. If once Germany or Italy retreats the least bit, their defeat is almost certain.

Going to the Sino-Japanese chaos, the speaker lays the encroachment of Japan upon China to the success of the Manchurian invasion of 1931. Every nation of the world recognized, however, the cold-blooded way in which Japan defies every courtesy of statesmanship, every rule of war to further her ends by hook or by crook. Mr. Kaltenborn was most encouraging in one way. He does not believe that Japan can ever conquer China. The farther north they go, the longer and more difficult becomes their line of defense, and chance of retreat if such should become necessary. China is far ahead of Japan in numbers and ability. Her army is well trained in guerrilla warfare while Japan's is not. Moreover, Japan is on foreign territory which in one way is to China's great advantage.

Speaking of the Neutrality Act, of which one hears rumors from time to time, Mr. Kaltenborn does not advise it in the least. At the present time China, by means of lawful transaction, is receiving from this country materials which she needs—iron, steel, and copper. Japan's bear is practically up a tree. She has no gold. She is up to her ears in debt and what is more, no one is shipping her goods unless she pays in advance for them and this she cannot do. It is obvious, then, that to enforce the Neutrality act would mean to aid Japan, and to hinder China. Mr. Kaltenborn does not believe that the Japanese will invade China much farther, and consequently it looks as if the excitement were almost over.

The next lecture of the series will take the form of a Symposium between the C. I. O. and the A. F. of L. with prominent men representing each side. It was with great satisfaction that Dr. Kirtley Mather announced the sale of the full quota of season tickets for this year.

Argentine Tourist Visits Newton

Miguel Divo, 26, of Buenos Aires, Argentine, visited Newton on Monday driving a battered 1926 Model T touring car in which he had made a remarkable tour of 22,000 miles from Buenos Aires to New York. Divo left Buenos Aires in January 1935 and arrived in New York in September of this year. The trip included 7000 miles of travel through jungles and deserts and over the ranges of the Andes. Divo, a wiry young man, with bronzed skin and raven black hair, went through hardships that killed two companions.

Starting alone, he traveled South from Buenos Aires, skirted the high ranges of the Andes and then proceeded North through Chile. Near the Argentine-Chile border he picked up a companion who was later taken ill and remained in Chile. A second companion was recruited by Divo in Santiago, Chile. This man died of heat and thirst in a Chilean desert. A third companion of Divo's, who joined him in Peru, died of jungle fever in Colombia.

The old Ford was disassembled five times to be carried over mountains on burros, one such task consuming a month of time. It was again disassembled to be carried through a jungle. One between Columbia and Panama by burros and Indians. It was driven across or ferried over thirty-five rivers. Divo's tour in this country is being sponsored by the Esso Company.

October 25-29 was Red Cross week at the F. A. Day. It was officially opened Monday by Patricia Richards over the radio network. This year brought the F. A. Day to a new high in Red Cross contributions. Miss Peoples and Mrs. Sandwall had charge of this worthwhile activity.

Miss Wright's dramatic group made its first appearance of the school year on Friday morning, October 29th. "Ten Minutes by the Clock" was received by an enthusiastic audience. The cast included: Sally Hawkins, Georgia Leonard, Betty Brown, Thada Thornton, Ronald Willeson, Charles Paige, Douglas Teschner, Frank Brock and Fiske Brown.

The Bigelow soccer game was postponed on account of rain until yesterday. There will also be a game of Cabot with Warren Nov. 8. The Varsity lineup is as follows: Francis Leone, John Brown, Guerinio Gentile, Bill Reed, Jack Cohen, Sante Bianchi, Fred Fraini, Leslie Spaulding, Joe Beatty, and Raymond Keegan.

Mr. Cowles is again organizing the Reporters' Club with the following officers: president, Robert Beatty; secretary, Raymond Huntington. The members include: Frank Brimblecup, John Saunier, Norman Stanfield, Donald Carmichael, Virginia Barber, Maxine Simonds, Virginia Becker, Agnes Noonan, Shirley Robblee, and Betty Waterhouse.

Speaks On Economic Situation At Central Club Meeting

In Mr. Bartholomew F. Griffin's talk before the Central Club of the Central Congregational Church at Newtonville Monday night members and guests received considerable food for thought concerning the outlook for business. There was a large turnout for this meeting which followed the usual monthly supper, and Mr. Griffin's discussion of current conditions proved of great interest to everyone present, as shown by the number of questions presented from the floor at the close of his address.

Mr. Griffin made no attempt to predict the extent and duration of the present business decline, but made a complete analysis of present disturbing conditions and the factors that led up to the recent severe break in the stock market.

Beginning with a discussion of the possibilities of a war of world-wide proportions that could prove disastrous to civilization, he concluded that from his observations in Europe this past summer none of the countries which might precipitate such a struggle want war at this time, largely because they are not yet able, for economic reasons, to engage in such a conflict. He pointed out the growing struggle that exists between the "have" and "have not" nations, and commented favorably on Secretary Hull's efforts to break down trade barriers that tend to throttle international trade, even though they lead to local complaints as in the Massachusetts objections to the pact with Czechoslovakia.

After outlining the international political controversies that face the world, Mr. Griffin commented upon the world-wide trend toward managed economy. Internationally this has resulted in stifling trade between nations and nationally has tended to destroy initiative in business and industry.

Mr. Griffin is Associate Editor of the Boston News Bureau and at present writes a column of editorial comment on current happenings in the worlds of business politics and finance headed "Scanning the News."

At the supper preceding the address, Mayor Childs, who had been a classmate of Mr. Griffin, was introduced, and responded with a short talk commending the activities of church groups such as the Central Club in promoting good citizenship.

Ask for Filling Station Permits

Hearings were held at the meeting of the Newton Board of Aldermen on Monday night on three petitions for gasoline filling station permits. Two of the petitions were from the Sun Oil Company for locations at 325 Boylston st., Newton Centre, and 2076-2082 Commonwealth ave., Auburndale. A representative of the Sun Oil Company explained that the company has options on the two locations and desires to establish stations there.

Charles Scipione of Newtonville, appearing for Antonio Antonucci of 373 Langley rd., opposed the application for the station at 325 Boylston st. He said there is now a gas station across the street from the proposed station, and another permit was granted in the immediate vicinity, but the station is not being operated because of lack of business. Scipione said traffic moves so rapidly along the turnpike that there is no transient trade.

The Sun Oil Company attorney said that his client would remove the block of stores now at 2076-2082 Commonwealth ave. if a permit will be granted. This will leave the corner unobstructed. Alderman Colby called attention to the fact that there are six stations now in the vicinity, and a permit was refused last year at the site specified. Former Alderman Brocklesby appearing for Winona Barrett who owns property nearby the locus in question, said there are eight gasoline stations within ¼ of a mile. He said the intersection of Lexington st. and Commonwealth ave. is very dangerous for pedestrians and the proposed station would make it worse. Malcolm Sherman of the John Hancock Insurance Company also opposed the petition. The company owns a house across the street from the proposed station site.

Former Alderman James P. Akins appeared for Anna Lombardo who asks for a station permit at 238 California st., Nonantum. Akins said the locus is a vacant lot of land, is in a business zone and would not affect any churches, schools or playgrounds. He said a filling station is no more detrimental than any other line of business. He stated there is a gasoline station about 75 yards away where those in the know can get credit, and this is the only station in the vicinity. Alderman Colby asked if California st. where many automobile accidents have occurred, should have another filling station? Akins answered that a filling station tends to slow down traffic.

Alderman Cronin asked Akins how persons living in the neighborhood feel about the proposed station? Akins said he would prefer that the petition be given leave to withdraw, rather than to go around and ask abutters whether they oppose or favor the station. Alderman Lyon asked Akins if Mrs. Lombardo would be the owner of the proposed station? Akins quite frankly answered that the woman is a straw. Conrad Larosee of 4 Jassett st., an abuttor, opposed the petition. He said there is no need for another station in the neighborhood as two are already located there. He said there have been three persons killed nearby in the past year or so by automobiles, and many other accidents, and that many pedestrians pass the place.

W. S. Jassett of 235 California st. also opposed the petition. He said there are many homes and three playgrounds nearby and the station would be an added traffic hazard. Fred Marchant of California st. said that cars are now repaired at an adjoining gas station, and also tested, causing considerable noise. He and Samuel Longbottom were also in opposition, as was Peter Butler.

Abandon House Damaged by Blast

Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Annese and family of nine children temporarily abandoned their home at 56 Hawthorn st., Nonantum, last Friday night after Chief Randlett of the Newton fire department had expressed the opinion that the chimney in the house was in an unsafe condition as a result of the explosion in the home of Joseph DeGrosso last Friday morning. The Annese family has since been residing with relatives. The family of Arthur Proia at 62 Hawthorn st. also had to temporarily abandon their home, as almost every window in the house was broken.

In last week's GRAPHIC, as well as in other papers it was stated that the explosion occurred when an occupant of the house lighted a match to prepare breakfast. Antonio DeRose, one of the occupants of the house destroyed by the explosion and fire told the writer that this report was not correct. Mr. DeRose stated that some minutes before the explosion occurred, his wife went down to the cellar of the building and placed a quarter in the gas meter. She then returned to the kitchen, turned on the gas at the gas stove, and had been preparing breakfast for several minutes before the blast shattered the house.

POTPOURRI

GATHERED FOR YOU, YOUR HOME AND FAMILY

By CAROLINE F. AUSTIN

Whimsy — an orchestra of chubby winged angel-players with their instruments; practical — two-compartment heat-proof bowl of crystal and argental, silver yet non-tarnishing; fragrance of Devon violets and Kentish lilies; and the jollity of unusual English games . . . such pictures draw us again to the ORIGINAL THREAD AND NEEDLE SHOP, 671 Boylston st. Miss Fisher brings her imaginative touch . . . through delightful things of beauty . . . to develop appreciation and happy enjoyment. Yuletide — our thoughts turn to this shop of beautiful, yet practical importations; inexpensive but different tree ornaments; innumerable "stocking toys," and unspeakably lovely creches. We're going to the Thread and Needle Shop now while there's such a variety.

*In the darkness he sings of the dawn;
In the desert he sings of a rose,
Or of limpid, laughing water
That through green meadows flows.*

—Mary Sinton Leitch.

Lame is presented for afternoon as well as evening. We admire an all lame gown patterned in self-tone deep brown. The styling and fabric combine to make of this model the perfect answer for an important luncheon, tea and dinner. There is for the modelling of the lines a dainty zipper fastening proving as effective as we have known them in tailored and sports wear. The original VINCENT'S of Boston, now in an attractive salon at 91 Newbury st., recognizes the importance of this type frock . . . also custom-made formal furled fabric coats and more tailored daytime dresses. We like the Lanvin jewel bracelets that really make a woolen frock.

Blue-green is effective, especially with several of the popular furs of 1938.

That was a fascinating antique screen about five feet high . . . the particular beauty of it, the authentically styled stichery in the panels of needlework by ELIZABETH LORING, designer. We had moments when our fancy strayed to a petit point bag! Gros point for upholstery . . . a new design in harmony with the period, or reproduction of an old pattern. Jacobean or wool embroidery on canvas, the restoration of rare handwork, these produce real needle art at this Shaw and Loring studio (Kenmore 9492), 420 Boylston st., Boston. Miss Loring's exhibition will be held after Thanksgiving.

The Garden of Peace in Argentina has flowers symbolic of 46 nations, the U. S. represented by the wild rose

With squash and badminton so popular there's definite interest in the imported and domestic line outfits recommended by the former national tennis champion, MALCOLM C. HILL, Sport Centre. Indoor games and sports supplies for all the family, club and group activities are found at this convenient Federal st. headquarters across from South Station. Advice and recommendations for the enjoyment of varied leisure programs are available. There's also a Golf Register to maintain a check up this winter.

The new Howard Chandler Christy designed neckties include "spaced", striped and all-over patterns.

If we know a stamp collector we can well pass on to him an invitation to visit the spacious headquarters of W. C. HENRI, of W. C. HENRI, To the collector the keenest satisfaction is a complete variety in singles, sets, albums, etc. The welcome is definite, including (with mention of this column) a gift card representing $1 toward any purchases amounting to $5 by Dec. 1. Kidskin is gaining favor for the general wear business or campus fur coats.

MISS EDITH M. FISHER brings art and practical experience into all her designing of distinctive clothes. Many are custom made . . . artistic choice of special fabrics and lines for the individual offers becoming and appropriate frocks. For the less important dress we discover a variety in good materials, designed by Miss Fisher, cut to size, each cut separately and well made, the sewing by superior local women. And these frocks are inexpensive though not shown in any other shop around Boston. Phone is C. N. 2570, Newton Centre.

A decorative chord is wine, a warm beige and accents in orange.

"Our candy making is based on our ideas of utmost purity of ingredients . . . and our conviction that making candy where every one could watch would prove a challenge to quality work." This explanation gives us the background of the large and smartly styled HILLIARD'S CANDY SHOES. It's not surprising to learn that Mr. Hilliard invented a chocolate kettle (used in many places now) that keeps chocolate freshly melted and stirred, resulting in better dipping. The attractive new shop at Newton Centre is one of three in Newton, unusual in lighting exhibit of paintings, and blue-cream color decoration.

The flute is advised as the wind instrument for juniors to play, other instruments more strenuous.

For the children's parties . . . favors, gifts, varied well made Mardi Gras costumes; for the home many colorful practical specialties; hosiery, underwear, accessories in many well known lines for the family—all this explains the friendly, familiar name in Newton, BOND'S CONVENIENCE SHOP. Persian smocks are smart . . . and what clever brightening of the recreation room buffet service when new striped colorful crash jumps out of the dish towel class into runners and gay cocktail napkins! Toys and small gifts of many kinds are also found at Mr. Bond's, 99 Union st.

dience of a trip abroad several years ago, and of her great desire to bring back in some tangible form her impressions of the many quaint and unusual places she visited. Her first thought was of dolls of foreign lands, but as she became more keenly interested in the ways of the peoples across the water, she decided that she must have the actual costumes that they wore in their daily lives and at festivals to bring back with her.

Dress is an ageless topic of interest to women, she stated, and a suitable medium to convey the particular atmosphere of the village or town she described.

In spite of all the changing conditions of modern life even in foreign cities, Mrs. Green was able to find in little villages, unfrequented by the tourist, people who still wore their native costume. In the larger towns and cities, the native costumes are being gradually superseded by modern dress, so that the costumes she showed were not only authentic but historical in interest as well.

A little Bavarian boy and girl, the first models, were perhaps the most appealing of any, in their miniature costumes of dark greens and browns and jaunty feathered hats. The audience could see the grandeur of this mountainous country as Mrs. Green described it, and in contrast, in the next model, that of a Dutch girl, she visualized the low flat countryside of Holland, with windmills predominating, and many canals which are used for the heavy trucking. In the costume shown, pink, as well as the well-known Dutch blue, prevailed, and many colors were used in the bright aprons; and, of course, the wooden shoes and white coif, typical features of the Dutch costume.

From Spain, that land of mingled wealth and poverty, beauty and filth, the Alhambra, with its delicacy and priceless treasures, and the many city streets swarming with beggars, Mrs. Green brought a figure of the past, a Spanish lady with exquisite black mantilla, embroidered gown, and dainty fan. This, she said quaintly, is the kind of costume Spanish girls wore to the bull fights. She went on to describe that although there are the modernized cities of Madrid and Barcelona, in the rural districts there is still hard peasant labor, and the more primitive water-wheels turned by donkeys and even, in one instance, by two peasant women.

A Breton maid wore a black dress with demure white kerchief, coif, colored apron, and black wooden shoes. In this country the coif or head dress is selected with as much care as any modern lady's hat. These people are a happy one and enjoy their simple way of life. Market-day, with its clatter of wooden shoes, squealing pigs, and rattling wagon-wheels, was one of the big events of their existence. The most amusing of the costumes was from Schwaben near Kassel in Germany, there being on this model thirteen layers of petticoats, besides a woolen skirt, and aprons, in a color scheme of red and black, with green bodice and tiny red teacup hat. In this isolated section the people are still medieval in their dress and habits, and while the girls wear gay colors, on marriage they must put on somber black.

Marburg, the University town, Mrs. Green said was a perfect setting for the "The Student Prince" and she showed two caps that were identical with those worn in that operetta. The young girls of that quaint old town wore dark dresses with much braiding, flowered aprons, and the little teacup hats.

Most striking of all was a costume from the Spreewald, with an amazing head-dress of pink brocade and white lace, different colors of pastel brocades in bodice and apron, and a scarlet skirt. This, as the rainbow colors might suggest, was a dress for festival occasions, and Mrs. Green was fortunate enough to see an Easter parade in this town which was pagant-like in effect.

Mrs. Green closed her delightful talk with a modern model, an American girl who, she said, combined the graces of the old world with the freedom of today.

At the dessert-coffee which preceded the meeting Mrs. Irving O. Palmer, Mrs. Henri Beltzung, and Mrs. Austin H. Decatur poured.

The president, Mrs. George H. Tracy, presided at the meeting.

The models assisting Mrs. Green were Mrs. Philip Bruce, Mrs. John Cox, Mrs. George Menayr, Mrs. Norman Thompson, Mrs. Robert Gleason, Miss Betty Norris, Miss Barbara Tolman, Miss Carolyn Peterson, and little Valerie Kuebler and Donald Watters.

this week at the Parker House in Boston. The Friday evening meeting in Dickens' Room, "to meet, to greet, to enjoy," will be addressed by Mr.
John J. Cronan and Miss Edith Fish-
er. Miss Gladys Bigelow, Newton High's librarian, will be chairman of the meeting. The Saturday morning meeting will be addressed by Mr. Paul
E. Ellicker, principal, and Dr. Walter
Crooby Eells, of Washington, D. C.

There will also be a supper and luncheon meeting. Miss Bigelow, a member of the executive board, and Mr. Samuel Thurber were charter members of the association.

Announcement of this meeting and the participation of our school principal and our librarians make timely an appraisal of Newton High School's library and its work. Certainly our high school library is of increasingly large service to the pupils and the teachers.
There are, besides magazines, newspapers, and up-to-date files of clippings for use in the various departments, several thousand volumes on the open shelves. Some books and magazines are purchased by the city, and some are gifts of public-spirited citizens who recognize the demand for creating in all boys and girls a love of good reading. The clubs in the high school frequently contribute money for books, and many gifts are received each year from pupils and teachers.

Among the interesting possessions of the library are the autograph letters or notes from Mark Twain, William Dean Howells, John Boyle
O'Reilly, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps,
Owen Wister, Sarah Orne Jewett, Eva LeGallienne, and Willa Cather. A copy of "Thaddeus of Warsaw," published in 1810, an English Dictionary of 1792, and "The Primrose," 1822, are among the choice belongings. The library occupies one very large room and four small rooms on the third floor of building one, the old Classical Building. Tables and racks display invitingly the current periodicals and leading newspapers. One table is devoted to books, magazines, clippings, and pictures mentioned in the Leisure Activity Bulletins.

Principal's Speaking Engagements

Mr. Paul E. Ellicker, Principal of Newton High School, is much sought after as a public speaker, in the interest of secondary education. Thursday, October 28, Mr. Ellicker gave an ad-

Club Notes

The growing interest in photography as a hobby and as a business enterprise is readily seen in the students enthusiasm for the school's Camera

the membership of last year. Paul Crocker is the club president, and Oliver Wyman is treasurer. Several outstanding speakers are scheduled to address the club meetings this year.
On Monday evening, John Durkee,
Robert Cotton, Paul Crocker, and George Pottenill attended a meeting of the Boston Camera Club. Mr. Sterling Williams is the club adviser.

Mrs. Ruth W. Fuller, prominent book reviewer, was the guest speaker before the English Club at the October meeting. Mrs. Fuller spoke on recent books and the activities of the fifteen book clubs she promotes. Jerry Harvey, club president, spoke on the plans for 1937-38. A new feature will be the sponsoring of the junior-senior Verse-Speaking Contest.

NEWTON ELEVEN FIRST TO TOP RINDGE TECH

Local Boys Practically Clinch Suburban Title

Playing its best game this fall the Newton High eleven provided one of the biggest upsets of the 1937 schoolboy football season by defeating Rindge Tech, 13 to 6, last Friday afternoon at Russell Field, Cambridge. Not only did the locals hand the Cambridgeans their first defeat of the year but they practically clinched the Suburban league title for the third successive year. Only a defeat at the hands of weaker than average Brookline team on Thanksgiving Day can deprive them of this honor. Incidentally the Newton outfit was the first team this season to penetrate inside of the Rindge 20-yard line and also the first to score on a stronger than usual Rindge eleven. Furthermore Coach Sanborn's team was forced to come from behind to win the victory, directed out leading 6 to 0 at half-time after showing worlds of power in the early part of the game.

Several factors were prominent in Newton's victory. First was the all important presence of fresh and rested players in the field.

Rindge, with few capable reserves, was obliged to keep its first string players in action as long as possible. Coach Sanborn, on the other hand used practically two complete elevens. Bub Liming at centre and Guido Castoldi at fullback were the only two Newton lads playing the entire game. In the final quarter Rindge showed the effects of constant pressure and yielded to the onrushing Newton forces. No less credit, however, is due the Newton team because of the wearing down of the home eleven. The Newton line played a better game, the Newton ends rushed the Rindge punters and passers more than usual, the Newton backs ran better and the blockers cleared their paths more efficiently. These factors plus the excellent punting of Jack Fitzgerald which gave Newton its scoring opportunities combined to give Newton a clear edge.

Rindge tallied its lone touchdown early in the second quarter after a 91 yard march beginning late in the initial period. This long advance in a series of eight first downs was due to the rushing of Ernie Bonneau and Ralph Powers aided by the stellar blocking of fullback Lalumiere. Until late in the second period Newton seemed as helpless against the Rindge offense as at Brookline a few weeks ago and Newton fans were fearful of a repetition of the outcome in the Shoe City. Late in the second quarter however the Newton team came to life, as it did in the final period against Brookline. A Rindge fumble gave Newton the ball on the Rindge 31-yard line. With Hines, Castoldi and Robey carrying Newton reached the one-yard line with time left for but one more play. Right halfback smashed through to the end zone, but a Newton player was denied the tying score.

The third period was a ding-dong kicking battle with the Rindge offense slogged up. Fitzgerald's punting, several kicks going for well over 50 yards, was somewhat better than that of the Rindge punters and slowly the Metivier eleven was forced back. During the period Ernie Collantonio, Newton right end, playing in close to tackle, came within inches of blocking several Newton kicks. The Rindge protecting back covered the tackle on every punt and Collantonio, a step or two nearer the kicker than usual, was taking advantage of the situation. Finally the break came. A Fitzgerald punt set Rindge back on their seven yard line. Lalumiere attempted to kick and Collantonio blocked the ball. Tackle Ben Mason reached out to scoop the ball up, lost his balance and fell but covered the ball a yard from the goal line. He would have scored had he been able to keep his feet on the play. Castoldi rammed his way into pay territory going head first into the line with such force that he burst through into the end zone still on his feet. Coolly he then kicked a perfect placement with Sohaski holding the ball for what later proved to be the winning point. It was his fourth successful conversion in a row. From then on a downhearted Rindge eleven battled vainly against the ever-pressing surge of an aroused Newton outfit.

Rindge received the ensuing kickoff and put the ball in play on its 25-yard stripe, lost a yard and then tossed two desperation passes which fell incomplete. On fourth down with punters Lalumiere and Rocklick injured and out of the game fullback Balga dropped back to punt. The pass came high and he was thrown on the 19-yard line to give Newton the ball on downs at that point. Fisher was called to carry the ball through right tackle. With Bob Wheldon opening up a huge hole for him the Newton back got through into the Rindge secondary, wrenched himself free from a desperate clutch at his body and bowled his way across the line to make the count 13 to 0. Castoldi's try at the point went wide and low. The remainder of the game saw most of the play confined within the 30-yard lines.

NEWTON CONFIDENT IN LAST THREE GAMES

Worcester Classical Has Strong Defensive Team

Newton high swings into the last third of its football season tomorrow, meeting the Worcester Classical team at the Dickinson Stadium at two o'clock. Worcester will bring down a strong defensive team that has had its goal line crossed but twice this season. These two scores provided Worcester Commerce with a 13 to 12 margin of victory over Classical last Saturday in the latter's solitary defeat in its four games to date. Worcester held Leominster to a scoreless tie after opening its season with a 12 to 0 win over Worcester North. Tomorrow's visitors chalked up a second win by a 6 to 0 count over Worcester South. After tomorrow's game, Classical will have but one more game, closing its season on Armistice Day with St. John's as its opponent.

After tomorrow's affair Newton will have but Waltham and Brookline to meet before the 1937 gridiron season passes into history. The orange and black faces the last third of its schedule with confidence. The victory over Rindge last Friday, surprising to many, was not altogether unexpected by those who have realized the capabilities possessed by the Newton squad. Newton, however, will not be overconfident as they respect the defense play of Worcester and Waltham.

Coach Sanborn will probably use two complete elevens against Worcester, and if the opportunity affords itself he will use as many other reserves as possible. The locals played two games within four days last week and the regulars will have to be in fine fettle to turn back invading Waltham on Nov. 13th. Captain Ted Duffy has had no contact work this week and will probably not play unless injuries occur to shelve four or five other Newton guards. Chesaronne has returned to duty and will probably relieve Bud Liming at centre. Hutchings and Colvin will start as guards and Wheldon and Mason as tackles. Collantonio proved his right to a starting berth at end one and he will have as his mate, Bob Hughes.

Weather conditions will govern Coach Sanborn's choice of backfield starters. If the day is windy, he will start Sohaski at quarter, Robey and Fitzgerald at the halves and Castoldi at fullback. Fitzgerald's kicking was instrumental in toppling Rindge and the Newton mentor counts upon his best punter to put the visitors deep into their own territory. Should Newton have a scoring opportunity, Bud Hines will replace Sohaski and Burns and Fisher will go in at the halfback berths. This trio, together with Castoldi, provides the Newton offense with a speedy quarter plus a stronger passing attack than the other backfield produces.

Little information is available on the Worcester team other than their probable starting line-up will have Staruk and Ruzzala at the ends, Nordberg and Stevens as tackles, Yankauskas and Grabowski as guards and Connor at centre. Captain Modzelewski will call the play from the quarter-back position with Magerowski and Yuknavich at the halves. Trychon will be at fullback.

Mike Trychon is an excellent blocker and tackler and has saved his team from almost certain defeat on several occasions this year by his clean tackling. Yuknavich is the star passer and punter of the team and his punting has been a potent factor in the team's defensive strength. John Stevens at right tackle is the outstanding lineman on the team. His spirit and play have been a great help in bolstering the morale of the team.

Aldermen Meet

The regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night started at 8:05 and continued until 8:50 when a recess was taken to permit the Board to retire to a committee room for a secret session. The open meeting was resumed about 1 a. m. Tuesday and lasted for about a half hour.

Following some hearings on petitions for gasoline station permits, hearings were announced on petitions for the acceptance of two new streets at Newton Highlands, Druid Hill and Nod Hill rds., and a street at Newton, Green park (off Park ave.) under the General Law. Alderman Temperley again raised the issue of such streets, built by real estate developers, being accepted by the city. Questioning City Engineer Harvey, Temperley brought out the facts that these privately built streets are of much inferior construction as compared with streets built by the city under the Betterment Law, and have to be repaired yearly because they merely have gravel surfaces, with some tarvia to lay the dust. City built streets have a surface of tarred stones which lasts for about 10 years. Temperley, a few months ago argued that by accepting these privately built streets of inferior type, real estate speculators are favored and taxpayers of Newton then must pay for the resurfacing of the streets so built. Temperley expressed the hope that members of the Public Works committee, especially Chairman Harvey, would pay attention to the information given by the City Engineer.

Alderman Rawson, reporting for the Claims Committee, recommended leave to withdraw on the claim of W. W. Norcross, Jr., whose car collided with a truck of the Water Department on June 22. Rawson said the claimant had started late to catch a train and was not operating with due care. The claim of Hattie Townsend for damage allegedly caused to her property at 56 Bennington st., by blasting in the high level sewer, several years ago, was refused. Rawson said no evidence had been presented to prove that the damage was caused by the blasting. The claim of the Boston & Albany Railroad for damage to the roof of the Newton Centre depot, allegedly caused by a city owned power shovel, was turned down. Rawson said the roof was damaged at the end near which the shovel had not been near.

Asks Mayor To Discuss City

In reply to Mr. Colby's letter, Mayor Childs stated:

"We won't know who the candidates are until November 26, the last day for filing papers, so we can't talk intelligently until then. However, if Mr. Colby wants to speak at my rallies he will be welcome. The platform is always open."

Mayor Childs said that later his campaign committee will announce a list of rallies at which he will speak.

Policeman Kills Deer at W. Newton

Last Monday a large deer was shot on the golf links of the Brae Burn Club at West Newton by Patrolman Joseph Charlton of the Newton police. The deer which was tame enough to frequent the confines of Newton was being chased across the links by some dogs and one of the green keepers who was riding a bicycle. Charlton joined the chase in a police car and fired two shots from his revolver. The second shot hit the deer and killed it. Charlton notified the State Department of Conservation and took the carcass of the deer to his home, where he kept it in the yard until an employee of the State Conservation Department called for it.

River Rises and Water Tastes

For the past week the Newton water supply has been characterized by a muddy taste and an odor which has made it quite disagreeable to the taste. The reason given is that the recent heavy rains caused the level of the Charles River to rise considerably at the water reservation and along its course, and the unusually heavy foliage the past summer caused a thick coating of leaves on the ground along the course of the river, as elsewhere. This decaying vegetation affected the water to such an extent that the taste and odor were not removed when the water passed through the gravel and sand strata at the gathering bowls in Needham. More chlorine is being placed in the water basins at the reservation.

WILLIAM R. DEWEY

William R. Dewey of 222 Franklin st., Newton died on November 1st in his 74th year. He was born in Boston and had resided in Newton for about 44 years. Mr. Dewey was president of the Waters Governor Company with a factory in Everett. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Margaret P. Dewey; a son, William R. Dewey, Jr., of Weston; a daughter, Miss Margaret B. Dewey of Newton; and a sister, Miss Lucy E. Dewey of Cambridge. Mr. Dewey's funeral service was held on Wednesday at Mount Auburn Cemetery chapel; Rev. Palfrey Perkins of Kings Chapel officiated.

was urged to take it before he was retired, but he refused to do so. Tom Rodden's type is quite in the minority today, and this is not surprising. This type is not appreciated.

In his talk at the Community Forum last Sunday, Hans Kaltenborn referred to the failure of England and France to display a more forcible attitude against Italy and Germany because of the actions of the Fascists and Nazis in Spain and on the Mediterranean, and expressed surprise at England's failure to do so. There are many who believe that the apparent timidity of England and France is caused to a large degree by the fear of the governments in those countries that should they declare war, there would be popular uprisings among their peoples and that radical elements would gain control. The English and French peoples do not want war. They remember too poignantly the millions of their relatives and friends killed and maimed in the last war.

Childs Campaign Committee Formed

Under the provisions of the General Laws City Clerk Grant was notified last Friday of the formation of a Childs Newton Non-Partisan Campaign Committee. The notice was given by Thomas W. White, of 1173 Boylston street, Upper Falls, treasurer of the committee. The committee's personnel is the same as that of the Childs Campaign Committee of 1935, with two exceptions. Herman F. Wells of 1498 Centre street is chairman, and the other members include William A. Sprout, 14 Thornton street, Newton; Herbert N. McGill, 142 Islington road, Auburndale; William E. Earle, 18 Maple avenue, Newton; Charles W. Henderson, 238 Chestnut st., West Newton; James B. Dangelo, 122 Chapel Street, Norantum.

Two of the members on the 1935 committee are not included on the 1937 committee. They are Clarence Lodge of Cabot street, Newtonville, and Edward H. Powers, Mr. Lodge, however, is still a strong supporter of Mayor Childs.

Pageant To Observe Signing Of Constitution

To Be Held In High School
Next February

The City of Newton will officially observe the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Constitution of the United States, with a pageant and appropriate exercises at the Newton High School Auditorium, on February 10, 11 and 12, 1938. The Sesquicentennial celebration was originally scheduled to be held this month, but was postponed by the Committee in charge, in order that there might be no conflict with the Newton Community Chest Drive which is now in progress. The February observance is considered particularly appropriate, inasmuch as the State of Massachusetts ratified the Constitution on February 6, one hundred and fifty years ago.

Leverett Saltonstall, who has been designated by Mayor Edwin O. Childs of Newton as chairman of the Newton Sesquicentennial Committee, announced yesterday that the speakers originally scheduled for the November activities, have agreed to be present at the exercises in February. These include: Justice Fred T. Field, Acting Chief Justice of the Supreme Judicial Court, on Thursday, February 10; Judge George C. Sweeney of the Federal District Court, on Friday, February 11; and Mayor Childs, on Saturday, February 12. The pageant which will be presented is in charge of Ernst Hermann, Superintendent of the Newton playgrounds.

The evening assisting Mr. Saltonstall in preparing for the celebration comprises: Joseph W. Bartlett, City Solicitor; Henry B. Patrick, Harry Silverman, Harold W. Knowlton, James P. Gallagher, James A. Waters, Edward O. Proctor and David Greer.

Popular Newton Man Shoots Self

Paul M. Fitzgerald, 41, who for many years conducted a printing shop at West Newton, shot himself through the head with a 22 calibre rifle on Wednesday morning in the basement of his shop. He had suffered a nervous breakdown several weeks ago.

Mr. Fitzgerald was born in Newton Centre, the son of Timothy and Elizabeth (Maher) Fitzgerald. In 1915 he enlisted in Company C 5th Infantry, the Newton militia company. He served with the regiment at the Mexican border and in 1917 enlisted for service in the World War. The company was merged into Company L of the 101st Infantry. In this unit Mr. Fitzgerald served in all the battles the 26th Division fought in France. He was a Past Grand Knight of Newton Council, Knights of Columbus and a member of Newton Post, American Legion, and Newton Lodge of Elks.

He is survived by his wife, the former Genevieve Pelkey of Waltham; his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Fitzgerald of Newton Centre; four brothers, Joseph, George, James and Timothy Fitzgerald; and a sister, Mrs. Helena Savage. Mr. Fitzgerald's funeral service will be held at St. Charles Church, Waltham on Saturday morning at 9. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery.

Woman Assaulted At Woodland

Miss Eleanor Curtin, 28, a waitress at the Woodland Golf Club, was assaulted just as she left the clubhouse on Wednesday night about 8:15. She was on her way to a house on the club grounds where she rooms, when a tall man hit her on the head with a blunt weapon. Her assailant then ran away and Miss Curtin managed to get back into the clubhouse. She was taken to the Newton Hospital where her head injury was treated.

In Court for Sale Of Air Rifle

Charles Cashman of 6 Lexington street, West Newton, owner of a store on Moody st., Waltham, was arraigned in the Waltham court on Wednesday on a charge of selling an air rifle to a boy under 15 years of age. Cashman pleaded not guilty and the case was continued until November

Mayberry of 141 Plymouth road, Newton Highlands, who was appointed presiding justice of the Newton district court on November 5 by Governor Hurley, was unanimously confirmed by the Governor's Council at its meeting on Wednesday. Chest Drive Reaches Half Way Mark Reports on Tuesday night showed the Newton Community Chest Campaign for $192,305 approximately at the halfway mark with pledges in hand for $97,506. As the drive goes into its second week, solicitors are redoubling their efforts to complete their work by November 16th, the official close of the intensive campaign period. The Women's Division, chairmaned by Mrs. John F. Capron which began its work prior to the intensive campaign period, has already exceeded its goal with pledges totaling $6,374 or 102 per cent of its quota. The Women's Division solicited pledges from retail stores and the doctors and dentists of the city.

Medal Taken From Woman's Throat

Physicians at St. Elizabeth's Hospital after several days of effort succeeded last week in removing from the esophagus of Miss Anna Martin of 63 Grafton street, Newton Centre, a religious medal with pin attached. The young woman accidentally swallowed the medal in the early evening on November 1st. She was taken to the Newton Hospital that evening, but returned to her residence where she was employed. The next day she went to St. Elizabeth's Hospital.

TO PROVIDE FOR

Continuing Expenses

No doubt you can recall at least one case in which a family was put to considerable inconvenience—perhaps financial hardship—while an estate was being settled. Food, clothing, and other necessities are required just as much during that period as at any other time.

If you have not made provision for this emergency period, we shall be glad to offer practical suggestions based on our experience with many similar situations. You may find them helpful in making your estate plans.

MANY PUBLIC QUESTIONS

At the present time ten petitions are being circulated under the initiative referendum act which may result in them being placed upon the ballot at the state election in 1938. Another question, that of biennial sessions of the legislature, will appear there by action of the last session of the Mass. General Court. Still another may be on the ballot should the court decide that the repeal of the so-called pre-primary law was improperly declared an emergency act by Governor Hurley last Spring. The ten petitions for popular vote that are now in circulation deal with several important subjects. Three of these petitions have to do with either or both horse and dog racing and the legalized pari-mutuel betting laws. Two others deal with the question of setting up a state lottery. Two more take into consideration the automobile compulsory insurance laws, one seeking a flat rate for cars throughout the state, the other seeking to replace the compulsory law with a financial responsibility proposal. The eighth petition deals with the free transportation of pupils to parochial and non-profit private schools, the ninth with the question of placing State police under civil service, and the tenth with the question of whether or not tax stands should be open to all operators or only to designated companies or individuals. All these matters are of much interest to Massachusetts citizens and the circulation of the petitions indicates that the voters are taking a more active interest than ever before. The progress of the petitions will be watched with considerable interest.

THE JUDICIAL APPOINTMENT

The appointment of a presiding justice of the Newton County has been made after months of discussion, debate, and attended political influence upon the part of those who desire to have a voice in the selection. Naturally there are many who are disappointed in the choice made by Governor Hurley. Many residents of Newton sincerely believe that either of two associate justices, who have served long and faithfully, should have been promoted. The citizens of Newton bow to the wishes of the Governor who has been supported by his council in the confirmation of the appointment. They revered the late Judge William F. Bacon who held the position on the Newton bench for many years. It is difficult to view the appointment of one who is not as well known as Judge Bacon without biased or at least hazy judgment. It is trust that as time passes Judge Mayberry will prove a worthy successor.

Newton Business Has Been In Same Family 500 Years

A man in Newton has been conducting an ancient family business over 500 years old. The bearer of this ancient family trade is Leon S. Avakian whose present location is at 415 Centre st., opposite the Newton Public Library. Mr. Avakian has been in business in Boston for 18 years and the past 8 years in Newton as L. S. Avak.

Rods, bars, bands and sheets of cold iron have a glorious trip into the fire of his forge and are hammered into a tempting variety of products such as andirons, shovels, cranes and tongs for your fireplace; railings for your gates and fences, candlesticks, lanterns, rushlights and foot scrapers for your homes.

Here one also will find all sorts of hinges from English Cockshead to H & L shaped, door knockers, replicas of those found in Wells, England; front door iron hinges and latches.

In addition, Mr. Avakian does all kinds of metal repairing and refinishing—such as trays, pewter ware, and brass burnishing. A visit to this establishment will prove most interesting.

Newton Free Library Observes Natl.

Reading as the magic adventure, the enticing 1937 Book Week, marks the observance of this annual girls' festival.

One of the aims of the week celebration is to stimulate the importance of community ties for the provision of children and young people, available in the public libraries.

The Newton Free Library will serve this event from November 15th, through Saturday, November 20th, and cordially invite Newton citizens to visit. Exhibit of New Books for girls from nursery to high school to be held at The Boys' Club Library, Vernon st., Newton.

It is the Library's privilege to have an interest in the lives of the great fund of stories and literature of the imagination which writers of the past have bequeathed to children and to introduce to books in order to give the children the enriched experience and a sense of the things happening in their day. This widens the horizon of life and understanding.

Newton Safety Council Gets Recommendations

The Newton Safety Council held a meeting last Friday night at Police Headquarters. General Daniel Needham, chairman of the council presided and about thirty-five were present. The small attendance was caused by the fact that many members were attending meetings in connection with the Community Chest Drive. A special report was received from the Engineering Committee of the Council. It was presented by Alfred N. Miner of Newtonville, chairman of the committee and covered nine typewritten pages. The report will be printed in the GRAPHIC during the next few weeks. Most of the recommendations of the committee met with the approval of those present, but a few met with decided opposition. These included—that in certain sections of the city angle parking be done by backing cars into the curb at an angle, instead of heading in and backing out; that all parking be eliminated on Hall street, Newton; and that the three pedestals at Newton corner be eliminated. The arguments for and against these proposals will be given in next week's GRAPHIC.

Rotary Club

Charles B. Floyd, president of the Newton Board of Aldermen, was the guest speaker at the Monday noon meeting of the Newton Rotary Club at Brae Burn. Mr. Floyd spoke on the subject of birds and bird banding which for some years has been his hobby. He brought out many interesting facts which the banding of birds has revealed pertaining to the length of life, migration, and habits of various species. It has been found that birds native to this part of the country migrate as far south as central South America and north as far as Newfoundland.

In covering great distances they usually fly at a height of about three thousand feet. Aviators have followed various kinds of birds in flight in an effort to ascertain their speed. Some species fly as fast as seventy-eight miles per hour and when alarmed their usual speed may be increased as much as a third for short distances. The normal temperature of birds is 110 degrees which enables many of them to sleep in trees and unprotected nests in weather below zero. It is not uncommon for some kinds of birds to return to the same nesting place with their same mate for many seasons in succession. The chimney swift is regarded as the fastest bird on the wing and the eagle, living sometimes as long as seventy-five years, holds the record for longevity.

Next Monday the Rotary Club will be addressed by Representative Christian A. Herter of Boston, Republican floor leader of the Mass. House of Representatives and one of the foremost students of government and current legislative problems in the state.

Economic Parley To Be Held at Central Church

A meeting of unusual interest is to be held at the Central Congregational Church, Walnut st., Newtonville, on Sunday, Nov. 14th afternoon and evening. It is to take the form of an "economic parley" with special emphasis upon the part the church has to play in the solution of great national problems.

Rev. Randolph S. Merrill, pastor of the Central Church, will preside at the evening session, which opens at 7:30. Mr. Willard Thorp, Director of Economic Research, Dunn and Bradstreet, and an economist of national reputation, will speak on the subject of "Unemployment and Relief."

The afternoon session, at 4 p. m., is devoted to a discussion of the nation-wide "Economic Social Action of the Church."

Next Monday the Central Church will have a panel discussion on the subject of "What is the Church's Responsibility in the Economic Crisis?"

Alfred E. Jolly, 62, of 47 Harvard st., Waltham was fined $50 in the Newton court on Saturday for driving an automobile so as to endanger lives of the public. He was also fined $10 for driving without having a license. Jolly did not renew his license after it had expired sometime in 1936. He appealed. Jolly was the driver of a car which on November 1st collided at Lowell ave. and Otis st., Newtonville with a car driven by Mrs. Claire Denron of Newton. Mrs. Denron's car was hurled against a tree and Mrs. Alice Hunkler of Greenwich, Connecticut, a passenger in it, was thrown out and severely injured.

Labor Leaders At Forum Next Sunday

Next Sunday afternoon, Nov. 14th, the Newton Community Forum will present to its audience at the Newton High School a symposium of CIO and AFL leaders on the subject "Labor's Needs and Demands, and How Labor Proposes to Meet Them."

The speakers are to be Thomas R. Burns, Vice-President of the United Rubber Workers of America and Regional Director of the National CIO; John P. Gately, President of the Massachusetts State Federation of Labor; and James T. Moriarty, Commissioner of Labor and Industry in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

It is difficult to know just what to expect from such a platform of speakers, but it is believed that this symposium will be an aid in clearing up many of the questions in the minds of the people as regards the true significance and probable future of these respective parties. The symposium may give an idea as to whether or not the CIO is to supplant the AFL, whether or not its recent activities are serving toward the alienation of the U. S. from the rest of the world, and will industry be able to survive the ordeal through which it is now passing. Did the Duke of Windsor cancel his trip to this country because of the complications arising in Labor here? Is the strike becoming chronic? If so, where will it lead and what can we do about it? What is the Committee for Industrial Organization trying to do better than the American Federation of Labor and in how different a fashion? There remain countless other questions to both sides and we believe that if enough people really understand more fully what these organizations stand for, we might be in a position to control Labor's future more fairly and more democratically.

NEWELL CLUB

The Newell Club of Newton and Wellesley held an open meeting in the home of Miss Barbara Estabrook, Beechercroft rd., Newton, Tuesday afternoon, November 9th. Mrs. Thomas V. Cleveland, president, presided.

At the business meeting Mrs. Wm. H. Keohane announced that a dinner-dance given by the Newell Club was to be held at the Wellesley Country Club, November 20th. A luncheon-bridge is to be given at the home of Mrs. Ernest J. McKenna and Mrs. Donald Gibbs, Friday, December 3rd, and a course of contract lessons is to start Monday, November 15th.

Miss Lucy Wheelock of The Wheelock School in Boston gave an inspiring talk on "Leaders in Education." Tea was served by the following assisting hostesses: Mrs. Charles Beatty, Mrs. W. A. Clarke, Mrs. Henry Cross, Mrs. Donald Gibbs, Mrs. Phillip Horne, Mrs. Edwin P. Leonard.

NEWTON DISTRICT NURSES ASSOCIATION

At the annual meeting of the Newton District Nurses Association reports of various committees were read. The year's accomplishments were very satisfactory; especially the annual reports of Miss Nelson, the Executive Director—the total number of visits of various kinds of calls amounted to 21,892—of these 10,496 were nurses visits to 1805 patients. One more nurse has been added to the staff. A great deal of work is done at the Well-Baby Conferences with the admittance of 306 new babies this year. The association co-operates with the Health Department for the immunization of preschool children from 3 to 6 years old, and this year examined 135.

The special speaker at the meeting was Miss Mabel C. Bragg, Professor of Education and Health Education at Boston University who was for many years assistant superintendent of schools in Newton and a pioneer in School Health Education.

Fined $50 For Reckless Driving

Alfred E. Jolly, 62, of 47 Harvard st., Waltham was fined $50 in the Newton court on Saturday for driving an automobile so as to endanger lives of the public. He was also fined $10 for driving without having a license. Jolly did not renew his license after it had expired sometime in 1936. He appealed. Jolly was the driver of a car which on November 1st collided at Lowell ave. and Otis st., Newtonville with a car driven by Mrs. Claire Denron of Newton. Mrs. Denron's car was hurled against a tree and Mrs. Alice Hunkler of Greenwich, Connecticut, a passenger in it, was thrown out and severely injured.

Sunbeam Chats

Poor Billy! He's been awfully sick. I heard mother tell Mrs. Singer (can't remember her name) that he had pneumonia. Hope he never gets it. Guess he was glad to hear that. I bet the next time he comes home he'll be a different person. I bet he'll be a different person who tries kissing him gets a "stink" in the eye. See you next week.

Sunbeam Chats are sponsored by the Newton District Nursing Association.

Newton Republican, Nov. 13, 1875

Every Ward has some distinct name; in some cases where there are two villages, a name for each. Ward 7 has Hunnewell and Newton. The latter name will be claimed by Ward 1. Why not call the whole of Ward 7 by the name of Hunnewell?

Wages are being reduced in all sections. House rents are not being reduced in proportion. Most corporations are paying as large dividends as usual. Provisions keep up at pretty good prices with labor getting from $1.25 to $2 per day. Families must occupy close quarters and buy the cheapest articles of food to make both ends meet.

Whoever is chosen for Mayor of Newton, the most interest we have in the matter is that he be a man of integrity and honest purpose, who will administer the affairs of the city as judiciously as he would his own. We need a man who will practice strict economy and the prompt enforcement of the laws, and who will use the veto power if necessary to out any needed reform.

Tuesday afternoon about 5 o'clock a man named Murphy was crossing the railroad track at Centre st., Newton with a stick of lumber on his shoulder. He was warned by the flagman of an express train which was approaching, but he did not heed the warning. The locomotive struck one end of the stick, tossing Murphy and the piece of lumber about 20 feet. A sore back and neck were all the injuries received by Murphy.

The new depot at West Newton is approaching completion. Instead of being plastered on the inside it is finished on wall and ceiling with ash, making an attractive appearance. We learn it will be surrounded with concrete.

Mrs. Forknall of North Village, wife of William Forknall, fell down stairs two days ago, breaking her hip. She survived until Friday, suffering intense pain.

The contract for building the reservoir for the Newton water works on Waban Hill has been awarded to J. B. Dacey & Company of Boston. The contractors have already commenced work and have given $20,000 to have the reservoir finished by October 1, 1876. The reservoir will be 400 feet long, 280 feet wide at the bottom, and 32 1/2 feet deep. The contract calls for 48,000 cubic yards of earth excavation.

50 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, Nov. 11, 1887

Master Willie Ellison's broken arm has progressed so favorably that he has been able to return to his studies at high school.

All women who pay a city tax can register and vote for members of the School Committee at the coming city election. A receipted tax bill of 1886 or 1887 must be taken and shown to the registrars. No woman who does not pay a tax can have her name placed on the voting list.

The Newton Y. M. C. A. will celebrate its 10th anniversary next Sunday afternoon in Elliot Hall. This association had its beginning in a very small way. Ten years ago, Dr. Jones, a blind physician, who will be remembered by many in this city, recognized the need of some religious exercises in the afternoon of Sundays to fill in the gap between the morning and evening services in the churches. He consulted Mr. Frank Bacon, and it was in the latter's summer home that the association was first considered. Four gentlemen met at Dr. Jones' house a week later and Mr. George C. Dunn, who was a member of the Boston Y. M. C. A., proposed the establishment of a Y. M. C. A. in Newton. The idea was well received and at a well attended meeting in Elliot Lower Hall the association was formed. George S. Harwood was elected president and George S. Trowbridge, secretary.

The Board of Aldermen met on Tuesday evening and received the following message from Mayor Kimball: "The absence of the usual fall of rain in October and the present time, has caused an accumulation of dust on our streets which has been blown about in great clouds to the discomfort of everyone out of doors, and to the great loss of surface material from our streets. These reasons are of such importance as to justify the recommendation that immediate steps be taken to remedy the evil. The expense cannot be large and it will be my pleasure to approve such appropriation therefore, as your judgment may indicate."

Alderman Grant moved that the Highway Committee be authorized to have the streets sprinkled as they have been this summer, for such future time as may be deemed necessary. A hearing was given to the petition of the Newton Electric Light & Power Company to put in another engine and boiler, so that the total capacity of their engines and boilers shall be 200 horse-power.

Edward Dexter, clerk at Mr. Fitch's store in Newtonville, was severely injured on Sunday by a kicking horse which he had recently purchased.

"Editor of Graphic." "I am wondering if anything can possibly be done by the authorities to prevent cruelty to animals in this city? The manner in which teams are driven up and down these hills—the twitching and jerking of rein and bit by grocery and market boys, and lamp-lighters, is something which should have been noticed long since."

"A Looker On."

Powers' Paragraphs

When Edwin O. Childs assumed the office of Mayor in 1914 some of his friends expressed doubts that an idealist such as he had been, could succeed in the very practical field of politics. They were apprehensive that the new Mayor might be the victim of the machinations of scheming politicians. To many persons "politics" is an unsavory word, and politicians are undesirable citizens who seek and obtain public office for mercenary reasons, who resort to intrigue and artifice. While many men who have held and are holding office deserve this uncomplimentary characterization, others who have entered into politics are men of a high type, although they are neither idealists nor reformers.

The apprehension of the Mayor's friends, who feared his entrance into the realm of politics was not warranted. They did not realize that although he always carefully avoided anything that savored of practical politics, and that he refrained from unnecessary participation in partisan activities, that he was and is an unusual student of human nature, and possessed the faculty of gaining respect and popularity to a degree that should make the average professional politician turn green with envy. They had no idea that the man elected to his first public office would continue as Mayor for sixteen years, and then would return to the office after having been out of it for six years.

Shortly after the Mayor assumed office in 1914 he had his first difference with the then Board of Aldermen. He reinstated an employee of the city who had been suspended by his predecessor for unbecoming conduct. A large majority of the Aldermen opposed the Mayor on this matter and refused to appropriate money for this employee's salary. The Mayor stood by his act, and contended that other city employees had erred, but had not been severely punished because they had a "pull." Since then Mayor Childs has always been prone to be quite merciful with erring employees of the city.

Mayor Childs in his first inaugural address stated that there were rumors during the campaign preceding his election that a number of department heads would be removed, but that this was not true. He stated that he would not remove any department head except for incompetency. But soon after he assumed office reports were circulated throughout the city that Charles W. Ross, who had been Superintendent of Streets and Street Commissioner since 1889, was to be asked to resign. On April 4, 1914, Mr. Ross did resign. He was regarded as a very competent official but he had not been popular with many of the laborers in the Street Department. During the campaign there had been considerable agitation by these employees and their friends demanding the removal of Mr. Ross, should Mr. Childs be elected Mayor. These demands continued after Mr. Childs was elected Mayor. A somewhat similar condition was to follow 22 years later regarding Richard H. Ellis, Commissioner of Public Works. The following month Charles I. Bucknam, Forestry Commissioner, resigned. His resignation had also been predicted, but there was no political significance attached to it. The outstanding matter before the city government during Mr. Childs' first year as Mayor was a prolonged discussion among the Aldermen over "pony express" liquor licenses.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

Where All is Quiet

Silence, the gentlest of arts and the least practiced, is revealed most effectively in a public library reading room. Of course there may be interruptions of the rule but they are infrequent. I was going to say they are trivial as well, but that depends upon the point of view. Regular patrons expect and demand quiet as is shown by the severe looks cast upon intruders.

I have seen a meek and mild mannered citizen accidentally stumble against a chair, thereby causing a noise of hardly more than a split-second's duration. The effort was the same, however, as the explosion of a fire-cracker as far as the other occupants were concerned. Apologetically, the offender proceeded to his seat, thoroughly chastened and plainly seeking by his subsequent behavior to live down the crime. But glares of rebuke followed and made his entire visit most uncomfortable.

For these reasons I do not enter one of these reading rooms unless compelled to do so by circumstances. Then I tip-toe, holding my breath for fear the movement of my lungs may break the stillness and make me the object of bitter censure.

Spotlight for Newton

After what has taken place in Boston and several other cities of the Metropolitan district, Newton has not to do something to attract outside attention to its municipal campaign. Otherwise, what is the publicity value of holding an election in December practically by ourselves? There may be those who feel that notoriety is not desirable and who would discourage such things as making sure there are no "ghost" or "mattress voters" in our midst. On the other hand Boston seems to have been no worse off for a little voting scandal. I'm not saying, mark you, that there is a possibility of any irregularities in Newton. No, no, I'm just trying to think up something for legitimate publicity in order that the rest of Massachusetts may know we are having a city election.

Time for Getting Up

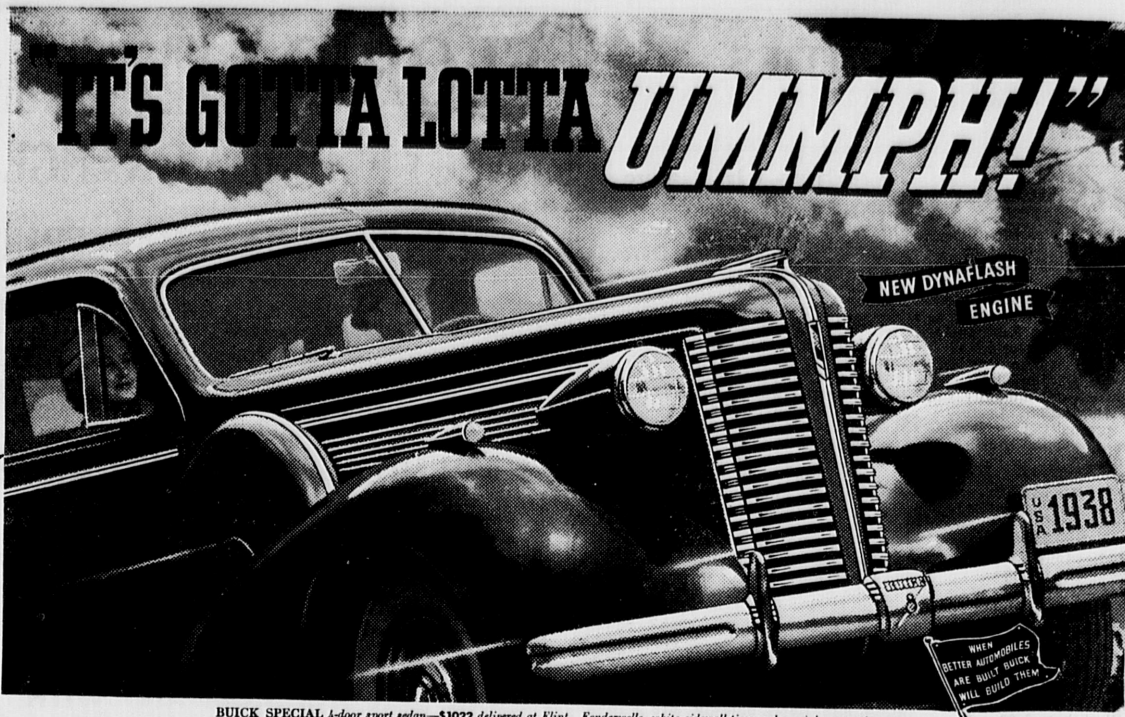

Nature gave us the birds to wake us in the morning which is all right for mild weather but with winter at hand we are forced to rely on man-made things. For those who feel an alarm clock is plebeian there are such noises as the housemaid clomping down stairs to get the breakfast or the early shaving preparations of the man of the house. In some homes there is a light-sleeper who is prowling around at ghastly hours so that nobody gets any slumber after 6 a. m. Often there is a neighbor who is banging around in his garage almost before daylight. Newton isn't a factory town so we get no whistles. Still, there are noises enough for everybody if you know where to look or listen.

Others Must Pay

A carpenter's bill for property repairs as a result of Halloween pranks is my substantial evidence of the success of that festive occasion. The havoc was not wrought by me but by a crowd of young men who rushed through my street, pausing at each house to create as much annoyance as they could for the residents. Some of the latter, like myself, had to dig in their purses to set things right. Undoubtedly the same thing occurred throughout our city. The total sum Newton people paid for such repairs would no doubt make a substantial addition to the several worthy causes now seeking contributions if it could have been diverted in time.

Fears Allayed

Arlitters of fashions have set my mind at peace by announcing that engraved Christmas cards are correct. It isn't that I worry about myself for jewelers will never declare extra dividends from my purchases of name plates. What pleases me about the situation is that I will know that any friend who sends me a sleighing scene or blazing yule log with his name engraved underneath will not have committed a solecism. It would spoil my whole Christmas comelier to have a breach of etiquette committed in my own set.

Meaning—the Most Modern Automobile in the World is the new 1938 Buick—with DYNAFLASH ENGINE and TORQUE-FREE SPRINGING

IF YOU'VE put a sparkling 1938 Buick through its thrilling paces—

And tried to say in words what this standout car's got—

And found to your surprise you couldn't begin to do it justice—

Listen, don't think you're the only one!

"It's gotta lotta ummph!" say triers vainly trying to express all the marvelous things they've felt.

"Ummph!" meaning zip—flash—power. "Ummph!" meaning all you ever expected to find in a car—and a great deal else in addition!

Fact is—demonstration, not conversation, is the thing to describe this new Buick.

To say it's quick—nimble—agile is to do only fractional justice to its DYNAFLASH engine and what it does every time you touch off its thrifty power.

To call its TORQUE-FREE SPRINGING ride velvety is only to participate its ride. Use the words jarless, level, floating, serene—and you come a little closer.

But still you neglect the directability this car gets from its new rear springing, the reduced risk of skidding, the simpler maintenance, and longer rear tire wear that go with it.

No, you can't cramp a new Buick into words—only its action can tell its story.

And wherever there's a Buick dealer there's a chance to try this great car out—now, today!

MATCH THESE VALUES!

Complete with DYNAFLASH engine and TORQUE-FREE SPRINGING, these models deliver at Flint, Mich. at these prices: Buick SPECIAL business coupe, $985; Buick SPECIAL 4-door touring sedan, $1047; CENTURY 4-door touring sedan, $1207; ROADMASTER 4-door touring sedan, $1345; LIMITED 8-passenger sedan, $2250. Special accessories, local taxes if any and freight extra.

A SAFETY CUSHION ON EACH WHEEL!

Buick replaces the usual type spring with this special spring of stout coiled steel and big direct-acting Torque Tube shock absorbers. Rigidly aligned by the Torque Tube, rear axle and wheels cannot twist or distort, cannot affect steering, greatly reducing danger from skids. No shackles, no grease points, no chatter, no premature rear tire wear.

Shooting of Deer Causes Complaint

Patrolman Joseph Charlton of the Newton police was arraigned in the Newton court on last Friday on a charge of having in his possession the carcass of a deer, killed out of season. The complainant against Charlton was Fred Goodwin of the State Department of Conservation. The case was continued for a week. Shortly before 7 on the morning of Nov. 1, the deer, a 150-pound buck, was shot by Charlton on the golf links of the Brae Burn Club between West Newton and Waban. The deer, which had wandered into the largely populated community from parts unknown, was first observed at the Waban side of the links. Charlton, who was riding in a cruising car, shot the animal with his service revolver and later notified the Department of Conservation.

James F. Murphy, 20, of 66 California st., Watertown, was fined $25 by Judge Weston in the Newton court on Monday for driving a car so as to endanger the lives of the public. On Oct. 16th a car driven by Murphy hit Richard Norton, 7, of 315 California st., as the boy was crossing the street near his home. Witnesses testified that Murphy was driving between 40 and 45 miles an hour. Inspector Hamill testified that the brakes on Murphy's car were examined after the accident and found to be in defective condition. The Norton boy received a severe skull fracture, is still in a critical condition at the Newton Hospital, and a serious operation will have to be performed on him.

Found Not Guilty of Drunken Driving

Francis W. Furdon of 1080 Beacon st., Newton Centre was found not guilty by Judge John Pappas of Belmont in the Newton court last Friday on a charge of driving a car while under the influence of liquor. He was found not guilty on that charge, but was found guilty of driving without a license and fined $10. Shortly before midnight on October 21, a car allegedly driven by Furdon was observed being driven in an erratic manner at Upper Falls by Patrolman Fitzsimmons. The officer signalled the driver to stop, but instead, the lights on the car were put off and the driver speeded away. Fitzsimmons obtained the plate numbers on this car and notified headquarters. As a result, some minutes later a cruising car with Patrolmen Lyons and McArdle went to Furdon's home, and after questioning the latter, Lyons placed him under arrest on charges of driving while under the influence of liquor and driving without a license. The latter charge was made because Furdon's license only gave him the right to drive a car with planetary transmission (Model T Ford), and the car he was driving was a Chevrolet with gear shift.

Patrolmen Lyons, McArdle, Brayton, Corcoran and Lieut. Moan, the booking officer, all testified that Furdon was under the influence of liquor. The defendant did not testify. Judge Pappas, before finding Furdon not guilty, commented that Patrolman Lyons had testified that Furdon had only drunk a couple of glasses of beer. Inspector King, who conducted the prosecution, replied that Lyons had not so testified. Judge Pappas answered that his notes, in black and white, so showed Lyons' testimony. Lyons had stated that Furdon was under the influence of liquor, but under questioning had testified that when he questioned Furdon at the latter's home, the defendant had told him (Lyons) that he had only drunk a couple of glasses of beer.

Young Hoodlums Busy In Newton

Newton police are endeavoring to learn the identity of hoodlums who have been breaking street lights on Blake st. and Morse rd. at Newtonville. They are also on the trail of youths and boys who think they do something smart when they tip over ash barrels which have been placed on sidewalks awaiting collection of ashes by employees of the street department.

Goodwin Stresses Speed and Liquor

Frank A. Goodwin, campaign chairman of the Governor's Highway Safety Campaign, is asking police officials throughout the State to check the excessive speed of motorists, and keep a closer watch for drivers who have been drinking, during the current month.

In October, a state-wide effort was made to gain the co-operation of pedestrians in a safer use of the highways at night. In November, the campaign will concentrate upon the motorist who violates traffic regulations. A study of the causes of the first 60 motor vehicle fatalities that occurred in October has convinced the campaign directors that the pedestrian is not yet aroused to the serious aspects of the hazard. Forty-two pedestrians died to 18 occupants; and these are not the total deaths for the month. Seventy per cent of these pedestrian fatalities occurred during the hours of darkness. The pedestrian past middle age was very often the victim. There was only one pedestrian who had been drinking.

A number of the drivers who were involved in a fatal accident were inexperienced drivers. Twenty-six motorists were operating at high speed. In six cases the car crashed after going off the highway. Three drivers were intoxicated, and three were operating on the low beam. There were four cases of faulty equipment, though the cars had been inspected a month previous. Two skidding accidents on stormy days resulted in fatal accidents, but speed was a factor in the skid. The hours of greatest accident frequency were from 5 to 9 p. m., when 26 persons were killed.

A significant fact in the pedestrian deaths was that, while 8 occurred at intersections, 14 occurred between intersections, an especially dangerous place at night, because of poor lighting. Members of the campaign committee who are addressing public meetings must stress this point.

Six persons were walking on country roads when struck down, and only two were facing oncoming traffic. Four children were killed while playing in the street at night.

Baker, Mrs. W. Dean Norris and Mrs. Francis R. Sweeney. Reservations may be made through Mrs. Sweeney, telephone, Centre Newton 4141, at 50 cents a person.

Mrs. Arthur B. Hitchcock, president of the Club, spoke over a local radio broadcast last Monday morning on the topic "The Club That Owns Its Own Club House." She explained the effort and energy necessary for a club to raise a budget which includes the operating of a club house, and stressed the obligation and privilege of maintaining a civic centre such as a club house for a community. She also traced the history of the formation and progress of the Newton Centre Woman's Club since its founding fifty years ago in 1887.

On Tuesday, November 16th, Professor Wayland F. Vaughan, of Boston University, will be the speaker at the Newtonville Woman's Club, his subject "The Unemployment of Intelligence." He is vitally interested in psychology from the angle as it is closely related to problems of daily living. He intrigues his listeners with a subtle humor while he is driving home facts which not only interest, but stimulate, his audience.

An added attraction will be the songs of Angus Ross, a Scotsman, born in Glasgow, who sings his native tunes in costume. His well-trained tenor voice is most pleasing, and many of his selections are character songs of his own composition.

There will be an Exhibit in the Art Gallery, and tea will be served after the meeting.

Members are reminded that on this day they bring their annual contributions of jellies, old cotton, and linen, for the Newton Hospital.

Mrs. Frank Mansfield Taylor will give the second of her Current Events lectures at the Club House, on Monday, November 15th, at 10:30 a. m., under the auspices of the International Relations committee.

Fine Exhibit at High School

"Abraham Lincoln and His Times," a special exhibit of a large and varied collection of souvenirs of the Civil War period, has attracted much attention among the pupils and teachers of the high school. Prepared by Miss Jeannie B. Kenrick and co-workers of the publicity committee for the faculty play, and admirably arranged by Miss Ellis and Miss Kenrick in the several trophy cabinets in building three, the exhibit has been not only an excellent means of stimulating interest in this week's play but has also been of large educational value. It has been highly praised by Miss Gladys Bigelow, the librarian, and Mr. Horace Kidger, head of the social studies department, both of whom have arranged special bulletin boards on the same subject.

Costumes of the middle of the century on loan from the Misses Caroline and Louise Lovett and Miss Margarita Ellis, a period hat from the Misses Maude and Hattie Henry, and a piece of a flag and rope from Fort Sumner, lent by Mrs. John T. Alden are among the exhibits. Winthrop Furber brought in a newspaper telling of General Lee's surrender, and from John Callahan, there is a copy of the New York Herald giving an account of Lincoln's assassination. A painting of the Boy Lincoln, lent by Mr. Frank H. Grebe, a leather case for war dispatches owned by Mrs. George Angier, a sword from Mr. Arthur Reed's collection, and a sash, chevrons, G. A. R. hats, and sword and pistol exhibited by Miss Kenrick are of particular interest. Miss Gertrude Carleton lent a program of a play in which John Wilkes Booth appeared and a state ticket of the Republican candidates under Lincoln and Johnson. A carpet bag, a soldier's cap, a music box, muskets and Confederate money were among loans from Mr. Charles Considine, Miss Anne Leathers, Miss Catherine Murray, and Mrs. Arthur Kenrick. A soldier's hat, a Zouave suit worn by a member of the Providence Guard, and a soldier's hat are exhibited through the courtesy of Mrs. George Angier. An army discharge, a canteen, a beaver hat and a hat box are a few other items in the extensive and interesting exhibit.

Raymond Green and Helen Nute Play

Leading Roles in Faculty Play

John Drinkwater's splendid dramatic biography, "Abraham Lincoln," a play in six separate and complete scenes, which has been acclaimed by most critics as a masterpiece in spiritual insight and in the technique of the playwright, is to be presented in the high school auditorium on Friday and Saturday evenings of this week. Raymond Green, Assistant Principal of Newton High School, is in the title role, and Miss Helen E. Nute, English teacher, is cast as Mrs. Lincoln. The large cast and the various committees of production include nearly all members of the high school faculty, and all are working to make this year's play one of the finest. Superintendent of Schools, Mr. Julius E. Warren, and Mr. Samuel Thurber, head of the English department are cast for the different roles of Chroniclers in Drinkwater's adaptation of the Greek chorus.

CHILDRENS SINGING GUILD

The board of directors of the Childrens Singing Guild held its first meeting of the season on Monday, Nov. 1, in the office of Mayor Childs in City Hall, with the new president, Mrs. Harold Keller, in the chair. Those present were, Mayor Childs, representing the city; Ernest Hermann, representing the Playground department; Mrs. Charles Wilbur, representing the Peabody Home; Mrs. William MacAdams, representing the "Newton Brownies"; Mrs. C. L. Hathaway, representing the "Cubs"; Mrs. Porter B. Chase, of Auburndale; Mrs. James C. Regan, and Mrs. John A. Russell, the musical director. Mrs. Keller, the president, is also head of the Mother's Rest Association. Mrs. J. Frederic Sweeney of Newton Centre was elected to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Ex-Mayor Sinclair Weeks. Mrs. Sweeney will represent the Parent-Teachers Association. The board decided to make a donation of the entire proceeds from the annual opera to the families of the late policemen Murphy and Bell. The opera "All At Sea," by Harvey Worthington Loomis, is an adaptation of five of the most familiar Gilbert and Sullivan plays. It will in all probability be presented in the High School auditorium, and on a professional scale as to scenery and costumes.

The "When You Entertain Club" has made 50 little bags out of red and blue cellophane tied with red and blue ribbons with hand decorated cards. Each bag contained: 1 popcorn ball, 1 orange, 1 apple. The popcorn balls were made by members of the "When You Entertain Club" but the apples and oranges were contributed by home rooms throughout the building. These were sent to the Chelsea Hospital for World War Veterans and were distributed on Armistice Day. A large box of apples and oranges was also sent to the Peabody Home for Crippled Children.

Star Market Goodwill

Dinner at Hotel Westminster

Monday evening, in the Blue Room of the Hotel Westminster, Boston, employees of the Watertown, Newtonville and Wellesley stores of the Star Market Company, tendered a "Goodwill" dinner to the president of the organization, Mr. Stephen P. Mugar and Mrs. Mugar, recently returned from their honeymoon. The dinner at which about one hundred and fifty were present, including Mr. Mugar's mother as an honored guest, was given not only as an evidence of the affection of all Star Market employees for their president, but also as an official welcome to Mrs. Stephen Mugar as a member of the Star Market "family."

Mr. Joseph J. O'Meara, of the Newtonville store, assisted by an able committee, had charge of all arrangements and served as master of ceremonies. The high points of the occasion were a beautiful bouquet of American Beauty roses to Mrs. Mugar and an exquisite sterling silver coffee service and sterling silver carving set to the newly-wedded couple. Mr. Mugar expressed his appreciation for the loyalty and co-operation of all employees, giving them full credit for the spirit of friendliness and enthusiastic service which have won for the Star Market so many customers and which are so important factors in the progress of the company.

During the dinner, Billy Dooley's Orchestra functioned with its usual effectiveness and a floor show proved highly entertaining. At the conclusion of the dinner, dancing was enjoyed.

Bigelow Junior H. S.

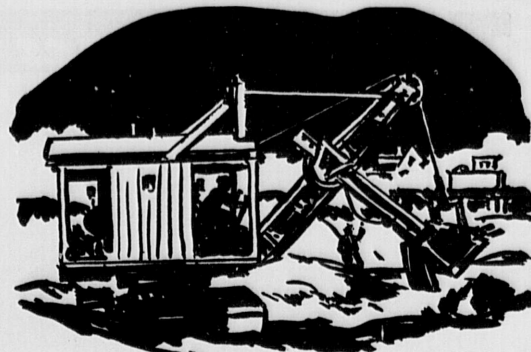

During the past week the attention of all pupils of the Bigelow School has been called to the significance of the Community Chest. The corridor bulletin boards, library and exhibition cabinet have special poster displays made by individuals in Social Studies classes and Art groups. Homeroom programs held on Tuesday were devoted to information about the Chest. Eighth and ninth grade homerooms carried out a program based on Professor Quiz procedure.

The boys of Room 118 are pleased with the large red and blue banner which hangs in the front of the room—as evidence of their championship in soccer during the fall term.

Dr. E. A. Andrews Dies at N. Centre

Dr. Edward Austin Andrews, a prominent physician and leader in civic affairs, died Monday, Nov. 8th, at the Newton Hospital after a short illness. He was born in Wetmore, Kansas, April 7, 1871, and came east at an early age and received his education at Harvard Medical College, Class of 1896. After serving five years on the staff of the Children's Hospital, Boston, he came to Newton Centre and had practiced in Newton for over 35 years. He had just retired from the Newton Hospital Staff, in which capacity he had served the people of this city for 25 years.

He was a member of the Children's Hospital Alumni Association and the American, Massachusetts, and Newton Medical Societies.

It was during this term of office that he and the then head of the Newton Health Department, the late Dr. Curtis, organized and enforced a group of rules for the safe handling of milk in Newton, which was copied by other cities and towns in the United States, which eventually led to the general pasteurization of milk throughout the nation.

In addition to his many duties, he found time to give generously of his talents to his adopted city. He was President of the Newton Centre Improvement Association for 14 years, and during his tenure of office many improvements for Newton Centre residents came into being. Among others, the campaign for funds, the erection and presentation without cost to the City of Newton of the Newton Centre Library building might be considered the high point of his efforts. However, countless hours were spent on John W. Weeks Junior High School playground, the Thompsonville playground, the Memorial Flag Pole on the Village Green, the bathing privileges in Crystal Lake, with subsequent erection of the bath house, all of which are now active for the benefit of Newton citizens.

A great lover of flowers and trees, many of the beautiful elms and maples which border Newton Centre streets were the direct result of his efforts, in cooperation with the late Street Commissioner George E. Stuart. He was also a member of the Newton City Hall and War Memorial Citizens' Advisory Committee, a member of the Mayor's Relief Committee since its inception by ex-Mayor Sinclair Weeks, and a member for a number of years in the Newton Republican Ward and City Committees. He leaves his widow, Alice G. Andrews (nee Bond) and a son, Robert Austin Andrews. Services were held in the First Church in Newton, Newton Centre, at 2 p. m., Wednesday, Nov. 10th. Dr. Boynton and Dr. Sullivan officiated. The ushers were: Fred D. Bond, C. Faulkner Kendall, Arthur W. Rayner, and Frederick C. Rising, all of Newton Centre. Interment was at the Newton Cemetery.

Unemployment Census Starts Here Tuesday

On Tuesday, November 16th, letter carriers will deliver to every home in Newton unemployment report cards.

It is important to the unemployed and to every citizen of Newton that this census be complete, honest and accurate. To a large extent the card is self-explanatory if you have any questions to ask go to your nearest post-office at once and they will assist you in answering the questions. The confidential nature of the answers to questions will be respected by the administrator of the census. The names of signers will not be published or made public in any manner. The information is asked simply that President Roosevelt may know just how many men and women are out of work.

Here are the words of President Roosevelt himself:

"If you give me the facts I shall try to use them for the benefit of all who need work and do not now have it."

Complete and specific instructions are printed on the cards explaining who should register and who should not register. These instructions should be carefully read.

As soon as you have answered all questions mail your card (it does not require postage) by November 20th. If you need extra cards you can obtain them at your nearest postoffice.

Mayor Childs in appointing this committee stressed the need for this census and the great good that can come out of it for us all. Once again let us say that all information asked is confidential and only to be used to find out honestly, quickly and accurately, just how many people are out of work and need work.

The Newton committee appointed by Mayor Childs includes James P. Reynolds, Harold F. Young and Rupert C. Thompson.

Animal Hospital Installs New X-Ray Equipment

Dr. Roland A. Lombard, veterinary surgeon, located at 2285 Commonwealth ave., Auburndale, has recently added X-ray and fluoroscopic equipment to his hospital for small animals. The field of X-ray in animals is wide, embracing as it does both diagnostic and therapeutic uses. In many cases a definite diagnosis and statement as to the outcome can only be made by its use. It is particularly useful in fractures, dislocations and foreign bodies which have been swallowed. The most important use therapeutically is in the treatment of tumors, mange and eczema or dermatitis.

Dr. Lombard's sister, Miss Irene Lombard, who assists him, is taking a course in X-ray at Harvard University this winter, in order to relieve him of some of that work.

Newton Centre School Assn. Plans Thanksgiving Dinner

The Newton Centre School Association is planning a Thanksgiving dinner party to be held Wednesday evening, November 17, at eight o'clock in the Mason School hall. The door prize will be a Thanksgiving turkey. Two permanent waves are also to be given away, and among other attractions will be the auction of a handmade bedspread. Both auction and contract bridge will be played. The tickets are fifty cents.

It is hoped there will be a large attendance. The proceeds will be used for furnishing a teachers' rest room at the Mason School, and for the scholarship the association gives each year to the high school.

NEW STYLES IN COOKING AT FREE COOKING CLASSES

Styles in cooking change, methods improve, and food tastes better and better—as the many local women who, each week, visit the free cooking classes at the local office of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company, 308 Washington st., Newton, will agree. At these entertaining and instructive two hour sessions held on Wednesday afternoons at 2:00 and on Monday evenings at 7:30 they are shown new cooking arts step by step. Simple explanations show them how to reduce kitchen work to a pleasant minimum, giving more time for social activities. They see economical dishes prepared so skillfully as to have a novel, appetizing appeal. And this tasty food is, of course, given away among those in attendance.

Again in charge is Margaret Fosssett, Home Service Director of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company, whose classes last spring were so popular. All housewives, mothers and business women are welcome to attend one or all of these free fall classes. The subject of next week's classes is "A Thanksgiving Dinner."

"How about that present for Jane?" asked Mrs. B. "Oh, she has everything," replied Mrs. S. disconsolately, "if I could only find something different, something exclusive for Jane." "Well, I know just the place," answered Mrs. B. "Visit ELIZABETH LORING (Shaw & Loring Studio, 420 Boylston st., Room 413A—Kenmore 9492). She has the loveliest bags, smart book-ends, exquisite wool embroideries and rare pieces of needlework. She designs, teaches, and copies the gift that's different."

A survey shows 200 million gallons of ice cream produced each year, Baltimore in 1851 said to be first place to have commercial production.

We are rather gratified to think we did ask if Mr. Noetzel had art training... for then we enjoyed a glimpse into how much his professional art background, and his recent painting, enriches the character delineation that is typical of a distinctive NOETZEL STUDIO photograph portrait. Mr. Noetzel has interpreted, by his own process, a charcoal sketch effect that is especially interesting in its lifelike individuality. Whether a professional or business man, a child, or individualized avocation-study, each portrait is by Mr. Noetzel, taken in the home or at the Newton Center studio.

Autumn is a season for bouquets, trays, candlesticks of copper and brass, using with them a deep blue.

We are invited to visit the UNICORN, the distinctive new book shop where we'll want to select Christmas greetings that are delightfully varied (and those hard-to-find Thanksgiving greetings, too.) The Unicorn is new in Newton Corner, Centre ave., yet based on the experience to three other well-known Unicorn shops. An attractive book on weaving, the late non-fiction, children's books, biography, and the well-selected fiction are here where we can enjoy an unhurried choice of books for gifts and our own reading. And there's a pleasant little mystery about one book each week.

Mornay is white sauce with grated Gruyere and Parmesan.

Christmas is coming and so our list should include a visit to MALCOLM T. HILL, SPORT CENTER. There we find everything dear to the sportsman's heart, be it indoor or outdoor recreation. We have our racquet expertly restring ready for that southern trip. The phone is Hubbard 6264, the place 177 Federal st., opp. South Station. Badminton, squash, table tennis are more popular than ever this year with the young people.

"Folk songs and Famous Pictures" by Mary Bacon Mason offers music and its associations to children.

Sweaters, scarfs for the youthful taste and for all the family... for curtains, fabrics, accessories... for house are chosen to combine the colorful and the practical. Or gift thinking and replenishment of family needs with Knickerbocker, Holeproof, many nationally known and liked specialties is possible at BOND'S CONVENIENCE SHOP of Union st. Mr. Bond has brought together a variety of toys, games the child being shopping for as birthday, party or holiday gifts in this store and it is easy for Mother to shop here, too.

Upholstery brocade in its firm richness is used for evening ensemble of gown and (lamb-scool) lined wrap.

We may depend on creamier, wafer thin ribbon candy that is delicate, attractive and flavorful. And now we won't have to wait until Christmas... this candy will be ready for us at HILLIARD'S, three convenient Newton shops, beginning Saturday, Nov. 20. And other candy too... personal... family, hostess and gifts we have... and always something new being produced by Mr. Hilliard who is a pioneer in several ideas of candy making.

Those sheerish suede suits that Hollywood raises to a high pitch of favor can be... and definitely are... worthy of serious attention by the girl or woman whose life includes autumn outdoors and more smartly than ever, too, in town such semi-casuals for many hours of the day. The original VINCENT'S of Boston is the place where discriminating women turn for personal service by Mr. Vincent. We find a seasonal recommendation of individually designed frock-coat ensembles for active women. The new salon at 91 Newbury st., provides a congenial atmosphere for the woman of taste.

Newton W. C. T. U.

The Newton W. C. T. U. met on Thursday, November 4th, in the vestry of the First Congregational Church, Newton Centre. A short business meeting was held with the president, Mrs. William E. Birdsall, presiding.

The first speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. Lucy Dow Cushing, who represented the Hindman Settlement School, a Kentucky mountain school for white children, founded by the W. C. T. U. From a small beginning, the school now has a fine high school building with four hundred pupils, and a building for about three hundred younger children. The Settlement School is high in the mountains, but is now on the main road, which makes it within easy reach of interested visitors. A bus service accommodates the children in outlying rural districts.

The last speaker was Mrs. Sarah Stevens, corresponding secretary of the Union, who attended the Convention at Washington, D. C., in June. Mrs. Stevens gave excerpts from the reports of delegates from the English-speaking countries, in regard to temperance activities. A statement of particular interest was that practically every woman on Pitcairn Island, the south sea island that was the scene for "Mutiny of the Bounty," is a member of the W. C. T. U.

Mrs. Mabelle Groves was in charge of the program.

Tea was served, with Mrs. A. C. Cushing pouring, and Mrs. Emory Clark and Mrs. A. S. Norris as hostesses.

W. C. T. U.

The regular meeting of the West Newton W. C. T. U. will be held on Monday evening, Nov. 15th, at the home of Mrs. M. E. Beardsley, 108 Crescent st., Auburndale, at 7:45, when the reports of the State Convention will be read. Mrs. W. E. Guilford will be the assisting hostess.

NEWTON CIRCLE

On Monday afternoon, November 15, the Newton Circle, Inc., of the Florence Crittenton League will hold a luncheon meeting at the home of Mrs. John H. Underhill on Windsor rd., Waban. The guest speaker will be Mrs. Caroline L. Carter Davis, Educational Director of the Birth Control League of Massachusetts, who will talk on "Birth Control—a Tool for Building a Better World." Those who plan to attend the meeting are requested to bring canned goods to be used in supplying some of the needy families in Newton with Thanksgiving dinners.

Auburndale Review Club

The Auburndale Review Club will meet at the home of Mrs. C. W. Blood, 31 Woodbine street, on Tuesday, November 16th, at 10 o'clock. There will be a Play Reading, the Club members taking part being Mrs. Albert Palmer, Miss Anne Buckley, Mrs. Richard O. Walter, and Miss Elizabeth Wells.

A personally-conducted Tour of the Gardner Museum, Boston, will be held on Tuesday afternoon, November 16th, at 2 o'clock, for the members of the Auburndale Garden Club, of which Mrs. John F. Brown, Jr. is chairman.

At 4 o'clock, tea will be served, and there will be also a program of special music. Hostesses for the afternoon will be Mrs. Austin W. Fisher, Mrs. Richard L. Kenney, Mrs. Edwin E. Nash, and Mrs. Everett H. Potter.

Auburndale Woman's Club

Wearing a smart black outfit, with touches of gold on the sleeves and hem of her dress, Miss Sybil H. Holmes, only woman member of the Massachusetts Senate, made a strong plea for women to take a greater interest in their government, at the meeting of the Auburndale Woman's Club, held on Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 9th, in the Auburndale Club House.

Warning her listeners that they should be alive not only to the responsibilities of world peace abroad, but that they should also be working constructively for this aim in their own country and communities, Miss Holmes placed the responsibility squarely on the women of America for the present character and attitude toward government of today's younger generation.

And although the intricacies of modern government may seem dull to some, the legislator went on, unless we safeguard the rights that at present distinguish us from other nations of the world, we have the beginnings of something that aims fundamentally at the undermining of the American form of government.

In discussing some of the proposed laws that came before the General Court of Massachusetts during the past year, Miss Holmes spoke of the recent illegal registration scandals and urged clubwomen to support any proposed law that would make such unconstitutional voting more difficult of accomplishment.

During the question period that followed, Senator Holmes declared herself in favor of women jurors, saying that, in her opinion, a blend of masculine and feminine minds obtains the best results.

She pointed out the dangers of compulsory voting, in answer to another question; and to still another query, stated that she favored the present schedule of the State Legislature, as against the proposed biennial sessions, the principal purpose of which she considered was to cut down expenses.

The business meeting, presided by the president, Mrs. James Dunlop, of special interest was the report of Mrs. Langdon W. Chandler, chairman of the Education committee, and also of the recent Scholarship Bridge, who announced that the sum of $127.77 had been raised at this event, which took place on Tuesday afternoon, November 2nd.

The chairman of the Day, who also introduced Miss Holmes, was Mrs. John Shade Franklin, a member of the Program committee.

English Boy Choristers
In Auburndale Next Monday

The English Boy Choristers will sing in the Church of the Messiah, Auburndale, on Monday, November 22nd, at 8 p. m.

These Choristers are a group of ten boys chosen from prominent Churches of England, and brought together and especially trained in the London Choir School, founded fifteen years ago by Carlton Borrow, Associate Royal College Organist. It provides a general choir school in London, where the facilities for traditional choir school training, both educational and musical, are made available to the Parish Churches.

There are at present 125 pupils in the School ranging in age from nine to sixteen years. Ten Choristers 11 to 13 years of age were selected to visit this country. Three of the Choristers are outstanding soloists, who lead their own Parish Choirs. The education of the Choristers while on tour is under the direction of a qualified schoolmaster, and a certain portion of each day is allotted for their studies.

The Choristers' daily dress is the grey suits of the London Choir School, with School ties and caps. When they appear in the Churches, they wear red Cassock, white Surplices, white Ruffles, and Medals.

The present tour commenced in New York City, and takes the group as far west as Kansas City. The visit has a two-fold aim: firstly, to give practical expression to the feeling of amity and concord between the two great English speaking nations, England and the United States of America, and to strengthen that bond; secondly, to present in the Churches of America the traditional Choral Even-song Service, as sung each Sunday in the Cathedrals and Churches of England. The repertoire of the Choristers includes airs, duets, and Anthems in three and four-part harmony by composers of ancient and modern periods.

ing, wages and salaries were increasing and public employees were demanding commensurate advances with those in private industry. The school teachers of Newton made a determined campaign for appreciable advances, and as a result the 1919 Board of Aldermen at its last meeting on December 20 of that year recommended to the 1920 Board that a flat increase of $550 be given to 324 teachers and $750 each to about 20 teachers.

The 1920 budget figures submitted by Mayor Childs totalled $2,674,773, an increase of $678,146 over the budget of 1919. Of this huge increase $162,000 was caused by increases in teachers' salaries. The remainder of the increase was caused partly by higher salaries and wages for other city employees and partly by increased cost of materials. The Board of Aldermen reduced the Mayor's figures by $90,975. The 1920 tax-rate was $27.20, an increase of $7.40 over that of 1919. It would have been much higher but for the fact that the assessors reported an increase of $6,635,000 in real estate and $1,105,990 in personal property.

In 1921 the budget figures accepted by the Board of Aldermen totalled $2,463,000. The tax rate was reduced $3.20. In that year agitation for a zoning ordinance for Newton was the outstanding matter of public interest in the city. Also in 1921 the first determined attempt to end the long regime of Mayor Childs developed. In September the candidacy of Leon B. Rogers of West Newton was announced. Mr. Rogers had been prominent in civic affairs, notably in drives for the Red Cross and a drive to raise $80,000 for the Newton Hospital. He was a member of the Board of Aldermen, representing Ward 3. A large committee, which included prominent citizens of every Ward, was organized in Mr. Rogers' behalf.

A few weeks later, Mr. Childs announced that he would be a candidate for another term, his fifth of two years, if elected. A committee was organized to aid Mr. Childs' candidacy. It was headed by Thomas W. White of Newton Upper Falls. Mr. White had broken into the Newton Board of Aldermen some years before against the opposition of the then Republican machine of the city. Displaying ability and sagacity in the Aldermen, he had won the support of prominent Republicans in Newton, went to the Legislature and became a leader in the House of Representatives. Later he was appointed to important State positions by various Governors and became a friend and confidant of Calvin Coolidge. Mr. White was a practical politician.

The Childs committee and workers held a meeting at Newton Corner, the writer being one of those present. It was urged that active work be started at once to offset the campaigning being done for Leon Rogers. But Mr. White opposed this proposal. He favored a short, intensive campaign, and his advice was taken. In addition to supporting Mr. Childs, a slate of candidates for the Board of Aldermen was chosen. This was the first time that the Childs supporters had attempted such a move. The majority of the various Boards of Aldermen from 1914, when Mr. Childs first took office, up to and including the 1921 Board, were regarded as unfriendly in a political way to the Mayor.

The Childs slate included candidates in six of the seven Wards: William E. Earle in Ward 1, George Grebenstein in Ward 2, Smith in Ward 3, Harold Young in Ward 4, Thomas W. White in Ward 5, Arthur W. Hollis in Ward 7. For Ward Aldermen the Childs ticket backed Roy Collins in Ward 2, Harry Ross in Ward 4, and Burt Rich in Ward 7. John C. Brimbleton in the NEWTON GRAPHIC strongly urged the election of Rogers. He contended that while he admired Childs personally, he believed he had held the office of Mayor too long, and had not displayed executive ability, or efficiency as Mayor. As alleged proof of this he referred to the high estimates Mayor Childs had made in his budget recommendations in several years, and the fact that the Aldermen had saved considerable tax increases by materially reducing the budget figures. The reductions and the resultant lower tax rates they caused were—as quoted—$128,000 and $178 in 1917; $147,250 and $1.97 in 1918; $53,242 and 68 cents in 1919; $90,975 and $1.05 in 1920; $165,000 and $1.83 in 1921.

The election was held on December 13, 1921. Mr. Childs was re-elected by a large majority. He received 9062 votes to Mr. Rogers 5843. All of the candidates for Alderman-at-Large on the Childs slate were victorious. So were the pro-Childs candidates for Ward Aldermen, except in Ward 7. Among those defeated was Sinclair Weeks, who was making his entry into political life as a candidate for Alderman-at-Large from Ward 3. The Nonantum boys had a victory parade similar to the one held in 1913. Edwin O. Childs for the first time had a Board of Aldermen ready to support practically anything he recommended.

No wonder the tax burden is so high when a self-confessed murderer, whose guilt has been proved beyond the vestige of any doubt, is accorded a trial which may last two weeks and will cost the citizens many thousands of dollars.

The Duke of Windsor has taken another cropper. He and his Duchess apparently were taken for a ride in an ill-conceived publicity stunt by a wise guy who pulled a boner. The pseudo sociologists cancelled tour of America will cause disappointment to those "social leaders" of this country who planned to obtain reflected "glory" as hosts of the former King and his wife. The Duke should confine in the social sphere in which he has traveled since a boy. Neither he nor his exploiters can fool the majority of the American people.

NEWTON READY FOR WALTHAM INVASION

Coach Leary Bringing Strong Defensive Outfit

The annual Newton-Waltham battle for gridiron supremacy between the Garden City and Watch City elevens will be on in earnest at two o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Dickinson Stadium, Newtonville. These two natural rival schools should present one of the most evenly matched games of the current season and one touchdown either way or possibly the point after touchdown may decide the outcome. Coach Jack Leary of Waltham will bring an outfit which has failed to show a potent or sustained attack this fall but on the other hand has shown a defensive strength which gives them an even chance to hold off the Newton offense.

That Newton's offense is superior to that of the invaders is recognized in that the orange and black has totaled 93 points against seven opponents. Waltham's seven games has scored but 37 points. Newton's opponents have tallied 52 points while Waltham's opponents have scored but 19. One of the interesting angles to the comparison of the records of the two elevens is that Waltham has faced no team with a strong offense. The strongest attacking outfit which Coach Striborn's eleven has faced was at Brockton where 19 points were scored by the Shoe City team. Medford tallied 12 points in a last period attack against Waltham last Saturday to change defeat into a deadlock. Arlington with one touchdown is the only other team to score against Waltham this season.

Newton has won four and lost three of its games this season while the Waltham team has won two, lost one and tied four. Scoreless ties were played with Rindge, Somerville and Haverhill.

The two teams have met but two opponents, Arlington and Rindge. Newton faced Arlington in an early season game and lost 7 to 14 after the Newton outfit let down in the closing minutes of the game. Waltham faced Arlington two weeks ago and lost by a one touchdown margin 0 to 7. On this basis Newton and Waltham are tied. Rindge suffered its first defeat of the season at the hands of a steadily improving Newton team two weeks ago. In the first game of the season Rindge and Waltham played a scoreless tie before either team had begun to find itself. Although not a true comparison the Newton team should be rated as one touchdown better than Waltham on their showings against the Cambridge team.

Waltham defeated Revere by one touchdown. Everett defeated Revere by three touchdowns and Newton by one touchdown. On this basis Newton again is 1 touchdown better than Waltham. But on the other hand Waltham tied Medford and Medford tied Brockton, with the latter being two touchdowns up on Newton. This comparison makes Waltham better than Newton by two touchdowns. Other comparisons could be made to enable one to prove almost any desired outcome but in the final analysis the comparisons would not mean a thing.

It makes little difference what the two teams have done in the past, tomorrow's game is a toss-up with Newton probably being given a slight edge as the favorite. A tie for Waltham will be a morale victory for the invaders.

Newton is ready for the invasion with every man on the squad in shape for the fray. The return of several players who have been nursing bruises and minor injuries bolsters the starting and reserve teams for the fray. Waltham suffered some casualties in the Medford game which may prevent some dependables in the Waltham line-up although final reports on their presence is not available at this writing. The Newton team holds plenty of respect for Waltham but will do or die in an effort to prevent a fourth defeat in a row from the Watch City lads. The scores of previous years show that not since the period from 1906 to 1913 when Waltham hung up eight victories in a row has either team won more than twice until the past three years. Coach Sanborn took the coaching reigns at Newton in 1931 and in that time Newton has won two, tied one and lost three. Thus the Newton team will be striving to bring the Sanborn-Leary series to an even rating by knocking off the invaders.

The entire series shows a 15 to 9 margin with six tie games in the thirty games between the two. As mentioned Coach Leary's Newton team was in the 1906-13 stretch. Since the series was resumed in 1928 after a three year break the Watch City teams have a five to three margin with one tie, a scoreless affair in 1932. Last year and in 1935 Waltham overwhelmed Newton 20 to 0 and 53 to 0 with Johnny Krol the principal cog in the Waltham offense. Krol has graduated for which Newton is thankful and this season Coach Leary has searched in vain for a player of his ability. The Waltham regular backfield this year is composed of Shaughnessy at fullback, Cappadona and Poirier at the halves and Caminiti at quarterback. Furbush and Calsey as ends, Rowell and Nims at the tackle berths, Erickson and O'Connell as guards and Onemus at center are the first string Waltham line.

Coach Sanborn will probably start Castoldi at fullback, Fisher and Burns at the halves and Hines at quarterback, although weather conditions may give Fisher the chance to start in place of Fisher, Fitzgerald in place of Burns and Sohaski in Hines' berth. The first named quarter provides Newton with its best offense while the last three youths, with Castoldi at fullback make up a strong defensive group. In the line Hines and Collantonio get the call at the wing positions, Balkus and Gino Castoldi in the tackle berths, Hutchings and Captain Ted Duffy as guards and Bub Liming as the pivot.

Realtors Hold Golf Tourney at Woodland

The Newton Board of the Boston Real Estate Exchange held a golf tournament followed by a dinner at the Woodland Golf Club. There are several present from the outlying towns as well as from Boston.

The golf tournament was a kickers tournament and three prizes of golf balls were donated by Charles E. Lee. The winner of the first was John E. Mitty of Concord, the second Joshua Brown and the third Curtis Plummer. The fourth prize, a box of tees, went to Peter Turchon.

Due to a very high wind these scores were not as low as anticipated but a good time was had by all.

NEWTON ROMPS TO DEFEAT WORCESTER

Castoldi Again Stars With His Mate's Teamwork

Newton high decisively trimmed Worcester Classical on the Newtonville gridiron last Saturday, 26 to 0, to chalk up its third victory in a row and the fourth of the 1937 season to give it a shade better than an even rating for the waning schedule. Guido Castoldi again was the outstanding performer of the Newton team although his all-round play was considerably enhanced by the smooth and efficient teamwork of his ten mates. The Newton line charged low and fast to open up holes for the backs and the backs in turn gave excellent interference for the ball carrier.

The first two of four Newton touchdowns came in the second period. Castoldi took a Worcester kick on his own 35 and returned it to midfield. Hines went around end for seven yards. Castoldi went through a big hole at tackle and cut loose for the goal, only to be pulled down at the 21, a 22-yard gain. Fisher picked up three and Hines was thrown for a loss of two to make it third down and nine to go. Stan Burns faked back and tossed a forward which nestled in Castoldi's arms on the eighty-yard line and the Newton fullback went over for the opening tally. He then converted the extra point by placement.

Newton kicked off and Worcester was forced to punt as its running attack was smothered and its aerials incomplete. Trychon's punt was a beauty that rolled over the goal line into the end zone and Newton put the ball in play on the 20-yard stripe. Fisher carried through tackle and with Castoldi throwing a perfect block on a Worcester tackler, the Newton halfback was enabled to get into the clear. He cut towards the south sideline and ran the 80 yards from the scrimmage for the most spectacular touchdown of the day. Castoldi missed the try for point and at halftime the score read Newton 13, Worcester 0.

Worcester kicked off to open the third period and Newton retained possession of the ball until its third score was made. Castoldi returned the kickoff to his 35. Burns with seven yards and Robey with an 11-yard gain made it first down in Worcester territory. With Robey doing most of the carrying, the Newton team rolled along for two more first downs to the Worcester 25. A two-yard gain by Burns and a Burns to Hines pass put the pigskin on the 12-yard line. Burns gained half of the remaining distance and then Robey rammed his way through for the touchdown. Again Castoldi's try for the point failed.

With a team of Newton reserves on the field, the fourth touchdown came late in the final quarter. Newton recovered a Worcester fumble near the middle, Sohaski made a nice gain to the 34 and a long pass from Coletti to Manchester was completed for a 25-yard gain to the Worcester nine-yard line. Two plays netted five yards and after a pass was incomplete, Worcester took the ball on downs and the Newton march was halted. An attempted pass from the end zone was intercepted by Manchester. He fumbled when tackled and Coletti recovered to give Newton another chance from the 12-yard line. Lowry carried for three rushes to finally cross the line. Pailier plunged beyond for the extra point to make the score 26 to 0. A few plays later the game ended after Worcester had failed to gain materially following the kickoff and Trychon punted to Coletti.

Although decisively defeated the visiting Worcester aggregation threatened to score on several occasions and their deceptive attack gave the spectators many a thrill. Receiving the opening kickoff the ball carrier faked running the ball and decoyed many of the Newton players out of position. He then passed to a teammate who swept around the end for a 40-yard return cross midfield into Newton territory. Fullback Trychon, who was outstanding for the visitors throughout the game, picked up seven yards in three plays and then kicked to the Newton 16 yard line. Castoldi fumbled to give Worcester a grand opportunity but a Worcester fumble, returning the compliment, returned the ball to Newton's possession. After picking up a first down near midfield Newton punted. Several exchanges of punts saw neither team threatening although a Fitzgerald to Paglia stripe to the Worcester 10-yard stripe missed completion by the barest of margins. As the period ended Worcester had put the ball in play on their 20-yard line following a punt by Fitzgerald into the end zone.

Castoldi took Trychon's kick early after a couple of plays in the second session and Newton marched for its first score. A few plays later Fisher romped for the second tally and for the remainder of the half neither team was able to make much progress and several exchanges of punts followed.

From the opening kickoff of the third period the ball was in local possession until the third touchdown was scored. Then Worcester took the aggressive. Starting from the kickoff Trychon making two good gains of 25 and 8 yards. An O'Donnell to Trychon pass clocked for seven more. A pass by Modzelewski was intercepted by Chesaron on the Newton 15 and a possible score was averted.

A team of Newton reserves started the fourth period and after several exchanges of punts Newton got its chance to score a fourth tally after recovering a Worcester fumble on the Worcester side of midfield as already described.

Nov. 14-20 Designated as National Milk Week

November 14 to 20 has been set aside as National Milk Week. The Newton Health Department heartily subscribes to this effort to publicize the use of milk not during Milk Week alone but during every day of the year.

The citizens of Newton consume on a daily average 32,000 quarts of milk which is less than a pint per capita and insufficient to maintain health at its highest standard. There is no food available which contributes so much to the growth, development, and maintenance of good health as milk. Without milk or milk products it is impossible to design a diet adequate in bone and tooth building calcium. Milk also furnishes the best type of protein for tissue growth and repair. Milk should be considered as a food rather than as a beverage and in times like the present, of high prices for other food products, should be included regularly in the menu in the form of cream soups, chowders, and puddings.

Every child in Newton should have at least a quart of milk a day and the minimum for an adult should be a pint. Modern nutrition research has proved beyond the shadow of a doubt that adequate amounts of milk represent an economy because of resulting health and vigor.

Citizens of Newton should avail themselves of the opportunity offered by National Milk Week to learn more of the importance of this vital food and to become familiar with new methods of preparing menus which include milk.

N'ville Playground Seems Assured

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night a long, secret discussion was held by the Board on the matter of acquiring about 17 acres of land at Newtonville as a playground. The area, known as the Schofield estate, is bounded by Albemarle rd., Watertown and Crafts sts., and has been used as part of the Albemarle Golf Club links.

A determined movement has been underway the past three years by residents of the nearby district to have this land acquired. It will serve not only as a playground for the section, but also for the pupils who attend the Horace Mann and F. A. Day Schools. Mayor Childs has recommended the acquisition of the property and City Solicitor Bartlett has been negotiating with the owners. It is also being urged that the city take a large area of land on the north-east side of Crafts st., also used as a golf links, and combine them.

Newton Corner To Get Parking Space

The serious lack of parking facilities, which for the past 25 years has contributed to the decline of Newton Corner as a business section, probably will soon be a thing of the past. For several months Phillips Byfield, agent of the R. C. Taylor Trust in Newton has been endeavoring to effect an agreement between the City of Newton and the Taylor Trust whereby an area of about 28,000 square feet at Pearl ct., between Washington and Pearl st., will be leased by the city for a public parking area, and which will accommodate between 150 and 200 cars. The plan was to have the city pay a yearly lease to the Taylor estate of about $189, the amount of taxes on the land to be used. The Taylor estate ordered a number of tenants occupying six tenement dwellings on the property to move, as the buildings are to be razed. Some of the people who have had to vacate, have lived in the houses for 25 and 30 years.

Some of the Aldermen were at first opposed to the plan, but it is understood that a big majority of the Board is now in favor of the project. Mayor Childs has hesitated to commit the city to the project since it became known that an expense, variously estimated at from $2500 to $3500 will be entailed in grading and surfacing the area. However, the Mayor states that he is anxious to procure the parking space, and will co-operate in the reaching of an agreement which will be accepted by the Taylor estate and which will protect the interests of the city. It is understood that the city will receive a 5 years lease.

Husking Bee Marks Community Chest Triumphal Close

More than 1000 of Newton's "Good Neighbors" gathered at the West Newton Armory Tuesday night for the old-fashioned husking bee which celebrated the triumphal close of the intensive period of the Newton Community Chest Campaign for $12,305. Amid the cheers of the assembled workers Campaign Director A. Leslie Harwood, Jr. announced "We have 98 per cent of our goal in hand and definite assurances of getting the balance within a few days. We can be sure that during the coming year Newton's less fortunate citizens will be cared for. We can be very proud of Newton."

Campaign officials all appeared in rustic costumes and old fashioned dancing was enjoyed throughout the evening. A gigantic thermometer erected on the stage recorded the progress of campaign returns. John M. Bierer, dressed as a country squire, acted as master of ceremonies and announced the returns. Mayor Edwin O. Childs, in blue jeans and wide-brimmed hat, competed with Director Harwood, arrayed as a lumberjack, in the husking bee.

Campaign officials state that a number of villages have not yet completed their canvasses and that the solicitors will continue their work for a few days longer. Contributors who have not been called upon are urged to send their pledges to the Newton Community Chest, 93 Union st., Newton Centre. The percentages of quotas reached Tuesday night were as follows: Auburndale 104, Chestnut Hill 90, Newton 104, Newton Centre 97, Newton Highlands 100, Lower Falls 100, Upper Falls 100, Newtonville 94, Nonantum 117, Oak Hill 115, Waban 102, Waban Hill 100, West Newton 100, Business Division 90, Women's Division 109, Municipal Division 77.

Approach of Election Stirs Interest—Hill, Lyon, Cronin and Melcher to Retire—Everts and Ashenden Wd. 2 Candidates

With the definite assurance that neither Alderman Albert M. Lyon nor Donald M. Hill of Newtonville would be candidates for re-election comes the announcement of the candidacies of Albert P. Everts as Alderman-at-Large and Richard C. Ashenden as Ward Alderman from Ward 2. Mr. Lyon has served the city for more than 20 years in several positions, a member of the school committee, member of the Planning Board, and for the past three years as a member of the Board of Aldermen. A year ago Mr. Lyon, then Alderman-at-Large, was desirous of retiring from public service but was prevailed upon to serve as Ward Alderman during 1936. Mr. Hill, vice-president of the Board, served as Ward Alderman for four years and Alderman-at-Large the past two years. Mr. Everts, who is a candidate for the seat held by Hill, has been a resident of Newton since 1919. He was born in Philadelphia on Aug. 6, 1887, and graduated from Harvard in 1910. He is a partner in the firm of Paine, Webber Co., becoming associated with that investment house in 1908. He was chairman of the Association of Boston Stock Exchange Firms during 1931 and 1932; director of the Portland Gas Light Co., and the Boston Better Business Bureau; chairman of the finance committee of the New England Baptist Hospital, New England Home for Little Wanderers and Baptist Home of Massachusetts. He is a member of the Charles River Country Club, which he served as treasurer from 1928 to 1936, University Club, Tennis and Badminton, Exchange, and Harvard Clubs. He served as a governor of the Investment Bankers Association (national) from 1932 to 1935 and as vice-president in 1935-1936. He is also a trustee of the Roxbury Latin School and a member of the First Baptist Church of Newton at Newton Centre. The Everts family residence is at 114 Kirk-stall road, Newtonville. He has three children, Carolyn, a junior at Mt. Holyoke and a graduate of Newton High School in 1935; Albert P. Jr., a junior at Newton High, and Nelson, a pupil at the Clafin Grammar School. Our Jeddo-Highland customers have learned a good deal about coal. They may have once called up a coal dealer and asked for "a couple of tons of hard coal." But not any more. For while all coal may look alike, it's a different story in the heating plant.

It's the carbon in coal that makes the heat and Jeddo-Highland is practically pure carbon. . . Our customers found out that it's the cheapest coal to buy because a ton lasts much longer.

Why don't you order Jeddo-Highland today?

Only Authorized Agents can sell you genuine Jeddo-Highland Coal. A Certification Stamp with each ton is your protection. Order yours today.

Fined $35 For Reckless Driving

Robert C. Brown of 6 Emerson st., Stoneham was fined $35 by Judge Allen in the Newton court on Monday for driving a car so as to endanger the lives of the public. On September 30 a car driven by Brown hit a car driven by John O'Brien of Grampian Way, Dorchester at the intersection of Chestnut and Prince sts., West Newton. Six persons were injured in the crash. One of the victims, Anna Rose, a nurse at the Taunton State Hospital, had her pelvis fractured and is still a patient at the Newton Hospital. Brown testified that he stopped his car before entering the intersection. This testimony was refuted by Mary Brock who was riding with O'Brien. She testified that after the accident she heard Brown say at the Newton Hospital that he had not stopped, although there is a Stop sign at the intersection.

Woman Assaulted At Chestnut Hill

A woman, who identified herself as Mrs. Dorothy Jones, 33, of Third st., Providence, was found badly beaten near the junction of the Worcester Turnpike and Hammond Pond Parkway on Sunday morning shortly after 10. A passing motorist observed the woman standing in a dazed condition on the sidewalk and notified the police. Patrolmen Hoyt and Taffe took her to the Newton Hospital. She told the police that she had spent the morning riding with a man from Taunton, N. Y. Near the spot where she was found, she said that she resisted advances he made, and that her escort then beat her both with his fists and the handle of an automobile jack. She gave the police the name of her alleged assailant.

Life Sentence For Girl's Assailant

Clifford Munroe, Jr., 22, of Winchester, New Hampshire, who on the night of October 18 kidnapped and attacked Miss Mildred Marcy near Greenfield, was sentenced to serve a life sentence in State Prison on Monday. The sentence was imposed by Judge Thomas Hammond in the Greenfield Superior Court. Miss Marcy, a former resident of Newton Upper Falls, and for four years a teacher at Northfield, was forced by Munroe to accompany him when he pointed a revolver at her. Munroe was given a mental test and was found to be mentally and intellectually responsible.

Aged N'ville Man Victim of Hit-Run

John E. Frost, 84, of 52 Clyde st., Newtonville was hit on Saturday night while crossing Walnut st., Newtonville by a hit-run driver. Mr. Frost was on his way home from his office at 246 Walnut st., when he was struck. He was found lying on the street by Patrolmen Leehan and Purcell about 10 o'clock, and taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance. He received a fractured shoulder blade, fractured ribs, concussion of the brain and cuts on the head. For many years Mr. Frost has been Warden at Prison 3 of Ward 2.

Refuse Permits For Gasoline Stations

The Board of Aldermen on Monday night refused petitions for three proposed gasoline stations. Two were from the Sun Oil Company which seeks to establish stations at 325 Boylston st. (the turnpike) at Thompsonville, and at 2076-2082 Commonwealth ave., Auburndale. Alderman Colby, chairman of the Licenses Committee said the Oak Hill Improvement Asso. and about fifteen neighbors had opposed the proposed Boylston st. station. He said the Worcester turnpike is a superhighway, built to speed traffic, and the tendency has been to keep business off it. Regarding the station asked for at Auburndale, Colby said that a delegation favoring it had come to a meeting of the Licenses Committee, and this delegation included former Aldermen Gordon and Holden who argued the gasoline station at the locus in question would improve the village. On the other hand, Colby said attention had been given to the fact that there is a traffic signal at the street intersection near the proposed station site, and two of the Ward 4 Aldermen had opposed the petition. He said he would have favored it, had any other Alderman done likewise.

The third petition was from Anna Lombardo who asked for a station permit at 238 California st., Nonantum. Alderman Colby said the committee turned down this petition because 25 neighbors had objected to it, several deaths have occurred the past two years from fatal automobile accidents on California st., and there is a playground in the vicinity.

Waban Burglar Gets Leniency

Seymour Delaney, 24, of Mount Pleasant st., Somerville, was found guilty in the Middlesex Superior court on Monday of committing a burglary at the home of Mrs. Timothy D. Sullivan, 750 Chestnut st., Waban, on May 31. Delaney was captured by Patrolman Dalton after a short chase. His companions in the burglary made their escape. For this crime Judge John Swift gave Delaney a suspended two years' sentence to Concord prison. Delaney also pleaded guilty to a burglary at the home of Clinton McCarthy, 26 Tamworth rd., Waban. Judge Swift, at a jury waived session, allowed Delaney to retract his plea, and plead not guilty. Judge Swift then found Delaney not guilty because he ruled that a camera stolen from the McCarthy home, and found in Delaney's car, was not sufficient evidence.

Kiwanis Club

Mr. Bean of the Curtis Publishing Co. presented a very fine talk on the workings of the Saturday Evening Post at the weekly meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club on Tuesday, November 16, 1937, at the Charles River Country Club.

He explained by illustrated charts the workings of the organization. There are four vital elements in the production of the Post, manufacture, editorial, advertising and circulation.

Under the manufacturing comes the plant itself, its tremendous presses, its engravers, printers, artists and the intricate machinery which produces the four color sheets so finely done in the Post.

The editorial section embraces all of the articles, short stories, serials and comments. Many of the serials which appear in the Post are later published in book form and become best sellers. More of the stories eventually find their way into the movies, in fact, several of the stories from the Post are now in production in Hollywood.

The advertising section of the Post is justly famous all over the country. Its costs about $11,500 for a full-page four color ad in the Post and this seems rather high until you consider that on the basis of paid circulation, the cost to the advertiser per copy is less than two-fifths of one cent.

Circulation is the final and one of the most important steps, in that it directly affects the ultimate reader. If all of the Posts for one issue were stacked one on top of the other they would be higher than Mount Everest.

The annual election for club officers showed that Archie C. Bellinger, the present First Vice President, will be the next President; Walter Finlay, the present Second Vice President, becomes First Vice President; Jack Janse becomes Second Vice President and George White continues as Treasurer.

The Directors will be Charles Barrows, Wilfred Chagnon, Raymond Green, Edward E. Hickey, Haydn Morgan, Burt M. Rich and Charles A. Weatherbee.

Members of the Newton Community Club are looking forward to the unusual opportunity offered to them to secure attractive and altogether "different" Christmas Gifts at a Festival and Silver-Tea arranged by the Education committee, Mrs. Burdett P. Mansfield, chairman. Mrs. Le Sourd is giving a percentage of the proceeds to the Scholarship Fund of the Club, which is under the direction of the Education committee, so that members in attending this event are assisting in securing the necessary fund for the Scholarship, as well as obtaining unusual gifts for their friends and enjoying a social afternoon in the Tea.

Tea Talk, At Home, Delightful Events

The Woman's Club of Newton Highlands held a most enjoyable meeting on Tuesday, the 16th, in the Workshop, under the sponsorship of the American Home and Art committees. Grace Lyman Stammers gave "An Old-fashioned Tea Talk," describing dainty tea-cups, lace-cup-plates, tea-caddy guardians of precious green and golden tea, shining tea and caddy spoons; the Tea-Party that started a war, and, in fact, all that pertains to tea. There was a most fascinating Exhibit of tea-cups, silver, kettles, pots, pewter, spoons, trays, and caddies lent by members to illustrate the talk and Mrs. Stammers explained all she could about them.

There was also a brief talk on the possibility of forming an antique Study Group.

Members of the American Home and Art committee, Mrs. Elwood I. Clapp, chairman, gown in old-fashioned style, served tea. Mrs. Alexander I. Peckham, second vice-president, and Mrs. Robert S. Austin, recording secretary presided at the tea-table.

Announcement was made of a series of Talks on Books and current Plays by Mrs. Lyman Stammers, at 10 a. m. in the Workshop on the following dates: November 23rd, December 21st, February 8th. Admission to the series will be $1.00 for Club members, or 50 cents for a single lecture; for non-members $1.25 for the series, and 60 cents for one lecture.

Mrs. Louis H. Marshall spoke urging support of the Red Cross and also outlined the plans of the Safety Council which has been recently organized. On Friday, November 12th, from 2 to 5 p. m., the Club held the first "At Home" in the Workshop. Club members brought their knitting, darning, or bridge cards. There was no program, but those who attended had a pleasurable informal meeting with fel-at 1:30 p. m., Mrs. Walter L. Muldoon and Mrs. Fred M. Shaw presided at the tea-table, which was distinctively decorated with large bunches of purple and white grapes alternating down the entire length.

Newton Centre Junior Club

The Newton Centre Junior Club held an International Relations Dinner-meeting at the Club House on Tuesday evening, November 9th. Seventy-one members and guests were present for the dinner and program of colored motion pictures of the Club members as they appeared at the June Garden Party and Luncheon held in the garden of Mrs. Austin C. Benton.

Motion pictures of the English Coronation were shown. A talk on "England Today" was given by Mr. William W. Gallagher. Miss Martha Wright, reporting on the splendid success of the First Annual Ball given by the State Junior Clubs, said that the Newton Centre Junior Club sold $45.00 worth of tickets, the second largest amount sold by any one Junior Club.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Mr. Cheney Jones, head of The Home for Little Wanderers, was the speaker at the Newtonville Woman's Club, on Wednesday afternoon, November 10th. He was presented by Mrs. George W. Hinman, chairman of the American Home committee, in the second of its programs.

In discussing "The Awkward Situation for Children" the subject of his talk, Mr. Jones stated that as he sees it, all children are born into the world facing an awkward situation, and it is the duty of the parent to lessen and change this for him. When for some reason the parent is unable to do so, a social agency must attempt to make the adjustment. He gave several case histories from his own group. And he ended by saying that the two greatest things that the parent, the family, and society can do are to give the child appreciation and sympathy.

Tea was served in the Social Hall after the meeting.

Members of the Newtonville Woman's Club were entertained delightfully, on Tuesday afternoon, November 16th, by the songs of Angus Ross, in his Scotch kilts and cap, who was accompanied at the piano, by Mrs. Ross.

Professor Wayland Vaughan, having as his subject, "The Unemployment of Intelligence," pointed out many and varied ways in which men and women think unintelligently, some because of stubbornness and prejudice, others through religious fervor and patriotic zeal, all so misdirected, that where intelligence should be employed, there is unemployment of intelligence.

After the meeting the members and guests were invited to view the Antique Exhibit in the Art Gallery, where tea was served by the Art committee.

The varied and interesting exhibit included daguerotypes lent by Mrs. Walter Allen, Mrs. Fred Daniels, Mrs. Laura Hudson, Mrs. Frederick Ried, and Mrs. Mossman; a silver snuffbox, shoe buckle, and gilt belt, by Miss Sadie Melzard; a Godey and French Print by Mrs. Hubert Ripley; and a paisley shawl, coin collection, and albums, by Mrs. Fred Daniels. On the small tables there were displayed attractively Early American articles by Mrs. Edward Fales, Mrs. Perez Howard, Mrs. McCrea, and Mrs. Eliot. Old family portraits, old mirrors, and silhouettes, by Miss Mary Rolfe; lace scarfs, by Mrs. Spence and Mrs. Abrams; and etchings by Marjorie I. Prescott, covered the wall-space effectively.

All the articles in the exhibit came from the homes of Club members, and the committee wishes to thank those who contributed and who gave such a fascinating glimpse into the atmosphere of a past age.

Waban Woman's Club

Branson de Cou, noted traveller and lecturer, who has appeared before many Newton Women's Clubs during the past few years, in programs of beautiful pictures, presented his very latest Dream Pictures of the Hawaiian Islands before the Waban Woman's Club on Monday, November 15th, at 2:30 o'clock, in the Waban Neighborhood Club House. Mr. de Cou returned only recently from abroad, and this was one of the very earliest showings of his new pictures.

A social hour under the direction of Mrs. Irving W. Townsend, Jr., followed the program. Tea was served with Mrs. J. Earle Parker and Mrs. George F. Rheinhardt the pourers.

Mayor won out, and his appointment of Chadwick was confirmed. The latter resigned in 1931 on demand of Mayor Weeks. In 1924 President Hollis of the Board of Aldermen was not a candidate for reelection and Alderman White was elected President of the 1925 Board.

Mayor Childs' budget estimates for 1925 were $3,440,253 and the Aldermen reduced these figures to $3,290,610, a large increase over the preceding year. The tax rate continued the same as in 1924, $27.40, although property values in the city increased $8,000,000 over the preceding year. During the year the Aldermen voted to establish single residence zones in Newton and the Mayor agreed to the change. The Mayor and some of the Aldermen who so voted had strongly opposed such a restriction in 1922.

In the NEWTON PROGRESS on April 30, 1925, the writer referred to the Mayorality situation in Newton and mentioned the prospective candidates as Mayor Childs and Aldermen Heathcote, Hollis, Weeks and White. We commented that Childs had made a practice of not stating until near election time whether or not he would be a candidate for reelection. The article stated that a report was being circulated that the Mayor would be offered some good public office and that if he accepted it, Alderman White would then become acting Mayor, thus putting him in a strong position at the election the coming December. Mayor Childs was quoted as saying, however, that the people had elected him for 2 years and he would serve that term out. The article commented that when a man had served as Mayor for 12 years, more and more persons would become disgruntled, but the Mayor had the faculty of making enough new friends to offset those who had become politically unfriendly to him.

Early in September of 1925 the suggestion became current throughout the city that Mayor Childs would accept the position of Librarian at the Newton Public Library where he would receive an annual salary of $4000 instead of the $3000 he received as Mayor. The following week the Mayor ended the rumors that he would accept the librarian job or any other desirable appointive position by announcing that he would again run for reelection as Mayor. A few weeks later Alderman Heathcote removed himself as a candidate by announcing that he would support Childs. On October 17 Alderman White was appointed Collector of Internal Revenue and some days later announced that he would not be a candidate either for Mayor or reelection as Alderman. Late in October Alderman Weeks said he would not run for Mayor that year. John H. O'Neill, a Newton lawyer, had announced his candidacy for Mayor, and John Brimblecom again became a sacrificial candidate.

The breach which started between Mayor Childs and Alderman White in 1923 had widened. On October 23, 1925 Mr. White addressed a meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club on the subject—"How the City of Newton Ought To Be Run." He said—"The position of Mayor of Newton is not a job; it is simply an honorable opportunity for temporary public service." Mr. White explained he had the deepest personal friendship for Mayor Childs, who is a lovable character, a high type of citizen, and whose private life is above reproach. Mr. White then commented that the Mayor was responsible for the administration of the city's affairs, but that too frequently he followed the line of least resistance, recommended nearly everything, and passed the burden to the Board of Aldermen. He said a Mayor should be able to definitely say "Yes" or "No," as conditions require. He asserted that some department heads had been allowed too much authority, with resultant increase in costs and lack of morale, and that discipline was almost an unknown factor. After making suggestions for improvements in the conducting of various city departments, Mr. White concluded by saying that—"the need of Newton today is for an administration led by a mayor with the courage and ability to conduct its affairs in such a manner, that although during his administration he could not hope to be popular, he would place the city on a business basis."

On November 30, 1925 a Childs rally was held in the Nonantum A. A. hall at Nonantum. Mr. Childs said that Mr. Brimblecom had never seen any good in him, had never approved any act of his, and that anyone who held such bitter feelings against anyone who differed from him, as did Mr. Brimblecom, was not fit to be Mayor. Childs said that he had been mayor 12 years, the spotlight had been constantly focused on him, and nothing that he had done had been found dishonest. Mr. Childs referred to another of his critics and made a derogatory personal reference regarding that critic, which was quite in contrast to the laudatory remarks the person in question had made concerning Mr. Childs. The Mayor refuted the accusation that Newton had not been efficiently conducted by telling of its excellent financial standing as compared with other cities. He concluded his listeners that within the past few months Governor Felt had offered him a position which would pay him 2½ times the salary he was receiving as Mayor. Referring to the speech delivered by Alderman White before the West Newton Women's Educational Club, Mayor Childs indulged in vitriolic criticism of the man who managed his campaign in 1921.

In the NEWTON GRAPHIC on December 4, 1925, was a letter from Mr. White replying to Mr. Childs. Mr. White opened his letter by saying—"I am informed through the press that the Little Mayor in talking through his 'Little Black Derby' at a rally in Nonantum devoted himself to personalities. Suggestion is made that if there is any sincerity or gratitude in the makeup of the Mayor, he consult his favorite companions, and balance the book of obligations as between himself and the writer (Mr. White). Let him discuss public questions and issues, and not indulge in Biblical quotations, glittering generalities and sermons subtly drawn to Mother Hubbard the particular type of gathering addressed."

Mr. White continued the letter by specifying a number of matters which he alleged proved incompetency during the preceding few years of Mayor Childs' administration.

The election was held on December 8, 1925 and Mr. Childs won another overwhelming victory. He received nearly three times the vote cast for both his opponents. After twelve years in the office of Mayor, Mr. Childs' popularity had not waned.

State Inspectors After Auto Owners With Paying Riders

Inspector Harold McKelvey of the State Department of Insurance is making a drive in Newton against owners of automobiles who carry paying passengers. He has been carrying on similar activities in nearby cities for some time, and has obtained the co-operation of local police in this matter. In Newton, as all over Massachusetts and other States, owners of automobiles registered as private vehicles, have been carrying neighbors or fellow workers to and from their places of employment for compensation.

Mr. McKelvey calls attention to the following law governing this matter:—"Any private passenger automobile, station cars, Beverly body or beach wagon used to carry passengers for hire, and registered for carrying passengers for hire, if used by the owner for transportation to and from a place of employment and at the same time, used to carry fellow employees or others to and from, or near, their place of employment—

"If used by employer for transportation of persons in his employ to and from their place of employment, or for the transportation of such persons as aforesaid, and the occasional transportation of other persons who may ride at the same time, if used regularly to carry passengers, shall be classified as private livery, and the compulsory premium charge shall be the same as the premium charge for private livery."

"If your private passenger automobile is used to carry passengers for hire, and is not insured properly to do so, you have violated the terms of your compulsory policy, and you are liable to reimburse your insurance company for any payment made by the company on your behalf."

"If you are carrying passengers for hire without the proper insurance, go to your company or agent, and secure that type of insurance which will permit you to carry passengers for hire legally."

A private passenger automobile is defined as follows: Any automobile of the private passenger type used for pleasure and—or business—purposes, but not used for (1) renting or livery work or the carrying of passengers for hire, or (2) the business of demonstrating or testing.

Any passenger riding in such a car, should an accident occur, has no protection whatsoever. This law has been in existence ever since the state of Massachusetts had automobile insurance laws. A complete checkup is being made at all factories and places of business, throughout the district; and those who are caught in the check-up will be haled into court, their registration plates may be revoked by the insurance company; and there is liability of a fine. Notices to this effect are being posted in the places of business.

Traffic Officer Slightly Hurt

Motorcycle Officer William Dowling was slightly injured on Monday afternoon while assisting inspectors from the Registry of Motor Vehicles in checking automobiles on Washington st., West Newton. He stopped a car driven by Ethel Griswold of the Newton Hospital, because the tail light on her car was out. He ordered her to pull over to the curb, and as Miss Griswold started her car one of Dowling's gloves caught in a door handle, throwing him to the street. He received bruises on his right arm and shoulder.

Snatch Thieves At Newton Hlds.

As Mrs. Ralph Thurston of 201 Winslow rd., Waban, was walking near the corner of Lincoln and Woodward sts., Newton Highlands, about 5 o'clock on Monday afternoon, an old truck stopped alongside of her. One of the two apologies for men in the truck alighted, snatched Mrs. Thurston's handbag from the baby-carriage she was pushing, and then pulled a couple of the wheels off the baby-carriage so that Mrs. Thurston was delayed in reporting the robbery.

on Sept. 16, 1884, and moved to Newton in 1892. He was educated in the Newton schools and Mass. Inst. of Tech. He married Miss Grace E. Chadwick, daughter of Nelson H. Chadwick, a former Alderman of Newton, and a member of the State Legislature from this city, in 1908. They have two children, Richard C., a graduate of M. I. T., and Marjorie, now attending Stoneleigh College. Mr. Ashenden is president of the L. L. Rowe Co., manufacturers of soda fountain apparatus, and president of the Boston Nickel Plating Co. He is a member of Central Congregational Church, the American Electroplaters Society, Brae Burn Country Club and the Board of Managers of the Employers' Association of Eastern Massachusetts. He served as captain and major in Community Chest drives in recent years. The Ashenden residence is at 95 Fair Oaks ave. The candidacy of Mr. Ashenden is seen as a return to the unwritten agreement that one of the three Aldermen from Ward 2 shall reside in that section of the Ward. For the past two years all of the Ward 2 Aldermen have resided in the southern part of Newtonville.

Alderman Cronin Not a Candidate

Alderman Dennis M. Cronin of Auburndale has announced that he will not be a candidate for another term at the coming election. He has been a member of the Board of Aldermen for five years; three as Ward Alderman from Ward 4, and the past two as Alderman-at-Large from that Ward. Instead of running for another term as Alderman, Mr. Cronin states that he will seek the Democratic nomination next year as candidate for Congress from the 9th District, which includes Newton.

John A. Duane of 216 River st., West Newton has announced that he will again be a candidate for Alderman-at-Large from Ward 4. He is engaged in the grocery and market business and was a candidate for the office last year against Charles B. Floyd, Melbourne W. Hemen, Jr., of 100 Concord st., Newton Lower Falls, has announced that he will be a candidate for Ward Alderman from Ward 4. He will oppose Alderman George A. Bacon. The Ward 4 Democratic Committee has endorsed the candidacies of Mr. Duane and Mr. Hemen.

Lockwood To Run To Succeed Melcher As Alderman

Theodore R. Lockwood of 74 Elm-hurst rd., Newton, at the request of friends, has consented to become a candidate to succeed James B. Melcher as Ward Alderman from Ward 7. Mr. Melcher, who is serving his fourth year as a member of the Board, will not be a candidate for re-election. Mr. Lockwood was born in Boston 50 years ago and has been a resident of this city for 45 years. He is a graduate of English High School and for the past 30 years has been affiliated with the Laco Products, Inc., of Waltham, of which he is vice president. He is married and has one daughter.

Judge Beaudreau Rules for City on Dedham St. Trucks

The long drawn out litigation between the City of Newton and the Highland Sand & Gravel Company entered into another phase the past week when Judge Raoul Beaudreau of the Superior Court accepted the findings of the master who was appointed to study the matter of a traffic ordinance passed last year by the Board of Aldermen which prohibits heavy trucking on Dedham st., Oak Hill. The ordinance was passed in an effort to prevent continued operation of the big gravel pit at Oak Hill after the Board of Aldermen two years ago had refused to renew the permit for the use of buildings and equipment at the pit under the nonconforming proviso of the zoning ordinance. George Wilbur, principal owner of the gravel business involved, obtained an injunction 2 years ago preventing the City of Newton from preventing him from continuing to operate the equipment and structures at the pit off Dedham st. When this injunction was kept in force indefinitely, the Aldermen then resorted to the traffic ordinance to stop the big gravel trucks from using Dedham st. Wilbur then obtained another injunction which has since nullified the traffic restriction. Although the master appointed to consider the legality of the act of the 1935 Board of Aldermen in refusing to grant another continuance of the nonconforming use of the gravel pit, made a report favorable to the city many months ago, no decision has since been rendered on this question by the Superior Court judge to whom the master reported, and Wilbur continues to operate the pit in the face of the city government's action. Judge Beaudreau's ruling on the traffic ordinance is as follows: "I find and rule that the passage of this ordinance is not unreasonable, arbitrary or discriminatory, that it is not a special regulation within the meaning of the General Laws, Chapter 90, Section 18; and that it was within the power of the Board of Aldermen of Newton to enact the same."

Wilbur has taken an appeal to the Supreme Court, the gravel business will continue at the big, denuded area at Oak Hill, and trucking will continue on Dedham st.

Dewey To Run In Ward Three

Frank S. Dewey, Jr., of 46 Wedgewood rd., West Newton, will be a candidate for Ward Alderman from Ward 3. Mr. Dewey is an attorney at law and has been a resident of West Newton for 7 years. He is a graduate of Boston University School of Business Administration, and the Suffolk Law School, and he took a course at the General Electric Company Executive Training School. Mr. Dewey was born in Marlboro 33 years ago, is married and has two children.

bine the two areas for use as a public golf course. Mayor Childs has also recommended that the city purchase a cement-block structure adjoining the Hawthorn Playground for use as a community building in connection with the playground. It would contain shower baths and toilet facilities. The building is valued at $8000 and had been used for manufacturing purposes.

No Licenses For Newton Drug Stores

The sale of alcoholic liquors in Newton drug stores will be largely curtailed as a result of the instruction of the Newton License Commission by the State Alcoholic Beverage Commission that the local Board has no authority to grant such licenses. Last November Newton voted "No" on the referendum permitting the sale of all alcoholic beverages in this city. It voted "Yes" on permitting the sale of all alcoholic beverages in packages. According to the State A. B. C. drug stores cannot be licensed in Newton as package stores, and can only sell liquor on prescriptions under the Federal laws. This ruling came from the Attorney General's office and is based on a court decision. There are about 35 drug stores in the Newtons and only 10 of these had licenses issued by the local board. It was alleged some months ago by the owner of a Newton package store that unlicensed drug stores in Newton had been trafficking in liquor.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

NEWTON SWAMPS WATCH CITY ELEVEN IN RAIN

Newton High's smoothly rolling football team battled wind, rain, mud and Waltham High to swamp the visiting aggregation at Dickinson stadium last Saturday, 26 to 6. The victory ended a three-year winning streak on the part of the Watch City lads and brought Sanborn coached Newton teams to an even rating of three wins, three losses and one tie.

Although Waltham capitalized on a break in the first few minutes of play to take a 6 to 0 lead it did not take the 3000 or less pneumonia-braving spectators to realize that the orange and black would ultimately wave victorious. The Waltham score came on the first Newton punt which was blocked by right end Charley Furbush. Walter Cox, left end, co-operated with his wingmate beautifully in grabbing the bounding oval and racing 17 yards to score. Butch Burns, Newton punter, was the only home player to have a chance at the fleeing Cox but was outrun to the corner of the field. Burns dive for the Cox's heels missed by less than six inches. A pass for the point, Caminiti to Furbush, was too far for completion. An exchange of kicks following the ensuing kickoff and Newton started a drive from mid-field. Two first downs. Hines left end swept for 11 yards being the feature, and four downs gave Waltham the ball on their 19 as Robey's fourth down plunged was shy a foot of the necessary yardage. Failing to gain Waltham punted with Shaughnessy's boot into the east wind going outside at the Waltham 44. Two plays netting but slight yardage Burns dropped back in punt formation. Instead of kicking he faded back tossed to the right and passed to Collantonio. The Newton right end had got beyond the Waltham secondary and raced into the clear to the left. Leaping into the air he clasped the ball to him right in stride. Shaughnessy, Waltham safety, raced over from the middle of the field to force Collantonio out of bounds at the four yard line. The gain was exactly 26 yards. One blast at right tackle by Castoldi and Robey, Newton touchdown tied the score. Castoldi then coolly booted the pigskin between the uprights for a perfect conversion of the winning point. As the first period ended Bob Liming, Newton centre, recovered a Waltham fumble by Cappadona on the Waltham 21 to put Newton in scoring position again.

It took eight plays in the second period before the score went to 13 to 6. Fisher picked up one yard, Castoldi 6 and Fisher 5 more for first down on the Waltham 9. Fitzgerald 2nd Fisher for two each and Castoldi for 3 brought it to the 2 and on fourth down Waltham was offside. The resulting penalty gave Newton another shot from the one yard line and Castoldi burst through his left for the tally. He missed the try for point. Shaughnessy's kick to the Newton 9 yard line came a few plays later and Newton was on the defensive. Furbush raced in twice to nail Castoldi for losses putting Newton back within two yards of the goal. Both sides were offside on a Fitzgerald punt and the latter's second effort went outside at the Newton 22. Two passes were incomplete with Sohaski just deflecting the second toss an instant before it reached its intended destination saved Newton as a bad pass from centre gave Newton the ball on the Newton 42. Another exchange of kicks saw the end of the half with Newton in possession of the ball on their own 30-yard stripe.

It was mostly Waltham in the third period with the visitors threatening to score. Castoldi fumbled the opening kickoff and Dick Johnstone recovered for Waltham at the Newton 17 to give the visitors another break. A 5-yard penalty sent Newton back to the line but after two shots at the Newton line Poirier failed and Collantonio saved Newton's bacon. Newton marched to a first down through Robey's efforts but then Hines was forced to run back towards his goal trying to elude Waltham tacklers. He was finally downed for a 20-yard loss three yards from the goal line. Burns punt carried out to the Newton 35 yard stripe. Cappadona carried off a reverse play through left tackle for nine yards and then Poirier hit line five times in a row for two first downs to the Newton 3 yard line. On fourth down, after Shaughnessy had picked up a yard Poirier tried again. Collantonio crashed through to nail the Waltham back for a four yard loss and return the ball to Newton's possession. Burns punted to the Newton 34 and this time Newton took the ball on downs. The period ended with Newton failing to gain in three plays. The repulse of the Waltham attack in the shadow of the Newton goal marked the turning point in what had been a close and toss-up game.

Early in the fourth period a bad pass from centre which Shaughnessy recovered for a loss of twelve yards and a short Shaughnessy kick gave Newton the ball at the Waltham 45 yard-mark and he drove for a third touchdown began. Fitzgerald swept right end behind great blocking by Castoldi for 9 yards and Castoldi carried around left end for 10 more. Fisher lested through right guard for 9 and Newton was down to the 17 yard line. Here Fitzgerald made the most brilliant individual effort of the afternoon, a shifty, hip-swaying, rabbit-hopping dance through the Waltham secondary for the score. It seemed as though he were about to be downed on several occasions but on each attempted tackle he eluded the grasping hands and although hit a glancing blow managed to retain his balance until he reached the last white line. Castoldi converted the try for point for the 20th counter.

As Waltham recognized the inevitable and found itself fourteen points behind they yielded to the stronger Newton attack. Shortly after the kickoff which followed Newton's third tally Fitzgerald booted the ball over the Waltham goal line to give Waltham possession on its 20. Fitzgerald was a beauty, the scrimmage line having been at mid-field. Unable to gain Shaughnessy punted and Cox without thinking of the consequences caught the ball on the Newton 42. The interference with the opportunity for a fair catch brought a 15 yard penalty and Newton put the ball in play on the Waltham 27. Castoldi made 10 yards around left end and in three rushes Fisher carried to the four yard line. Here with the Waltham team and most of the spectators anticipating another attempt by Castoldi the Newton quarterbacking strategy came into play. Sohaski carried and like a scared rabbit scampered through a hole at right tackle for the fourth touchdown. Castoldi's try for point went awry and the score stood at 26 to 6. During the remainder of the game Coach Sanborn sent in many players for a play or two each as time expired after eight plays were run off after the kickoff.

NEWTON'S THIRD TITLE IN SIGHT AT BROOKLINE

The Newton High 1937 football team will complete its season on Thanksgiving Day morning with the annual Brookline game which this year will be staged at the latter's field, Newton should have little difficulty in chalk-ing up another victory at the Wealthy Towners' expense, as on the basis of performances Newton has by far the much better record. In its eight games to date, Newton has chalked up 119 points to its opponents 58, winning five and losing three. Brookline, in seven games, has scored but six points against a total of 83 for its opponents. In this stretch Brookline has failed to chalk up even one victory.

The two teams have met three common opponents, Quincy, Cambridge Latin and Rindge, with Newton winning against all and Brookline losing. Quincy topped Brookline 12 to 0 and lost to Newton 21-0. Cambridge Latin topped Brookline 20-0 while the Newton outfit opened its season with a 20-7 win over the Cantabs. Brookline's best showing was against the strong Rindge Tech team, the engineers winning 6 to 0. Two weeks later, however, Newton became the first team to knock Rindge off in a 13 to 6 affair. This victory practically assured Newton of its third Suburban league title in a row as all that is needed will be a tie game against Brookline on Turkey day.

That 1936 win over Brookline gave Newton its fourth league title in five years and its second in a row. Next week's game should make it the Sanborn's fifth out of seven as the local squad is in good shape for the fray, unless some unforeseen accident occurs in practice which results in an injury to one of several Newton dependables. Steve Balkus came out of the Waltham fray with a broken nose which will keep him out of the Turkey Day setto. Otherwise action in the rain and mud against Waltham failed to dampen Newton's spirits or mar their physical perfection.

As in recent games, Coach Sanborn will probably start Hughes and Collantonio on the ends, Gino Castoldi and Wheldon as tackles, Duffy and Colvin, guards, and Liming at centre. Depending upon the weather, four or seven backs will take the field. Castoldi will be at fullback and either Hines or Sohaski at quarter. Robey and Burns or Fisher and Fitzgerald will be at the halves. Each of these four have special abilities which have been useful in the Newton attack. Robey is a consistent ground gainer when the going is heavy through the line, while Fisher is faster and speedier but needs a hole opened for him. Burns is the best passer on the squad and a fair punter. Fitzgerald is one of the best punters in schoolboy football and is a better ballcarrier than Burns, as his shifty run against Waltham testifies. When the running attack fails, however, Burns' accuracy and distance for passing are essential. His toss to Collantonio, giving Newton its first scoring opportunity against Waltham, came at a most vital moment.

Aldermen Request Newton Residents To Shovel Snow

A special committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen, originally appointed a couple of years ago to study the question of the removal of snow from Newton sidewalks, has prepared a letter which they intend to have delivered to all householders in the Newtons. The committee was originally appointed in 1935 after former Alderman Guzzi had complained about the condition of sidewalks, after snowstorms, and the resultant necessity of pedestrians walking in streets. The committee did not make any report during many months following, so late in 1936 Alderman Temperley inquired what action, if any, the committee had taken. Alderman Hutchinson, chairman of the committee, told Temperley that a report would soon be made. When the report was made a few weeks later, it was revealed that the special committee on snow removal had "solved" the problem by amending an ordinance that had been in effect for over a half century. The old ordinance compelled owners or occupants of residences, business or manufacturing properties in most of the more thickly settled portions of the city to remove snow from improved sidewalks, such as (a) or granite walks, within 24 hours following the end of a snowstorm. This ordinance applied to residential districts as well as business districts. In former years it had been enforced, but in late years it had not.

The special committee recommended that the old ordinance be amended so that only in business zones would it be compulsory for persons to clear snow off sidewalks abutting the property they own or occupy. Alderman Temperley was the only member of the Board to oppose the drastic change. Fortunately there were no snow storms last winter, except a couple of light flurries, and residents of Newton were not brought to a realization as to how seriously the amended ordinance will affect pedestrians in this city. Apparently the special committee on snow removal is somewhat apprehensive as to what may follow if and when heavy snowstorms occur during the coming winter. Copies of the letter which it is proposed to send to citizens of Newton were given to members of the Board of Aldermen at a recent meeting. The letter reads as follows:

"For several years the ordinances of the City of Newton concerning the obligations of citizens as to snow removal from sidewalks were added to and amended as requests for such changes, applicable to particular localities, were received from citizens in those localities. Removal was required only from certain types of sidewalks in special parts of the city. No

Unveil Fr. Farrell Mural at Memorial

About 500 persons gathered at War Memorial Building, Newton Centre on Sunday afternoon to witness the unveiling of a mural in honor of the late Rev. William J. Farrell who was a former curate of St. Bernard's Church, West Newton. The exercises were under the auspices of Fr. Farrell Chapter, D. A. V. Roy S. Edwards was master of ceremonies. He introduced Edward Brodney of Boston, the artist who painted the mural. Mr. Brodney explained the details of the painting. The presentation of the mural to the city was made by J. Edward Theriault, commander of Fr. Farrell Chapter, D. A. V., and the speech of acceptance was made by Mayor Childs. Past Commander James Buckley unveiled the mural, which is symbolic in character. The eulogy on Fr. Farrell was delivered by Rev. Donald Whalen, curate at Sacred Heart Church, Newton Centre.

Father Farrell served in France with the 26th Division and received the Distinguished Service Cross for heroic action at Seicheprey on April 20, 1918. After the war he served as a curate at Wilmington and was parish priest at Groton when he died on February 12, 1933.

Will Teach High School Pupils To Drive Motor Cars

The expanding activities of public schools was again evidenced on Monday night at the meeting of the School Committee when it was voted to accept an offer of the Harvard Bureau of Traffic Research to teach a class of high school pupils, limited to 24, how to operate automobiles. The class will be conducted at Soldiers' Field, Cambridge, and a dual-control car will be used. The cost to the city will be $85. Kirtley Mather, of the School Committee, who is a professor at Harvard, favored the innovation. He said: "We are not committing ourselves. We are simply doing research work in that field of education." School Committee member Bryant, who is a teacher in the Boston schools, opposed the new fable. He argued it is not a proper function for the Newton School Department to undertake. School Committee member Smith agreed with Bryant. Three groups of selected pupils, eight to a group, will receive instruction over a period of 8 weeks. Relative to the matter, the following details were given:

1. Candidates must have reached legal driving age of 16.
2. A note signed by both parents or legal guardians granting permission.
3. Expectation of applying for it. (Continued on Page 5)

Induct Donald Mayberry as Judge

Donald E. Mayberry of Plymouth rd., Newton Highlands, was inducted as presiding justice of the Newton district court last Saturday morning. The court room was filled at 10 o'clock with friends of Judge Mayberry and Newton citizens, including a number of lawyers, when James P. Gallagher, clerk of court, read the proclamation from Governor Hurley which commissioned Judge Mayberry as head of the Newton court. Senior Associate Justice W. Lloyd Allen, who presided at the induction, called on former Congressman Joseph F. O'Connell of Boston to speak as the representative of the American Bar Association. Mr. O'Connell referred to the prominence achieved by Judge Mayberry's father when he characterized as one of the greatest lawyers of his time in this State, and he expressed confidence that the new judge will fill the office with credit to himself and this community.

Judge Allen welcomed Judge Mayberry to the Newton court. He told of his personal friendship with Judge Mayberry and the latter's family over a long period of years and assured the new judge that he will cooperate to the fullest extent with him in his official duties. Judge Allen also urged all the personnel of the Newton district court and the members of the Newton police department to co-operate with Judge Mayberry. Judge Mayberry replied briefly, saying: "I thank you all for this splendid tribute. I shall do my best to preserve the traditions of this court." Following the ceremony, those present filed through the judge's office and greeted Judge Mayberry. The new justice received a number of floral tributes.

Hughes Candidate In Ward Four

A third candidate for Alderman-at-Large from Ward 4 has taken out nomination papers. He is Charles E. Hughes of 244 Grove st., Auburndale. He is an attorney and is employed by the Employers' Liability Insurance Company. He was born in Newton 30 years ago, the son of Chief of Police Michael Hughes. He graduated from Newton High School and Suffolk Law School. He is married and has one child.

Fire at Paper Mill In Lower Falls

A large iron vat known as a rotary cooker caught afire at the Crehore Paper Mill on Washington st., Lower Falls at 9:25 Monday morning. The fire was caused by insufficient water in the cooker and caused much smoke, but little damage resulted, as the flames were confined to the machine. Box 512 was pulled and traffic was detoured from Washington st. for about 15 minutes.

Proclamation

The season for the sale of Christmas seals has come again. Eighty-five percent of the amount contributed in Newton is spent by our local Committee for prevention of tuberculosis.

The money is used for sending pre-tuberculous children to health camps, for providing milk in families where tuberculosis exists and for assisting in general persons suffering from this disease.

This idea was introduced from Denmark into America in 1907. It has spread rapidly throughout the United States gripping the hearts of people partly because its one purpose has been to help little children.

Prevention is better than cure. It is better business to stop the cause than to repair the result.

Let's buy seals and ring the bell for a healthy and happy New Year.

EDWIN O. CHILDS, Mayor.

Newton Youths Wreck Stolen Car

A car owned by Julius Amendola of 304 Adams st., Newton, was stolen Wednesday night by Louis Sullo, 17, of California st., and David Shrodini, 15, both of Nonantum. They stopped at a gasoline station near Ayer and ordered 7 gallons of gasoline. When they drove away without paying for it, the proprietor of the station telephoned Ayer police. Police in that town tried to stop the car as it passed through the business section, but the boys extinguished the lights on the car and speeded along. Driving at a fast rate through the town of Shirley, the car went out of control on a curve, was driven into a wooded lot and abandoned. The two youths were arrested at Shirley an hour later.

Sokolsky at Forum Next Sunday

Next Sunday afternoon, Nov. 28, George Sokolsky, journalist, political correspondent, and author, will speak at the Newton High School Auditorium "In Defense of Capitalism". Born in Utica, New York, he attended the School of Journalism at Columbia University. He was a brilliant student and showed great promise of a successful future from his earliest school days.

In 1917 he left this country to see the Russian Revolution. He found a job editing the Russian Daily News of Petrograd until he was requested to leave Russia. Practically penniless, he managed to reach Peiping, where he became assistant editor of the "North China Star". Three months later he became adviser to the Chief of Police of the Province of Chihli.

From 1920 to 1930 he was political correspondent for the "North China Daily News," the leading British newspaper in the Far East; and leading newspapers in the U. S. He also published a Chinese newspaper and helped to organize the Chinese Government Bureau of Economic Information.

After fourteen years' uninterrupted residence in China and Japan, Sokolsky returned to this country where he settled down to write professionally on Far Eastern affairs.

Mr. Sokolsky's outlook is objective regardless of the subject he is treating. He thinks with the cool, philosophical logic of the Orient. He has traveled more than 100,000 miles in this country, visiting nearly every state. In the summer of 1933, he went to London to observe the Economic Conference and to analyze the economic and political position of the U. S. in relation to the rest of the world.

Newton Quartet Stars In 28-0 Win Over Brookline In Annual Football Classic

Hines, Castoldi, Hughes and Fitzgerald Provide Many Thrills
Latter Runs 150 Yards

Newton high romped to a 28-0 victory over Brookline high yesterday morning in the closing game of the 1937 football season. The annual gridiron battle between the two old rivals provided many thrilling moments for the six thousand spectators in attendance. Clearly outplayed by an inspired Brookline eleven in the first period, the tide turned toward Newton early in the second session. Scoring on a pretty forward-lateral pass play, Newton took the lead and the outcome from that time on was never in doubt. Starting a march from their own 27-yard line, Newton advanced to the Brookline 15-yard stripe where a short forward pass from Fitzgerald to Paglia with the latter tossing a lateral to Hines shook the latter free for the initial score.

The second Newton tally came six plays later with Hines' speed getting him into the clear to take a pass from Fitzgerald and race 35 yards for the goalline.

Early in the second half Brookline again showed flashes of power and deception but once again Newton's bogging spirits rose and despite several penalties forced the issue. A short Brookline kick gave the orange and black its third period opportunity from inside the 25-yard mark and a Fitzgerald to Castoldi pass brought the touchdown.

The final period was the most spectacular of the morning and whetted the appetites of the Thanksgiving Day fans for the turkey and fixin' to come.

With the aid of a 5-yard offside penalty against Newton on the first play of the fourth quarter Brookline had a first down on the Newton 26, the furthest point in Newton territory it reached throughout the game. A Brookline fumble, however, gave Captain Ted Duffy of Newton the opportunity to regain in possession of the ball for Newton on the Newton 31. A short while later the play moved into Brookline territory with the ball changing hands several times on punts and a couple of pass interceptions. Robey intercepted a Brookline pass and raced 45 yards for the goalline only to be called back because of a penalty against Newton on the 40-yard line and the orange and black was penalized to their own 45. Castoldi and Robey more than made up this penalty before a long Fitzgerald to Castoldi pass was completed for another 15 yard gain offset by another 15 yard penalty to the Newton 47. A long pass by Robey was intercepted by Sullivan of Brookline and returned to the Brookline 41. On third down Sullivan got off a long low punt that sailed over Fitzgerald's head and rolled toward coffin corner. Here came the most spectacular play and run of the game. Fitzgerald turned and raced madly for the goal as it came almost to a stop on the three yard line. Scooping up the ball he headed back toward the longitudinal middle of the field. Onrushing Brookline tacklers forced him way over to the opposite sideline where he reversed his field and raced back again almost to the very point where he had picked up the ball. Having run around half of the Brookline team he then raced down the sideline.

Was hit twice on about the 25 yard line but managed to keep his feet and get into the clear with Castoldi coming alongside of him as interference. At midfield Castoldi blotted out Sutherland, the Brookline safety, and Fitzgerald had a clear field. As he crossed the thirty yard mark he seemed to stumble and lose his stride. He staggered and reeled his way along for another ten yards and then fell completely exhausted on the 18-yard line. During the run he had covered more than 150 yards. During his dash down the sideline Fitz had stepped outside when eluding Brookline tacklers and the ball had to be brought back to the Newton 27-yard line. Smith replaced Fitzgerald who received a great ovation from the spectators as he left the playing field after being revived by the Newton medical attendants.

On the very next play Hines got away for a 23 yard gain on a statue of liberty play with Smith apparently throwing a pass which brought the ball to midfield. After an incomplete pass Smith took the ball from centre and faded back for another toss. The ball traveled nearly fifty yards in the air to the Brookline 20-yard stripe for which Bob Hughes, Newton end, and a Brookline defender were heading. Side by side and almost as one man they leaped into the air for the soaring oval. Hughes clutched it and as the Brookline secondary fell to the ground the Newton end ran the remaining distance to score standing up. Two plays after the ensuing kickoff the game ended with reserve back Powers intercepting a Brookline pass on the latter's 35-yard line.

Castoldi placekicked the point after the first touchdown. Brookline linemen blocked Castoldi's try after the second touchdown but Duffy scooped up the free ball and raced over the goal to score the point. Castoldi kicked the third point after and Robey rushed the ball over after the fourth touchdown to bring the score to 28. Newton made eight first downs to five for the Wealthy Towers. Much of Newton's yardage was offset by frequent penalties. The orange and black eleven was set back a total of 70 yards, 40 for offside play and twice for illegal use of the hands.

First Period
Castoldi kicked off. Sullivan returned the ball 13 yards to the 33. Two plays netted but a yard and Foster punted. Castoldi ran it back 5 yards to the Newton 40. Fitzgerald gained two yards and Castoldi three before Fitz kicked outside at the Brookline 30. Gaining but two yards in two plays Brookline kicked. Foster's nicely placed boot sending the ball down the sideline to Fitz at the Newton 34. Hines was nailed for a 10-yard loss on an end run and Fitz kicked to the Brookline 45. On a deceptive reverse Foster swept around end for 13 yards. Two plays later Dick High, Brookline fullback and best ball-carrier, made 9 yards and Kelly one for another first down. Newton held and took the ball on downs on their 30-yard stripe. Castoldi made 11 yards in two plays before and after a 5-yard penalty and Fitzgerald kicked outside at the Brookline 42. Another offside penalty cost Newton 5 more yards. (Continued on Page 12)

DISCIPLES OF HEALTH AND EDUCATION

It is our duty this week to chronicle the passing of two Newton citizens who have served the community in their professions for many more years than is usual. One, Dr. Arthur Hudson, a disciple of health, and the other Wallace E. Richmond, a disciple of education.

For more than half a century Dr. Hudson was active in the community as a druggist, conducting his own store most of that time. He also served the city as milk inspector and bacteriologist for some years. In these two fields he made thousands of friends, many of whom paid tribute to him at a testimonial dinner on the fiftieth anniversary of his business service. His administration of health and his service as a pharmacist have been of immeasurable benefit to the community.

Last June Wallace E. Richmond retired from the faculty of the Newton High School after twenty-seven years of service to Newton youth and forty years in the field of education. His kindly personality and his wise counsel were outstanding characteristics which the several thousands of pupils who came under his tutelage will long remember.

There are fewer more valuable services that can be rendered by any person than caring for another's health or moulding youth to take its place in the community and the world. Though they have passed to the Great Beyond the benefits of their training and teaching will ever remain.

TWO MEMBERS OF SCHOOL COMMITTEE RETIRING

Two of the present members of the school committee will not be candidates for re-election. This fact gives added emphasis to the question of whether or not members of the school committee should serve for four years or for only two under the proposed biennial election method to be voted upon at the coming city election. Both of these members have served for six years. Their successors may serve for four years or for two, depending upon your vote on this question. We would point out that it is far more desirable that members of this body serve four years without the necessity of an intervening political campaign than it would be for them to serve two years and then be forced to run for re-election with considerable unfinished business under consideration.

CHRISTMAS IS COMING

We are reminded that there are only twenty-four more shopping days before Christmas by recent announcements of the distribution of Christmas Saving Club deposits. Some twenty-eight millions of dollars of such funds are now being sent out to those in Massachusetts who have been preparing for Santa Claus regularly for the past fifty weeks. Many Newton persons are included in this group of Christmas shoppers and local merchants are preparing for the holiday trade. We urge our readers to shop in Newton this coming holiday season. Your local merchant is ready to serve you.

The Deadly Pass

What peculiar mental processes must go on in the minds of those crazy motorists who pass other cars on hills or curves? What supreme optimists they must be. They seem to feel that a kindly providence will protect them and that they will have time to swing back into line in case a car suddenly swerves in view on top of the hill, or comes swinging around the bend. Yet under the stern law of averages Death awaits a certain number of these chance-takers. What goes these mortals be!

Although the Red Cross drive for memberships officially closes on Thanksgiving Day, the quota is not complete and enrollment will continue for a limited time. In times of emergency Newton has far exceeded the amount called for by the National Headquarters, but in order to carry on the local work it is necessary to have a large annual membership. The Roll Call committee, headed by Mrs. Henry T. Patch, Chairman, and Mr. George Lincoln Parker, Vice-Chairman, report the following list of enrollments for individual villages:

	Members
Auburndale	214
Chestnut Hill	183
Newton	508
Newton Centre	760
Newton Highlands	289
Newtonville	468
Waban	296
West Newton	463
Lower Falls	13
Upper Falls	62
	3256

This amount is nearly 2000 short of the quota.

TWO GRADES OF STREETS

To the Editor of the Graphic:

Many miles of streets the past dozen years have been built by contractors for land owners and later taken over by the city under the general law. At present similar construction is in progress with more projects to come in the future. These streets are built under standard specifications which were drawn up by the city years ago when wear by motor vehicles was not such a destructive factor. City officials exercise supervision while contractors are at work so that a thorough job may result.

Some friends who have had such streets built (or are not building them), are rather concerned at my action as a member of the Board of Aldermen in drawing attention to the disparity in conditions required of the contractors compared with building type B streets (a state standard), which the city builds for property owners under the betterment act. My attitude on street construction (though it may be misunderstood in some quarters), is impractical. The proposition, as I see it, is one largely of price versus quality. There is a disposition to give too much attention to price.

When a hearing was held Nov. 1st before the Board of Aldermen on the acceptance of some privately constructed streets under the general law, in answer to questions by me, City Engineer Harvey stated: 1. Streets built conforming to type B specifications would not require repairs for upwards of 10 years; 2. Streets built 100 per cent to present specifications required under the general law, after a year or two would call for repairs. It may be assumed that Engineer Harvey has at hand data to substantiate his statements.

Type B streets have been built by the city for about five years. They are much more expensive to build than streets built by private contractors. Quality of course commands a price. I have no contention with friends who avail themselves of the opportunity to have their streets built by contractors. My difficulty is in being satisfied to have the city maintain two unequal standards for road construction. A group of taxpayers under the betterment act builds a type B road and then is called upon to pay taxes to keep streets in repair; not type B quality and whose first cost was much less.

One thing more. With the emphasis on price, when comparisons are made, there is a disposition to feel that city-constructed streets are altogether out of line in cost with those privately built streets. There should be one standard only for street construction—excepting of course super-highways like Washington and Boylston sts. If contractor-built streets are satisfactory, why require type B for roads which will be subjected to identical traffic wear and tear?

JOHN TEMPERLEY.

QUICK PUBLIC SERVICE

To the Editor.

Dear Sir:

There was a hold-up at the Gas Station next door at 1169 Washington st., West Newton, Saturday night around 7 o'clock when the proprietor who was left without even a nickel to operate his pay-telephone, ran over and rapped on our front door and asked us to telephone the police and ran back to his station. The following events happened in rapid succession.

We called the police to report a hold-up. The operator, Miss Furneau, without a tremor, started to make the connection with one hand and carefully inquired the address and recorded it with the other.

Newton Police Headquarters responded before the first ringing signal had ceased and Lieutenant Moan at the desk took the message "Hold-up—Gas Station—1169 Washington st., West Newton—next door to Carley Realty Office." He said, "Okay," and hung up. We rushed to the side door and the back door to see if we could see the hold-up man escape, came back to the front door and locked it behind us and rushed over to the gas station. The elapsed time certainly could not have been over 2½ minutes, and, believe it or not, already there was a Newton police car with officers Davis, Cunningham and Mague, and within less time than it has taken to write you this note of appreciation there was another car there.

There must be hundreds of merchants, thousands of home owners, especially mothers who will be thrilled to know that a phone call and our radio-equipped Police Department will bring them this sort of protection.

Yours very truly,

CARLEY REALTY.

COOLIDGE CORNER THEATRE, BROOKLINE

A Shirley Temple more glorious than anyone has ever known and a beloved story that has enthralled millions the world over arrives for a week's run on Friday, November 26th, on the screen of the Coolidge Corner Theatre, Brookline, in the never-to-be-forgotten picture "Heidi." Johanna Spyri's enchanting tale brought to such laughing, loving life, that it touches the deepest corners of the heart.

The worth-while co-feature is Octavia Roy Cohen's Satevepost story "Jim Hanvey Detective," adapted to the screen. "Jim Hanvey Detective" stars Guy Kibbee and Tom Brown. It is a grand mix-up of crime, sleuthing, young romance and comedy in a tangle of woe and joy. Others in the cast are Lucie Kaye, Edward Brophy, Edward Gargan and Helen Jerome Eddy.

In addition to the two excellent features is a most interesting novelty short subject called "The Big Apple," the first film novelty based on the new dance craze, and featuring the Arthur Murray "Shag" Dancers. Of course there will be the latest Coolidge Corner Theatre newsreel, presenting the latest news from everywhere.

Announced for showing for the coming week starting Friday, December 3rd, is "100 Men and a Girl" starring Deanna Durbin with Leopold Stokowski and Adolphe Menjou. It's another "must" picture.

Kiwanis Club

The Newton Kiwanis Club was host to the Wellesley Club at the weekly meeting at the Charles River Country Club on Tuesday, November 23, 1937.

The program was presented by one of the Harvard College debating teams under the guidance of Edward M. Rowe prominent attorney and coach of the Harvard debating team. Mr. Rowe introduced the men, all sophomores, and explained the procedure.

The subject of the debate was "Should the United States enter into a foreign policy embracing other foreign nations or should it continue to maintain its position of neutrality." The affirmative side was debated by Garfield Horn of Elk Grove, California and Ralph Harris of Newton. The negative side was upheld by Malcolm R. Wilkie of Madisonville, Kentucky and Raymond Harris of Pennsylvania.

At the completion of the debate President Bill White called for a show of hands to indicate the judgment of the members as to the merits of the two sides. The vote indicated that the negative side presented the better arguments.

There were four new members inducted into Kiwanis by Charlie Mahoney who delivered a most inspiring talk to the new men about Kiwanis, its ideals and its work.

It is expected that the Waltham Club will join with Newton in the meeting on November 30, 1937 at the Charles River Country Club.

62 YEARS AGO

Newton Republican, Nov. 27, 1875

Citizens caucuses are called for Saturday evening. The voters of Newton will be to blame if they do not put in nomination honest and true men for all positions to be filled. We hope every species of political wire pulling will be frowned upon.

It is presumed that the members of the committee of the City Government whose duty it is to look after street lights give that subject all the attention their time will permit, but it is not expected that they will spend their evenings traveling over the city to see that every street lamp is lighted. It cannot, therefore, be known to them how often it happens that in every third or fourth lantern there is no light especially where naphtha gas is used. Tuesday night last, which was dark and stormy, no lamps at all were lighted on at least one street; or if they were lighted they must have gone out before 6:30, as sometimes occurs from improper treatment by the lamp lighter, or from sudden gusts of wind. This unsatisfactory state of affairs calls for a decided remedy, not only for public convenience, but for the good of the city treasury.

Would it not pay to have an Inspector of Street Lamps whose duty it would be to see that the lanterns are kept properly cleaned and kept in repair; who would visit the different parts of the city as often as possible when the lamps should be lighted, and report each month to the Mayor and Aldermen, thereby giving them a better chance to hold the contractors who light the streets to a fulfillment of their obligations.

The fair in aid of the Newton Catholic Church which has been in progress for about three weeks, closed on Saturday night. The proceeds are about $5000.

The old Nonantum engine house on Washington st., Newton Corner (between the railroad crossing and Park st.) was sold at auction by authority of the city on Tuesday. The house was built in 1856 for the old Nonantum hand engine, No. 5. In 1868 the company was disbanded and the present steam fire engine took its place. The building has since been used for business purposes. The lot contains 1250 feet and was included in the sale. The property was purchased for $910 by Policeman J. C. Kennedy.

The Waltham & Newton Horse Railway have laid a track up Highland st., West Newton to the steam railroad tracks. The Boston & Albany Railroad is moving the side tracks along side the station outward, so a shed can be erected on that side for the accommodation of passengers.

50 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, Nov. 25, 1887

The Farlow Park betterments are now all paid in with the exception of some $600. The total amount was over $15,000 and three years were given in which to pay it. The pond at the park has been cleaned out and refilled for the winter. If the boys will let the ice properly freeze on it, it can be used for skating.

The B. & A. railroad crossing at Washington st., Newton, was the scene of a terrible accident late on the afternoon of Thanksgiving. Four young men from Cohasset had been in Brighton during the day to attend the races there. They started for home about 5 o'clock under the influence of liquor and their carnyall was seen coming up Tremont st. from Oak sq. at a lively rate, and the men whipping the horse. They reached the crossing just as the express which leaves Boston at 5:25 was due, and found the gates down. The horse broke through the first gate and when it reached the rack, wheeled and turned up the track. Just afterwards the carnyall was struck by the engine. Two of the men were instantly killed and a third so badly injured that he died shortly after at the hospital. The fourth man escaped with severe cuts and bruises. The horse was so badly hurt that he had to be shot by Patrolman Henthorn. Later in the evening relatives of the young men came to Newton and their grief was pitiable to witness.

Powers' Paragraphs

Mayor Childs was easily reelected for the sixth time in 1925 after having served twelve years as Mayor, but his long reign was being threatened. Sinclair Weeks, who started his first term as a member of the Board of Aldermen in 1923 had aspirations to follow in public life the footsteps of his father, John W. Weeks. The latter had started in politics as a member of the Newton Board of Aldermen, and later became Mayor of Newton, United States Senator from Massachusetts and Secretary of War. Sinclair Weeks first was a candidate for the Board of Aldermen in 1921, but was defeated by Fred L. Smith, one of the pro-Childs slate in that year. In 1922 Mr. Weeks was again a candidate, and was elected. A likable young man, who gave serious attention to business responsibilities and public affairs, he had enlisted when the United States entered the World War in 1917 and had an excellent war record, serving in France with the 101st Artillery of the 26th Division. He soon became popular with most of his fellow members in the Board of Aldermen, and it was not long before some of the Aldermen who had been elected on the Childs slate in 1921 became noticeably friendly toward Weeks.

In 1927 Sinclair Weeks was being urged by some of his friends to run for Mayor and he seriously considered becoming a candidate for the office. He was advised, however, that Mayor Childs desired another term, and he conferred with Mr. Childs on this matter. Weeks agreed not to run in 1927 and Childs agreed to run in 1929, should Weeks then be a candidate. Weeks, to confirm the conversation sent a letter to Childs and the Mayor in a written reply agreed with Weeks' understanding of the agreement. The conversation on this matter, and the exchange of letters were not made public, and the voters in general, including the writer, did not know of the agreement.

On May 24, 1929 Mr. Weeks announced that he would be a candidate for Mayor. Soon after a circular letter was sent to the voters of Newton signed by many prominent citizens who endorsed Weeks' candidacy. Although it was not generally known that Mayor Childs would not be a candidate for reelection, many of his former staunch supporters were among Weeks' endorsers. Of Mr. Weeks' twenty associates on the then Board of Aldermen, seventeen openly endorsed him for Mayor. The three Aldermen who declined to endorse him were Aldermen Earle of Ward 1, Temperley of Ward 5, and the writer. I stated, when requested to endorse Mr. Weeks' candidacy, that I would not do so until I learned, whether or not, Mr. Childs was to become a candidate, and I asked the Mayor to inform me if and when he decided to run or not to run. He told me that I would be the first person to whom he would give this information, and he kept his word. On July 29d, 1929, Mr. Childs handed me in the GRAPHIC office a copy of a letter he sent that day to John P. Tierney, chairman of the Democratic City Committee. Mr. Tierney had been one of Mr. Childs' staunchest supporters, and on July 10, 1929 had written the Mayor a letter in which he stated that he assumed Mr. Childs would again be a candidate, suggested that a campaign committee for him be organized, and offered his services as a member of that committee. Mr. Tierney said in part in that letter—"The good citizens of Newton, I feel certain, desire your return to the office of Mayor, and I believe this is the opportune time to make an announcement of your intention to be a candidate for reelection. As one of your loyal supporters I urge the advisability of a public announcement at this time."

In his letter to Mr. Tierney which was published in the GRAPHIC on July 26th, 1929, Mr. Childs stated—"I long ago decided that if Mr. Weeks should run for Mayor in 1929, I would not run, and that if he should not run, I would. My reasons for not opposing him, I gladly give to you." Mr. Childs, in the letter stated that he did not possess money enough to finance a campaign against Mr. Weeks' resources, and he referred to certain methods of campaigning which he feared might be used. The letter created much excitement in Newton, and also considerable resentment among Mr. Weeks' friends. After having served for 15½ years as Mayor, and regarded by many as unbeatable Mr. Childs had decided not to contest against Mr. Weeks.

On October 9, 1929, Alderman Earle in an open letter intimated he would run against Mr. Weeks, and on Nov. 1 announced his candidacy, and Mayor Childs announced he would support Mr. Earle. Alderman Heathcote, who for years had championed the cause of the city laborers, also became a candidate. At the election on Dec. 10, Weeks received 11,203 votes; Heathcote, 2872; Earle, 2481. Mr. Weeks assumed the office of Mayor the same year that the depression became serious and the problem of welfare activities by the city started to become serious. At the election in December, 1931, Mr. Weeks was unopposed for re-election as Mayor. We had talked frequently with former Mayor Childs during preceding months, and until shortly before the time for the final filing of nomination papers, thought he would be a candidate for Mayor. But he decided not to run.

It was commonly supposed that Mr. Weeks would not seek a third term as Mayor in 1933, as it was understood that he personally was not desirous of taking such action. But he was urged to do so, and early in the spring of that year he announced his candidacy. There was considerable talk that Thomas W. White would oppose Weeks, and many of former Mayor Childs' admirers urged him to again seek the office. Mr. White and Mr. Childs had a number of conferences on the matter, and in July they decided that White should oppose Weeks. No campaign in the history of Newton was as thoroughly and as well organized as that of Mr. Weeks. Large committees were formed in every Ward and precinct. Mr. White did not start campaigning until October and it soon became apparent to those in touch with the situation that his chances for success were small. The campaign became very bitter. Ex-Mayor Childs spoke at several rallies in Mr. White's behalf but he failed to swing the majority of his former supporters to White's support. The writer also campaigned for Mr. White. The election was held on December 12, 1933 and 24,793 votes were cast. Weeks received 16,334 votes, White 8072, and three other candidates about 400 votes between them. Many asserted that the election indicated that Weeks was politically supreme in Newton and Childs politically dead.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

Not to Be Laughed-Off

There are people who feel that a display of interest in city affairs marks them as "small town" folks. Often they remark, "I wouldn't be bothered voting. What difference does it make whether I go to the polls or not?" Possibly they feel that listeners will believe they are engrossed in more important matters. The air of boredom is no doubt intended to imply sophistication. You are going to observe considerable of it right here in Newton in the coming week or so. But don't be misled. The man or woman whose citizenship counts takes his voting seriously.

It Happened in Newton

Although it may be unnecessary to some, warning is hereby given those who believe themselves capable of instantly recognizing a familiar voice on the telephone. Overconfidence may lead to embarrassment or something more distressing. A local bachelor whose list of young women acquaintances is more or less extensive greeted one of them with, "O hello. It's great to hear from you. I wondered what had become of you. Have you been away?" The response was far from cordial. "Think again," the lady said, "I saw you last night if you can remember back that far." The bachelor is still explaining.

Wearing Evening Clothes

A man to be envied is he who can adorn himself with full evening clothes without first experiencing an attack of "dress-suititis." This is a malady which causes the victim to run a high blood pressure and upsets the entire household. The attacks are usually more acute when suffered by those who make infrequent appearances in the conventional black-and-white garb. The person who puts off until the last minute the work of assembling shirt, studs, white tie, white vest, pearl buttons, white gloves and the rest of the necessary paraphernalia is likely to feel the pain in a greater degree than he who wears evening clothes monthly or oftener.

The man who suffers "dress-suititis" may be said to bring it on himself although he never admits it. His first symptom is a demand for his evening clothes as if he had put them carefully away himself when as a matter of fact he doesn't know where they are. Then he wants to know if his stiff-front shirt is clean, if there is a white tie anywhere and what on earth became of the pearl studs. Starting in an inquiring tone his voice mounts to a roar and before the disease has run its course he is bellowing. Once supplied with full equipment and attired as he should be, the patient will suddenly find the attack has passed. It seems to have done him no harm but the occupants of the house have suffered too, and are not likely to recover for hours.

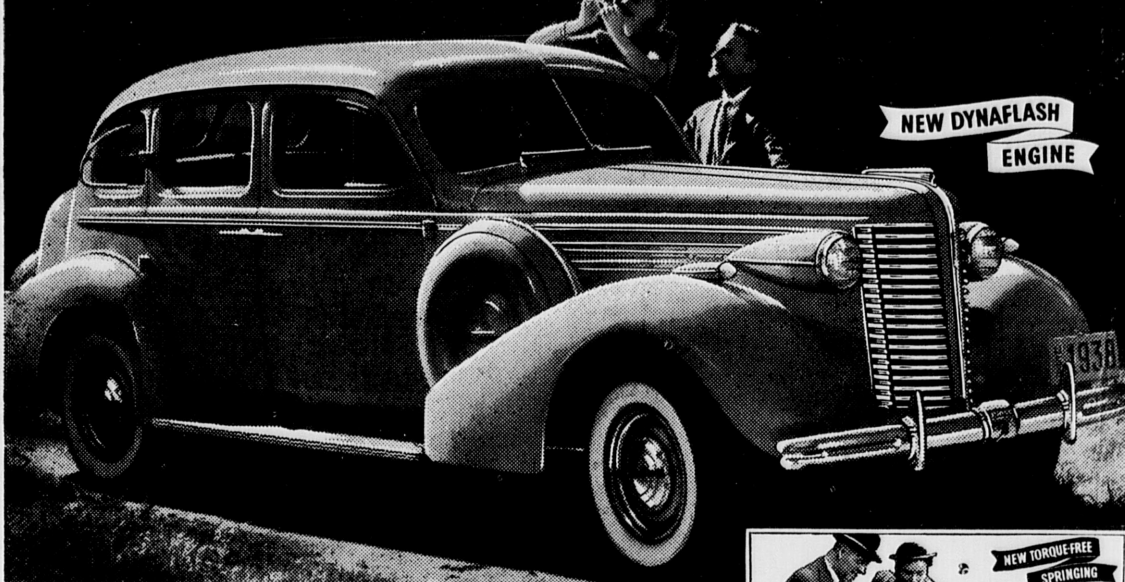

Nothing to Be Done

Now and then we wish there were more hours in the day to permit us to do things we'd like but for which there is not sufficient time. Take the matter of some Elevated motemen on the Newton-Brighton line who run past the pole-post at Hubbard rd. and Tremont st. They can't seem to grasp the fact it has been recently installed. I wish I could spare the time to convince them. But then, there's no assurance they'd remember it.

Taking No Chances

Report has come from a reliable source of two men, brothers, who devoted part of Thanksgiving Day to making out lists of people they plan to remember with Christmas gifts. One sat down to his listing immediately after dinner. As he did so he suggested that his brother do likewise. "Oh," said the other, "I made mine out before dinner. I was afraid I'd be too generous if I did it after eating a lot of turkey."

Round the World On Franconia In 146 Days

The 1938 World Cruise in the FRANCONIA of the Cunard White Star Line will include 3000 more miles than originally planned and eight additional Southern Hemisphere ports will be visited. These changes are the result of the elimination of China and Japan from the itinerary of the cruise. The FRANCONIA was regarded by many as unsurpassed in speed and comfort as a cruise ship. Big enough to ignore the ocean as ocean, yet not too big to dock directly at many ports. Now, many improvements greatly enhance her original qualities.

On her coming cruise the Franconia will leave New York on January 31, 1938 and will arrive back on May 31. She will travel 38,700 miles to 30 ports and the cost will be from $1900 up, according to stateroom. This will include shore excursions. The route will include Trinidad, Bahia, Rio de Janeiro, South Africa, Madagascar, Java, Bali, New Guinea, Australia, Tasmania, New Zealand, Fiji and Hawaiian Islands and the Panama canal. One of the places to be visited will be old Hue, capital of Annam in French Indo-China, a spot never before visited in a world cruise. The cruise is one of the most alluring ever planned.

Report of Newton Safety Council Engineering Com.

At a recent meeting of the Newton Safety Council the Engineering Committee of the Council submitted a comprehensive report which was signed by Alfred N. Miner of Newtonville, chairman of the committee.

The report includes: An analysis of the accident records for the year 1936 and the first half of 1937. A study of the fatal accidents to determine their cause and to suggest possible methods of reducing them. Particular attention which was given to the main arteries of the city running north and south and east and west. A special study of traffic flow and characteristics of West Newton Square; with a timing sequence for the present traffic signal light installation. A study of the parking problems in the different subdivisions of the city with particular emphasis on the Newton Centre business area.

This report is based entirely on: Accident records taken from the Newton Police Department files. Engineering facts obtained from field studies, extending over three to twelve hours of volume, violation, and speed at the locations under survey. The length of each study was determined by the frequency and severity of the accident record, and by the amount of information required. Observations by Field Traffic Engineers of particular locations and intersections of high accident frequency, totaling forty-two in number, the worst seventeen of which are analyzed further on in this report.

The purpose of the report is to present facts, which relate to the general traffic problem in the City of Newton and to make recommendations for improvement of conditions, based either on recognized traffic engineering formulae, or on practice. The total number of accidents was summarized and classified and a number of charts and illustrations were made. The number of accidents in the City of Newton in the year and one-half period totaled 573, resulting in death to 18 people and injuries to 775. 417 accidents occurred in clear weather and 401 accidents occurred while the roads were dry. Over one-third of the accidents involved pedestrians; while approximately one-fifth of them were side collisions. Over one-half of the accidents occurred at intersections.

Pedestrian accidents and side collisions accounted for 54 per cent of the total number of accidents. Ten of the 17 fatal accidents involved pedestrians. In 3 of the 10 fatal accidents carelessness on the part of the pedestrian was the cause of the accidents. All of the pedestrians killed were residents of Newton ranging in age from 37 to 78 years, with an average of 59 years. The majority of these accidents happened after dark.

In analyzing the accidents on numbered routes and main arteries it was disclosed that Washington st. has the worst record with the largest number of accidents; the largest number injured; the largest number of pedestrian accidents; the largest number of accidents per 100,000 cars; the largest number killed per 100,000 cars; and the largest number of pedestrian accidents per 100,000 cars. In contrast, Watertown st. carried the highest traffic load per mile and was the seventh in percentage of the number of accidents with no fatalities. The principal causes of these accidents were excessive speed and reckless driving which generally includes speed. Washington st. had 40 per cent of the pedestrian accidents. The principal cause of these pedestrian accidents was carelessness on the part of the pedestrians. Inasmuch as 26.8 per cent of the total accidents on these ten streets occurred on Washington st. and the principal cause of all accidents on that street was excessive speed, it would be logical to conclude that high speed was also a contributing cause in the pedestrian accidents.

Some consideration might be given to the erection of warning signs at the city lines where these roads enter, to the effect that these laws will be strictly enforced. This is about the only way the out of town motorist can be reached. This report analyzes the accidents at 17 of the most hazardous intersections of the 42 locations studied in detail, and presents recommendations for reducing the number of accidents, which recommendations have been approved by the Engineering Committee. In analyzing the hazardous intersections, the report shows the results as follows, arranged in sequence as to the number of accidents at each location:

Worcester Turnpike at Woodcliff rd., Route 9, 12 accidents with 28 injuries; Recommendations—Strict police surveillance of the location. Retouching of paint lines.

Washington st. at Walnut st., Route 128, 8 accidents with 11 injuries; Recommendations—Removal of pedestal type of traffic control system, and the installation of a new set of traffic control signals to conform with the Massachusetts Department of Public Works specifications. Repainting of pedestrian crosswalks, center, lane and stop lines.

Washington st. at Jackson rd. and Adams st., 7 accidents with 12 injuries; Recommendations—Rigid enforcement of existing speed laws. Paint movement lines on Jackson rd. and Lewis ter.

Centre at Walnut sts., Route 128, 7 accidents with 9 injuries; Recommendation—Make bus stop at a point at least 50 feet to 75 feet from the north-east corner.

Washington st. at Waltham st., Route 16, 7 accidents with 7 injuries; Recommendations—Retiming of traffic signals (see Sect. VI-A) and painting of lane and movement lines.

Beacon st. at Walnut st., Route 128, 6 accidents with 19 injuries; Recommendation—Rigid enforcement of existing speed laws.

Washington st. at Harvard st., 6 accidents with 5 injuries and 2 killed; Recommendations—Installation of a warning sign to especially notify east-bound motorists on Washington st. of a bad intersecting street. Painting of pedestrian crosswalk lines and movement lines.

Washington st. at Elm st., Route 16, 5 accidents with 14 injuries; Recommendations—Rigid enforcement of existing speed laws. Painting of stop line on Putnam st. and movement lines in the intersection.

Worcester Turnpike at Parker st., Route 9, 5 accidents with 8 injuries; Recommendation—Strict police surveillance of the location.

Worcester Turnpike at Woodward, Elliott and Cook sts., Route 9, 5 accidents with 8 injuries; Recommendation—Strict police surveillance of the location.

Washington st. at Jewett and Church sts., 4 accidents with 6 injuries; Recommendation—Strict police surveillance of the location.

Needham st. at Winchester st., 4 accidents with 6 injuries; Recommendation—Strict police surveillance of the location.

Washington st. and Dunstan and Felton sts., 4 accidents with 6 injuries; Recommendations—Rigid enforcement of existing traffic laws and strict police surveillance of the location. Cutting of bushes on Felton st. approaches and trimming of hedges at Dunstan st.

Perkins st., Route 16, 4 accidents with 5 injuries; Recommendations—Rigid enforcement of existing traffic laws and strict police surveillance of the location. Paint stop lines on Perkins and Lincoln sts.

Centre st. at Willow, Bowen and Gibbs sts., 4 accidents with 4 injuries; Recommendations—Rigid enforcement of existing traffic laws and strict police surveillance of the location. Center and movement lines on Centre st.; center line on Willow st.

The Engineering Committee after giving careful consideration to the report regarding the most hazardous intersections believes that the efforts of the Safety Council should be concentrated on these locations, starting with the intersection having the highest accident frequency and working out the problems according to the recommendations of the report. At some of these intersections definite traffic engineering recommendations are made, but at many of them the principal cause of accidents is reckless driving and speed. Though there may seem to be too much repetition of the recommendation—"Rigid enforcement of existing traffic laws and strict police surveillance," the fact remains that this must be done if the constantly increasing number of accidents is to be reduced.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Edited by EMMA D. COOLIDGE

Beauty Talk, Bridge, Buffet Lunch

"Virtue is its own reward," but the Newtonville Woman's Club prefers to be a little more specific in rewards, and the Maintenance committee of the Club, with the president, Mrs. George H. Tracy, as chairman, is making preparations for a day of jollification at the Club House, Friday, December 3rd, from 10:30 a. m. to 4 p. m., for all Club members and their friends, who will be cordially welcome.

First, in the morning, there will be a delightfully informal Talk by Miss Beatrice Bowry, of William Flene Sons, on "Framing the Face." She will demonstrate on four models, all Club members, who have been chosen for the four basic types of face, round, oval, square, and triangle, and she will give all the "do's" and "don'ts" on this fascinating subject.

At 12:30, a Buffet Lunch will be served in the Social Hall. The promises to be delicious, as it will be prepared by the same caterer the Club secured for the Bazaar. After luncheon, the tables will be cleared for Bridge; favors will be given out for each table at 3:30 o'clock, and play will then continue until 4.

And, as Christmas is just around the corner, Mrs. Henri Beltzung and Mrs. George L. Curtis, who were in charge of the Bazaar, have a table of choice gifts attractively priced in case anyone lacks something to complete her Christmas list.

All this, a whole day's entertainment including luncheon, is offered to each Club member and guest for the small sum of $1.00. If there is anyone who does not play bridge, the talk on "Framing the Face" may be enjoyed for a small sum. The day offers much for many and something for everyone.

A new type of program for the Literature Afternoon of the Club will be presented on Monday, November 29th, at 2:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Edward Titus, 23 Otis St., when two plays will be read by Club members, "Dust of the Road," by Kenneth Sawyer Goodman; and "Between the Soup and the Savory," by Gertrude Jennings. Parts will be taken by Mrs. Walter Jamison, Mrs. J. Mace Andrews, and Mrs. W. R. Mattson. Tea will be served.

The International Relations committee announces another lecture on Current Events by Mrs. Frank M. Taylor on Thursday, December 2nd, at 10:30 a. m., in the Club House.

Presidents' Day

The Waban Woman's Club will be hostess to the Twelfth District Director of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs and to Presidents of clubs in the district on Monday, November 29th, at 2:30 p. m., in the Neighborhood Club House at Waban.

Mrs. Herbert W. Smith, president of the Waban Woman's Club, will preside. A group of piano solos will be rendered by Ruth A. Culbertson, well-known pianist, and winner of the Mason and Hamlin prize while a pupil of Antonette Szumowska. Miss Culbertson, who has appeared three times at Pops Concerts, was also the winner of the highest awards at the New England Conservatory of Music.

A social hour under the direction of Mrs. Kenneth S. Nugent will follow the program. Tea will be served, with Mrs. Benjamin Miller and Mrs. B. Alden Thresher pouring.

Santa Claus Advertises For Assistants

Santa Claus, broadcasting from his headquarters to members of the Newtonville Woman's Club, asks if they have heard what a splendid job they are doing each year in helping him to give twenty-five little girls and twenty-five little boys a happy Christmas? For if it weren't for the Club members, he stresses, these children might not have any toys, or the delightful Christmas Party at the Club House, with a big tree, ice cream and candy, which would be tragic, he avows. Santa himself will be right on the job that day, December 21st, to see that all the little tots get their presents; a doll for Mary that some Clubwoman has been so kind as to dress; and for Johnny a grand toy truck. He confides his plan as to what is to go into those mysterious big boxes each child will get, providing the Club members come to his assistance with generous contributions. Warm, cozy things to keep out Old Jack Frost, yes sir, two sets of "undies" to begin with, for each boy and girl; a pair of stockings, and mittens for little toes and fingers, and then, to top it off, a dress and sweater for each girl, and a blouse and a pair of trousers for each boy, and no hand-me-downs, mind you, everything is to be all brandy, spanking new. Santa has even remembered to plan to put in flannel pajamas and woolen caps and scarves for some of the little ones he has heard haven't any. And if Club members have any toys that her wee ones have outgrown, and they are just cluttering up cellars and attics, Santa will call for them in a jiffy, and slick them up with new paint and glue.

Santa asks the Club members very specially to come to his Party. There's the big shiny tree, of course, and the sure-fire magician, Mr. Hoyt, who can fool the grown-ups as well as the children, with his bag of tricks, but best of all, they will see the shining eyes

American Artists as Story Tellers

The current Exhibit in the Art Gallery of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, of original etchings, lithographs, woodcuts, and stencils, published by the American Artists Group, gives gratifying evidence of the extent to which present-day artists have abandoned the recent practice of merely creating pretty pictures without relation to the life about them, and have returned to the older and sounder practice of telling a story in pictorial terms.

When the graphic mediums of etching and wood-engraving were first invented in the fifteenth century, and for many years thereafter, they were used by artists to tell a specific story in dramatic fashion. For example, Rembrandt's beautiful and moving etching, "The Return of the Prodigal Son," tells the story of his very name reveals. The same is true of Durer's twenty wood blocks entitled "The Life of the Virgin"; and of Hogarth's "Marriage à la Mode," and his "Rake's Progress."

But for about a generation beginning in the 1880's and becoming bitten with the meaningless idea of art for art's sake alone. This has been abandoned, fortunately. This tendency sent them to Ivory Towers and their pictures consequently had little meaning to their fellow human beings.

The current Exhibition at the Newton Centre Woman's Club of more than fifty original prints by some of the foremost contemporary artists of America is a dramatic revelation of the pleasing change to create pictures that tell a story of our times and our people as truly as the work of our novelists, playwrights, and poets.

Among the lithographs of this exhibit is Rockwell Kent's "And Women Must Weep." A woman is shown standing, afraid, desolate, lonely, on her doorstep about to re-enter her home. Beyond a picket fence we glimpse the departing figure of her husband, son, or lover, off to war. It is the poignant story of war, "Men must fight and Women must weep." J. J. Lankes' beautiful woodcuts "Sunday Afternoon" and "Haying" are more than just landscapes. They, too, tell stories, stories of old Virginia farm land.

Another unforgettable story-telling picture of today is Joe Jones' "Wasteland." Here are shown the desolation of the dust bowl, of abandoned farms, of wind-blown destruction. It is truly more effective than any economic essay on the subject.

In far different mood is Waldo's Peirce's robust lithograph entitled "Circus on the Move," with the rush of horses and wagons, the tramp of elephants, the flapping of tents.

tomized all the fairy stories in the world.

Warren Newcombe, who divides his time between fine art and his duties as a motion picture Art Director, in his "Anna Karenina in Hollywood", has drawn upon rich material so familiar to him. The heroine of Tolstoy's great novel stands in the flare of Kleig lights at the entrance to what seems like a magnificent castle, but is only two dimensional scenery. Overhead hangs the microphone, like an enormous fly at the end of a super-fishing pole. The director's gestures, the camera's grind, a bored stage-hand sits reading, his back to the scene, is the story of how the magic of Hollywood brings to life the classics of literature.

These and many other works in the exhibition by such nationally famous artists as George Biddle, Paul Cadmus, Jean Charlot, Howard Cook, Ernest Pione, Emil Ganso, William Gropper, Yasuo Kuniyoshi, Kenneth Hayes Miller, Rudolph Ruzicka, and Raphael Soyer, are pictures that average men and women can understand, appreciate, and enjoy.

And due to the wise policy inaugurated last year by the American Artists Group, it is possible for men and women of average means, not only to look at these pictures while they are at exhibitions such as shown at the Newton Centre Woman's Club, but actually to own them and enjoy them for a lifetime, at a small price.

Rotary Club

Gardner E. Campbell, managing editor of the Wakefield Daily Item, was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Rotary Club on Monday noon at the Brae Burn Country Club. He gave a very interesting talk on his hobbies of mountain climbing and photography. The colored photographic slides, from his own pictures, illustrated the beautiful scenery which only the mountain climber can experience and which the motor tourist never sees.

Last June Mr. Campbell performed the unique stunt of reaching the top of Mt. Washington by four methods of travel between sunrise and sunset. Starting at 4:15 he and a small party climbed to the top by way of Tuckerman's ravine and returned by other trails. They then motored to the top by the carriage road through many clouds, returned to the foot and motored to the airport at Whitefield and then flew over the mountain in a chartered plane. Returning to the airport they motored to the base station of the cog railway and caught the last train of the day to the top again where they spent the night.

Mr. Campbell's pictures of the beautiful wild flowers blooming on the mountainside were most interesting as were numerous pictures of cloud effects and sunsets.

particular plan was followed, with the result that the provisions were inadequate, discriminating, unenforceable, and in a few instances unreasonably burdensome. Late in 1935 a special committee of the Board of Aldermen was appointed to bring in recommendations on the subject. After careful study of our own situation and examination of experiences and methods of other suburban communities, the attached ordinance was recommended and passed.

"The new ordinance requires removal by abutters from all types of sidewalks in all business districts. In other districts, removal is left to the action of the abutters in supplementing the plowing service voluntarily undertaken by the city.

"Over the past five years the city has appropriated annually for snow removal from streets and sidewalks averaging about $90,000. Under normal conditions this is adequate to take care of the situations on the highways and on the sidewalks in districts where the removal of snow by citizens is not required, but it requires reasonable cooperation from citizens. It is expected that future City Government will continue this program and possibly extend it as conditions required, but any marked increase in this service to our citizens would require heavy expenditures for equipment, maintenance and operation, tending to increase taxes.

"The new ordinance is believed to be more reasonable and less discriminatory. With co-operation on the part of property owners and lessees, particularly as regards supplementary shovelling and scraping of sidewalks which are used by the general public, and with public opinion aroused in its behalf, it should adequately provide for the safety and comfort of all. In communicating with you on this subject it is our purpose to ask your assistance in obtaining this co-operation and in arousing this public opinion. We are particularly desirous of this because otherwise the City Government would be obliged to extend the provisions of the present ordinance, substantially increasing the burden on property owners and occupants and inevitably causing certain hardships.

"Will you, in whatever way you can, do your utmost to make the new ordinance a success and insofar as you think it wise take steps to press the matter in those instances which, through oversight, may not be contributing to the welfare of the community? Additional copies of this statement and ordinance are available for general use and distribution by the press and all community organizations, such as Men's Clubs, Women's Clubs, Improvement Associations, Service Clubs, Church groups and the like.

"Most of our citizens will do their part without any reminder. Please do what you can to persuade the others to co-operate, so that the success of the new ordinance may be assured."

Robbery at West Newton Gas Sta.

Last Saturday night at 7:20 Albert Meads, 23, employed at a gasoline station at 1171 Washington st., West Newton, was held up by an armed bandit and robbed of about $25 which he had in his pockets. Meads had gone out to the rear of the station to get some firewood, when the bandit, standing on a fence, pressed a revolver against Meads' back and demanded the money. The robber then fled across an adjoining lot toward Watertown st.

Wild Driving Youth Sent To Shirley

Joseph McNevin, 16, of Elliot st., Cambridge, was arraigned on the Newton court last Friday on charges of driving a car so as to endanger the lives of the public, and driving without a license. McNevin and three other youths speeded through Newton on the night of Nov. 12 in a car which had been stolen at Cambridge. They crossed the city at reckless speed from the Watertown line, through Newtonville to Newton Highlands, where the car was wrecked against a stone wall on Winchester st. Two policemen had to jump aside to escape being run down, and the lives of persons, who had attended a play at Newton High School, were endangered. Two of McNevin's companions were seriously injured; one receiving a fractured hip and the other a fractured skull. As McNevin had escaped from the Lyman School, Judge Weston ordered him sent to the Shirley Industrial School.

Mistake In Name Delays Dog Case

Henry S. Larkin of Dedham st., Oak Hill, was to have been arraigned in the Newton court on Monday morning on the charge of having failed to restrain two St. Bernard dogs which he owns, after having received notice from Chief of Police Hughes to do so. It is alleged that the big dogs are vicious and that they recently have bitten several persons, including Mrs. Henry S. Cummings and children of Dr. Sumner Roberts. It is also alleged that Larkin was told more than once by Newton police to keep the dogs restrained and did not obey. Several witnesses were in court to testify in the case, but Larkin raised a legal technicality on the point that an error had been made in his middle initial in the restraining order sent him by the police. Because of this, he demanded that the court review the order. Judge Lloyd Allen complied with Larkin's request and granted a continuance of the case until November 27.

Tocci Guilty of Assault on Girl

Angelo Tocci, 20, of 27 Linwood ave., Newtonville, was found guilty by Judge Swift on Monday at the Superior Court in Cambridge of assaulting Esther Hanscom, 23, of 544 Grove st., Newton Lower Falls. The trial lasted three days. The assault occurred on the night of June 13 after the girl had been allegedly followed by Tocci from Galen st., Watertown along California st., a distance of about a mile to Colonial ave., Newtonville. The girl testified that Tocci dragged her into a field, knocked her down, broke her nose and blackened her eyes. She made her way to the home of friends nearby. Patrolman Whelan went to work on the case and arrested Tocci on June 24 after he had been identified by the girl. Tocci produced witnesses to establish an alibi. Judge Swift said he would impose sentence on December 6.

Auto Hits Woman On Washington St.

Mrs. John Boyle, 25, of 467 California st., Newtonville, was hit Friday evening last at 5:15 while crossing Washington st., opposite Channing st., Newton, by an automobile driven by George Caneles of 196 St. Botolph st., Boston. She was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance. Mrs. Boyle received severe contusions and suffered from shock.

members who voted against the retention of Mr. Cutler. This is very far from the truth: there will be no effort to defeat anyone, but a strong effort will be made to secure the election of intelligent men, capable of taking an unprejudiced view of all questions which may come up. The statement probably came from the majority of the school board who are said to be conducting what is known in "politics" as a still hunt in favor of four of the five retiring members, who will leave no stone unturned to secure their re-election. In order to be able to say to the public that their course is approved by the public."

On Wednesday evening in the absence of both the moon and the street lights, a hack belonging to Wm. Maes of West Newton collided with the carriage of E. L. Pickard of Central st., Auburndale. Little damage was done to the vehicles or their passengers, but dark streets should be lighted on rainy nights.

Newton has 20 square miles of territory uneven surfaced, with many small brooks flowing into the Charles. It is mostly residential, small traffic flows over most of its streets and surface water is little polluted. Therefore it seems best to have separate systems for surface water and for house sewage; the former can be drained directly into the Charles River. Alderman Ward said that something should be done immediately, and that there is time to make plans and surveys so that the work can start next summer.

Yale Students Invade Lasell

Three Yale students allegedly filled with liquor and the spirit of romance, following their attendance at the Harvard-Yale football game last Saturday, intruded into one of the dormitories of Lasell Junior College about 3 o'clock last Sunday morning. It is believed by the police that the intruders gained entrance to the dormitory by

Two of them remained in a downstairs hallway while the third started to explore the second floor and awakened some of the students. The resultant excitement awakened other students and members of the faculty and brought Alfred Martin, night watchman rushing from the basement of the dormitory. The trespasser rushed to the third floor where he was cornered in a closet by the watchman and Miss Madeleine March, one of the instructors. A telephone call was sent to police headquarters and a police car was rushed to the dormitory. Sergeant Bannon and Patrolmen Eliot and Powers arrested the two youths found in the downstairs hallway and also the third student who was captured in the closet. They told the police they were looking for a girl who was a student at Lasell. The girl, the police ascertained had not been a student at Lasell since last year.

The police arrested the three Yale adventurers and they identified themselves as Robert Humphrey, 20; William Wilson, 20; William Putnam, 19. The three were charged with drunkenness and were released later Sunday on $25 bail each. They were afraid of college discipline if they failed to attend classes on Monday, so they defaulted when they were supposed to appear in the Newton court on Monday.

New Pastor Ordained At North Congregational Church

A Council of the Vicinage was called by the North Congregational Church of Newton last Thursday afternoon for the examination of Mr. Martin L. Goslin prior to the ordination. Rev. Edward C. Camp of the Phillips Congregational Church of Watertown was chosen as moderator of the council and Mr. H. W. Bascom, delegate from the Eliot Church, Newton, was chosen as scribe. The council examined the candidate's credentials and listened to a paper concerning the life and religious beliefs of Mr. Goslin. The council moved toward the ordination in the evening.

The evening service of ordination began at 7:30 p. m. with an organ prelude by Mr. Charles Bacon and an anthem, "O Come Let Us Sing," by the North Church Choir under the direction of Mrs. Franklin Lowry. Rev. Ralph M. Timberlake, President of the State Congregational Conference, offered the invocation. This was followed by the reading of the minutes of the council by Rev. Edward C. Camp, the moderator and pastor of Phillips Church, Watertown. Rev. John P. Lindsay of the Milton Congregational Church then read the scripture and offered prayer. After the singing of an hymn the sermon of the evening was delivered by Rev. Ray A. Eusden of the Eliot Congregational Church of Newton. The ordination prayer was given by Rev. J. Harold Dale, minister of the First Congregational Church of Billerica. Rev. Camp extended the welcome of the West Suffolk Association of Congregational Churches. Dr. Elmer A. Leslie, Professor of Old Testament Literature at Boston University School of Theology, gave an impressive charge to the new pastor. Rev. Isaiah W. Sneath, pastor emeritus of the Wollaston Congregational Church and at present resident of Newton, gave the Charge to the People. The service was closed with the benediction by Rev. Martin L. Goslin.

This service was of especial interest to the North Congregational Church, for it is the first ordination since the service held for the Rev. Samuel E. Lowry, first minister and founder of the church, on February 21, 1867. Many visitors from Rev. Goslin's former parishes in Billerica were in attendance.

Waban Youth Fined $25 for Speeding

Paul Dolan, 20, of Pine Ridge rd., Waban, was fined $25 by Judge Weston in the Newton court last Friday for speeding. It was his second conviction for such an offence within a year. Edward Nigro of Adams st., Worcester, was fined $10 for speeding. He was not in court, but was represented by an attorney. Patrolman Hickey testified that he had to chase Nigro from Thompsonville to Woburn along the turnpike before he caught him, and that Nigro drove at a rate of more than 60 miles an hour.

Presses Claim For Blasting Damages

Mrs. Hattie Townsend, whose claim for damage to her house at 56 Bennington st., Newton, allegedly caused by blasting several years ago when a sewer was being tunneled under Mt. Ida, was refused by the Board of Aldermen at a recent meeting, has asked that her claim be reconsidered. Special action would have to be taken by the Board to reopen this claim, as it is the rule not to allow a petition to be presented more than once within a year.

Three New School Teachers

At the meeting of the School Committee on Monday night three new teachers were appointed by the committee on recommendation of Supt. of Schools Warren. They are Henrietta Brebbia, a Roxbury High School and Wheeler School graduate, assigned to the Angier School kindergarten; Marion FitzPatrick of Williston rd., Auburndale, assigned to the Stearns School as building assistant; and Mary O. Tufts, assigned to the Warren junior high school as teacher of physical education. Miss FitzPatrick graduated from Newton High School and Framingham Normal School. Miss Tufts is a graduate of Winchester High School, St. Margaret's School at Waterbury, Conn., and received a B.S. degree in Education from Boston University.

The committee voted to grant a sabbatical leave for the year 1938-1939 to Mrs. Francis Forgie, teacher of physically handicapped children. She will receive half pay during the sabbatical year.

—The Second Junior Night at the Waban Neighborhood Club will be held Saturday, Nov. 27th. Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Heckman and their committee have planned an evening of bowling, badminton, and ping-pong for the sons and daughters of club members.

—Canon Bridgman of the Cathedral of St. John the Martyr of Palestine will speak on his work and experiences there on Wednesday, Dec. 1, at 1 p. m. at the Church of the Good Shepherd. The meeting, which is open to the public, is under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary.

Weatherstrips Save Time And Money, Mr. Walker Says

Anything that saves the life of furniture or hangings is worth considering, states Mr. John M. Walker of the Home Specialties Company, Inc., of Newton Centre.

Where a house is completely equipped with weatherstrips inside and out, less sweeping, scrubbing and work of this nature will be required. Instead of renewing damaged furniture or hangings, the money can be saved and applied on new ones for a complete change.

Here is another way that weatherstrips saves time and money. This so-called ideal comfort becomes a time, health and money saver all in one.

Fuel saving is also considered important. In the installation of the heating plant there will be a reduction of heating area if the house is weatherstripped. Engineers always figure in extra space to be heated when the house is not protected by weatherstrips or insulation.

THANKSGIVING DAY SERVICE AT CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

A Thanksgiving Day service was held by First Church of Christ Scientist of Newton, Massachusetts, in the church edifice, Walnut st., Newtonville, at 10:45 o'clock on the morning of Thanksgiving Day.

The service opened with the congregation singing the hymn, "Brood o'er us with Thy sheltering wing, 'Neath which our spirits blend like brother birds that soar and sing, And on the same branch bend."

The Thanksgiving Proclamation by the President of the United States was then read by Mr. Raymond Wilson, the First Reader.

The Scriptural selection was Psalms 146: 1-10 and was read by the First Reader. After the Scriptural selection the congregation united in silent prayer which was followed by the audible repetition of the Lord's Prayer with its spiritual interpretation from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy.

Hymn No. 342, "This is the day the Lord hath made; Be glad, give thanks, rejoice" was then sung by the congregation.

The Lesson-Sermon for Thanksgiving Day given in the Christian Science Quarterly and read in all Christian Science churches in the United States and many other parts of the world followed the second hymn. The subject of this Lesson-Sermon was "Thanksgiving" and had for the Golden Text: "The Lord is my strength and my shield; my heart trusted in him, and I am helped; therefore my heart greatly rejoiceth; and with my song will I praise him" (Psalms 28:7).

After the responsive reading of Bible passages, Mrs. Gertrude R. Brayton, the Second Reader, read the citations chosen from the Bible, while Mr. Wilson, the First Reader, read the correlative passages from Science and Health.

Testimonies appropriate to the occasion were then given by Christian Scientists in the congregation. This period was completely filled by expressions of gratitude for healings and other help received during the past year.

The closing hymn was Praise the Lord, ye heavens, adore Him; Praise Him, angels, in the height; and was followed by the Scientific Statement of Being from the Christian Science textbook, and the correlative passage from 1 John 3:13 read by the First Reader.

The meeting was concluded with the benediction: "Now unto him that is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think, according to the power that worketh in us, unto him be glory in the church by Christ Jesus throughout all ages, world without end. Amen."

THE LANGLEY PET SHOP

The old saying that when the man bites the dog "It's News" is true. As yet the man has not done any biting, but your local reporter has certainly been bitten by the attractive pet shop that has started business at 40 Langley rd.

The residents of Newton can surely say that they have a place to buy their pets that is also a pleasant place to congregate.

The puppies are housed in the bright, airy, clean kennels, and birds of every kind are singing for you. The talking parrots are friendly and have a good deal to say.

Mrs. Edythe Bailey who is responsible for all this should be given a big hand for doing for Newton and herself an excellent job in this pet shop venture. She has made a study of animals for many years and is competent to give to her customers not only first class merchandise, but advice on how to care for their pets.

An added attraction at the store is the presence of Mr. Archibald Ellis, Jr. This noted artist is the one that you remember as having done the murals at the Red Coach Grill in Wayland, also the Fox and Hounds Club in Boston.

Mr. Ellis has specialized in the painting of animals for many years, having painted horses and dogs for some of the most prominent society people in Boston and New York. His work is on display at the pet shop and Mr. Ellis is there in person to give you his very best attention.

Day Jr. High School

As a tribute to Thanksgiving Day the pupils of the F. A. Day have contributed thirteen boxes to the needy of Newton. Each box contained food for families ranging from six to ten and by the size of some of the boxes there were the necessities of life for several meals. Miss Peoples and the following group of girls made all arrangements: Thanksgiving Dinner Committee—Doris Holman, Mary Hingston, Marjorie McConnell, Marjorie Goodale, Kathryn Smith, Evelyn Dalley, Shirley Bennett, Betty Peterson, Carry Donovan, Margaret Gately, Anna Corsetti, Dorothy Dunn.

The Assembly, Friday, November 19th was in charge of the ninth grade and took the form of a Political Rally. Alice Birmingham was mistress of ceremonies. Each candidate pleaded his cause and made promises in glowing terms of what he and she would do if elected. The elections took place Monday noon in the auditorium. The results are as follows: President, Francis Leone; vice president, Raymond Hunting; secretary, Janet McManis; treasurer, Paul Harriman. At the first ballot no candidate received a majority so a second ballot was necessary to finally choose Paul Harriman as Treasurer.

Girls' inter-class Soccer—Ninth 1, Eighth 0, Ninth 1, Seventh 1, Eighth 3, Seventh 0. Ninth Captains, Betty Waterhouse and Marjorie Gregoire. Goals made by Rose Caruso, Eighth Captain, Caroline Gentle. Goals made by Caroline Gentle and Leona Bartolucci. Defense player doing best work—Mary Skene, Seventh; Captain, Phyllis Burke. Goal given for delay of game by opponents.

The honor roll at the Day signifies that a pupil must receive 1's in Effort from all teachers. The following have lived up to this obligation: Grade Seven, Rita Semetelli; Shirley Bennett, Gail Peterson, Betty Brown, Mary DeStefano; Grade Eight, Janice Bail, Elizabeth Cook, Barbara Haug, Nathalie Needham, Frances Barclay, Robert Cook, Eva Messina, Margery Watt, Jane Cary, Phyllis Duff, Charles Thomas, Joseph Antonellis, Carmela Cellucci, Alfred Colella, Dorothy Farr, Muriel Furley, Nancy Hoagland, Victor Morgan, Victoria Piselli, Dorothy Chase, Janet Fowler, Barbara Kidger, Irene McManis, Grace Tomlinson, Robert Bell, Grade Nine, Helen Collins, June Chase, Francis Leone, Janet McEwan, Helen Polia, Edward Lambert, George Leonard, Helen Marks, Alfred Tedeschi, Amelio Bianchi, William Thompson, Betty Waterhouse, Virginia Kyle, John Shardelli, Rose Zeolla, Mary Bibbo, Alice Birmingham, Anna Corsetti, Blanche Kennedy.

A most interesting play was presented by the radio club Friday, November twelfth. Safety and Health is the topic on the main bulletin board this week. The posters, pictures, and written papers are all the result of class work in Mr. Cowles' ninth grade social studies group.

Our Lady H. S.

Girls' Assembly

On Thursday afternoon, immediately following the sixth period, an assembly of the high school girls was held in the auditorium. Miss Ellen Carmen, a former graduate of Our Lady's and at present a member of the senior class at Regis College, Weston, a Catholic Institution for the Higher Education of Women, spoke to the girls. Miss Catherine Donahue, secretary of the senior class presented the guest speaker to the assembly.

Class Rings

At a recent meeting of the seniors John Darcy, a former graduate of Our Lady's addressed the class in regard to class rings. Our Lady's rings, which are stone protected by a solid back have the school emblem engraved on a gold and onyx mounting.

The School Shield

The school shield pretty nearly explains itself. The predominant colors are those of the school—gold and purple. A book, symbol for school, is held up, offered and guarded by lilies, and emblem from the arms of the Congregation of the Sisters of Saint Joseph, together with the carpenter's square of Saint Joseph. Presiding above it is the guiding star of Our Lady, to indicate "Help of Christians." All is placed in a cross, the distinctive heraldic badge of all Christians.

A "number of lilies (3) honors the Blessed Trinity as do also the three crosses as "printer's stops" to divide the words of the motto on the book. The motto: "Dominus Illuminatio mea" has been translated, "God is my learning."

The design has merit of simplicity and distinctness.

Red Cross

The pupils in all classes of Our Lady's grammar and high schools have responded generously to the appeal for contributions to aid the unfortunate at Thanksgiving time. Our Lady's has a 100 per cent membership roll in the American Junior Red Cross.

College Day

The International Federation of Catholic Alumnae held its second Annual College Day at Emmanuel College, Saturday, Nov. 13, to which the Senior girls of Our Lady's High School were cordially invited. College Day, a project in Catholic Education held in observance of National Education Week, portrayed Catholic Education in Action.

The following senior girls left Newton by bus at 11 o'clock: Margaret Byrne, Catherine Callahan, Kathleen Conrado, Catherine Donahue, Mary Garry, Helene Gagan, Josephine Grella, Margaret Mahoney, Alice MacDonald, Jeanne McDonald, Margaret McPherson, Mary Murphy, Wilhelmina O'Brien, Rita Smith, Evelyn Stewart, Rose Timmins and Alice Yeager. Groups of College Seniors in caps and gowns took charge of the visitors and guests, showing them through the building. After exhibits were inspected a catered luncheon was served followed by an auditorium program in which the featured speakers were members from 17 various colleges.

Bigelow Junior H. S.

An excellent assembly was presented by the members of the Aviation Club last Friday morning. Sanford Clark who presided explained the stage set-up and told the aims of the club. He introduced in turn the following members of the club who gave brief talks on subjects relating to aviation: Richard Schuler, early balloons; John Shibles, history of the Wright Brothers; Henry Wilson, the Fokker used in the war by the Germans; Ira Jacobs, the Curtiss T-4; James Lally, the Curtiss Flying-boat and transatlantic flying; Alexander Wilson, the Fokker Trimotor and the airmail; Arthur Richard, Charles Lindbergh; Robert O'Toole, the Kinner Sportster and pleasure craft; Richard Buswell, the Ryan S. T. The high point in the program was when Clinton Brown and Sanford Clark demonstrated practical flying with gas models and a home-made ground plane. Some R. O. G. models were flown over the audience. An opportunity was given for asking questions.

During this week pupils of the school have had a chance to furnish articles of food for Thanksgiving baskets which are to be distributed by the Welfare Bureau. Each homeroom is contributing a complete dinner, with either turkey or chicken. Collections have been made under the auspices of the Homecraft Club, Carolyn Meredith, president. The following girls are members of her committee: Nana Loveland, Barbara Moorhead, Pauline Gentile, Marcia Wilkie.

More than ordinary originality has gone into the making of the picture, "Big City" which opens at the Capitol Theatre, Allston, for the entire week starting Thursday, November 25th, with Luise Rainer and Spencer Tracy co-starred.

There is no pretense at picturing the emotions rampant in any metropolis. Instead, the story devotes itself to the human adventures of a humble taxicab driver and his immigrant bride. The city is merely background.

Miss Rainer, Academy Award winner for her role in "The Great Ziegfeld" and undeniably a contender as O-Lan, the Chinese farm woman in "The Good Earth" retains the same human qualities that made those roles so powerful. Tracy, who was the priest in "San Francisco," and the seaman in "Captains Courageous" now becomes a hackman with the same human touch that made his characterizations stand out as the most impressive in years.

The supporting cast was carefully chosen and they achieve their respective roles effectively. Among outstanding players are Charles Grapewin, Janet Beecher, Eddie Quillan, Victor Varconi, William Demarest and Rexis Toomey.

As a co-feature the management will present one of the slickest mystery-adventure stories of the season, "Sophie Lang Goes West," with Gertrude Michael, Lee Bowman and Sandra Storme.

Miss Michael plays Sophie Lang again in this new thriller and is lovelier than ever in the part.

POTPOURRI

GATHERED FOR YOU, YOUR HOME AND FAMILY
By CAROLINE F. AUSTIN

I close my eyes. Again the lark
The quivering silence stirs.
Then clear across my curtained gaze,
Stands once more a ring of firs.
Ah, ring of fir trees! Bittersweet
Dream of trees I used to know.
Marguerite Sturdy-Smith.

The brilliant tree ornaments . . . innumerable happy "stocking top" games, English books, dolls and animals . . . why we just cannot fail to hasten in to the ORIGINAL THREAD AND NEEDLE SHOP (670 Boylston st.) now while there is such a choice. Men's neckties from London . . . all the family revel in Finnish embroidered mittens . . . Vienna "woolly leather shoes." If we've the difficult gift to select . . . for salad set the wood carved "Norwegian Bridal Spoons" . . . a Swiss music box . . . Jaeger Auto Knee robe . . . Scandinavian glass or metals. Already we notice it's wiser to hurry in because such imported gifts cannot be replaced this year.

Seven hundred "American fashion" costumes were shown in a New York Observation of fashion designing.

The portrait that is worthy photography by an artist—professionally trained and painting—is all the more impressive when it is of a "plain" subject. The individuality of touches . . . we will not forget one of a dainty blonde girl as if in sunlight . . . these mean the Noetzel portrait. The NOETZEL STUDIO is itself a part of the mood created for us . . . convenient at Newton Centre (Cen. New. 6392). The "charcoal portraits" that

Newton Community Club

The regular meeting of the Newton Community Club was held in the Underwood School Hall, on Thursday, November 18th, with Mrs. Frank H. Briggs, the president, presiding. She introduced Miss Hazel Newton who spoke in behalf of the Community Crusade for Human Needs.

Mrs. Burdett P. Mansfield reminded the Club members of the Silver Tea to be held on November 22nd at the home of Mrs. Howard Le Sourd, and stated that 20 per cent of the profits from the sale of any article in her Candle Beam Gift Shop would go to the Scholarship Fund of the Club.

Mrs. James B. Melcher, chairman of the Christmas Party, asked for volunteers to take dolls to dress for the children who will be guests at that meeting.

Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge gave a report of the successful Rummage Sale.

The music of the program was furnished by the Kenway Trio.

Dr. Russell Stafford, the speaker of the afternoon, gave a most interesting talk on "Windows of Life." He pointed out that radio and motion pictures have brought the world to our doors, and that the trend is toward the city and specialization. To escape mechanism is to open the door of reality and plunge into the unreal. He spoke of our dream worlds and the different windows of our lives which we should open. First, the window of social engagements in the broadest sense; second, change of scenery; third, friendship; fourth, relaxation through books; fifth, music, listen and read; sixth, writing, if only for our own relaxation.

Refreshments were served by the Social committee under the direction of Mrs. Alan N. Kee, with Mrs. Ramon E. Gustin, Mrs. George W. Wyman, Mrs. Frank A. Denison and Mrs. Jessie A. Rodgers as pourers.

West Newton Community Service Club

At the regular meeting of the Community Service Club of West Newton which was held on November 17th in the Unitarian Parish House, with Mrs. Harold C. Scanton, president, presiding, Mrs. Edmund S. Kingsbury gave a most interesting report on a meeting of the Newton Safety Council which she had attended, and brought to realization just how much thought and study is being spent on the city's traffic problems, especially those which affect West Newton square. The first of a series of five-minute talks on Newton's local government was given by the president. It is hoped by these short addresses at each meeting that members may become more conversant with the workings of Newton's particular setup and go to the polls much better informed for voting.

The program for the afternoon was of unusual interest and a large and enthusiastic audience greeted both speakers. First, Mrs. Alice Dixon Bond, particularly beloved because she is a Newton woman, reviewed several of the newer books, mostly on phases of family life.

Judge Jennie Lottman Barron then are reproduced in a process developed by Mr. Noetzel are unusual . . . in everything the emphasis on character delineation.

Anthony Thiem's Mexican paintings are especially interesting in his Rand Gallery exhibit now—contrasting with his more familiar N. E. scenes.

Youthful fur coat fashions are given special attention in fur and lines for the custom made, and for the ready made coats. At STEELE-LITVIN, Inc., the hint is that a leading "young" fur is the gray or the black kidskin, box tailored or princess. Fabric coats well furred are competing in interest with the all fur. Fur coats are in leopard, lapin for the casual wear. Caracul is important . . . and a utility fur is the sheared beaver. Whatever our fur ideas we find an interesting version at 380 Boylston st. . . and modes we had not thought of . . . but like.

spoke on "Laws Every Woman Should Know." She pointed out first the struggles women have made to change laws affecting their status, and then gave some concrete stories of cases which had had great bearing on these changes. Of particular import to women is the business of making a will, and the Judge spent several minutes outlining just what the procedure is in regard to the will itself, the codicil, and the question of property right. She then touched briefly on the Statute of Limitations and Business Women's Corporation Law. She went into her discourse many problems which confront her daily, and it was with keen regret to her audience when she came to the end of her allotted time.

Tea was served by Mrs. George Fernald and her committee.

The Club is looking forward to the Annual Bridge Party which is to be held on Tuesday, Nov. 30th. The following members have very graciously consented to open their homes: Mrs. Robert Gross, Mrs. George Eddy, Mrs. Charles Hall, Mrs. Maynard Hutchison, Mrs. Holcombe Brown, Mrs. Herbert E. Fales, Mrs. William Morgan, and Mrs. Frank C. Thompson. As the proceeds of this Party are for the Philanthropic work of the Club it is gratifying to know that the committee has met with unusual interest and response.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

Members of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club met in the Club Rooms at Emerson School on Monday, November 15th, at 7:30 p. m., with the president, Miss Nellie M. Osborne, presiding at a short business meeting.

Following the business session, Mrs. Walter J. Billings, hostess of the evening, and chairman of the Public Health committee, introduced the speaker of the evening, Louise M. Levesque, M.D., who gave an interesting and instructive talk upon "Masks We Wear."

Miss Helen J. Gill, assistant superintendent of the Household Nursing Training School, then gave an interesting talk, illustrated with slides, describing the daily training of the students for their graduate work as a household nurse, a vocation in which it is hard to obtain enough students to fill the urgent demand for graduate nurses of this course.

Generous contributions of money and food supplies were given by the members which were distributed evenly among the three churches of the village for their Thanksgiving baskets for the needy families of the community.

Auburndale Woman's Club

Rev. Herbert Hitchen, minister of the West Newton Unitarian Church, was the speaker at the Auburndale Woman's Club meeting on Tuesday afternoon, November 22nd, at the Village Club House. Introduced by the club chairman, Mrs. Ernest P. Drew, Mr. Hitchen gave a talk on "Wayside Sanctuaries" that was both thought-provoking and inspirational.

It is the recognition, not the creation of the spiritual sanctuaries of music, art, nature, silence, fellowship, or books already in existence in the world, which is important, the speaker told his audience. His title, he went on to say, was derived from the ancient custom of lawbreakers, taking refuge in castles and in church buildings to obtain sanctuary from violent death until such time as a just punishment might be meted out to them. Today, that same phrase can be applied to certain things that enable people to recapture briefly the tranquil, quiet, masterly fashion of living that their ancestors had, he continued.

In discussing the sanctuary that silence offers to those who would escape for a while the harassed feeling that they are not living to the fullest of their capacities. Mr. Hitchen pointed out the great tragedy of people who fear silence so much that they will do anything rather than be alone with themselves. To be able to listen to the silence under all sound, is the great secret of human living, he continued.

Too often spiritual loneliness is the result of spiritual blindness, he went on, and "to find out of all this world those of like mind and soul and aspirations is to turn the blank 'it' of things to a living 'thou'."

At the regular business meeting, conducted by the president, Mrs. James Dunlop, a brief description of the work of the Newton Safety Council was given by the past president of the Newton Federation, Mrs. J. Earle Parker.

In describing the recent WPA survey made of the police reports of highway accidents in Newton during the last year and a half, Mrs. Parker said that after a study of the city's 19 principal streets and 42 busiest intersections, the survey made specific recommendations for the 17 worst spots. These have been incorporated in a pamphlet and will be used by the Newton Safety Council she continued. Mrs. Parker also mentioned the fine work of the evening, Louise M. Levesque, M.D., who gave an interesting and instructive talk upon "Masks We Wear."

At the close of the meeting, a delicious afternoon-coffee was served by Mrs. Silvanus Smith, chairman of the Hospitality committee, assisted by the following members: Mrs. John E. Carter, vice-chairman; Mrs. George A. Bacon, Mrs. C. Winthrop Blood, Mrs. Harold W. Cole, Mrs. W. Kirk Carey, Mrs. Robert F. Crane, Mrs. Edward T. Edmunds, Mrs. John M. Ferguson, Mrs. Thomas W. Ferguson, Mrs. Henry L. Goodman, Mrs. Henry G. Haynes, Mrs. Chesleigh D. Hurd, Mrs. Charles A. Hutchinson, Mrs. William A. Jarvis, Mrs. Clarence P. Johnson, Mrs. Henry Craig Jones, Mrs. Victor F. Morcan, Mrs. George N. Norris, Mrs. Raymond E. Perkins, Mrs. Allen H. Prentiss, Mrs. Albert L. Puffer, Mrs. John W. Ross, Mrs. Nora T. Spillane, and Mrs. George H. Sproat.

The pourers at the attractively-decorated coffee table were the president, Mrs. James Dunlop, and the vice-president, Mrs. Austin W. Fisher. Also present as special guests were Dr. Ralph H. Rogers, minister of the Auburndale Congregational Church, and Rev. Harold E. Hallett, rector of the Church of the Messiah.

Newton Upper Falls Garden Club

The Newton Upper Falls Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. Robert McLaughlin on Waldo rd., Elliot Heights, on Thursday, November 18th. A delicious supper was served at 6:30 p. m., with the guests seated at small tables which were decorated with Thanksgiving emblems. A Birthday Cake was presented to one of the members, Mrs. Albert Proctor, in honor of her birthday, and this was then shared with all the guests.

Following the supper a short business meeting was held with the president, Mrs. Raymond Capobianco, presiding, at the close of which the president introduced the speaker of the evening, Miss Adelaide Clancy, who gave a talk upon "Planning Your Home Garden upon Paper for the Spring Planting." Miss Clancy was very generous with advice and with helpful suggestions during the question period, answering all questions interestingly, on the various problems the members encounter during the planting season.

A visit was planned for the Club members to a local greenhouse on December 12th, to view the many varieties of Christmas plants.

The next meeting will be on December 6th.

Christmas Seal Sale

For a few weeks previous to Christmas, all over the world, the Tuberculosis Associations are asking the people to lend their support to the prevention and cure of tuberculosis. In the United States, the period from Thanksgiving to Christmas is designated for the Sale of Christmas Health Seals.

Many thousands letters will be delivered throughout Newton the morning after Thanksgiving, enclosing sheets of seals and asking the co-operation of our residents in the purchase of the seals.

The sale is of short duration, but the work from the proceeds continues throughout the year. To find active cases of tuberculosis in the community and treat them, to seek out all persons exposed to tuberculosis and build up their resistance, and to educate people in ways of healthful living—that is the three-fold purpose of the Christmas Health Seal.

The sale is conducted in this city by a committee of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs with Mrs. Chester W. Tudbury as chairman, Mrs. H. Reginald Bankart as vice-chairman and Mrs. Robert S. Bowen as publicity chairman. The local chairman are: Newton, Mrs. Steven B. Wilson; Newtonville, Mrs. Frank M. Simmons; West Newton, Mrs. Alfred E. Thayer; Auburndale, Mrs. Ralph W. McKenzie; Newton Lower Falls, Mrs. Harold Buse; Waban, Mrs. Frank G. Voorhees; Newton Highlands, Mrs. Hiram Miller; Newton Centre, Miss Grace I. Rogers; Newton Upper Falls, Mrs. William F. Kestle; Chestnut Hill, Mrs. Horace E. Jacobs. The money is dispensed by the Newton Welfare Bureau, through its Health Committee.

If you did not receive your letter, communicate with your local chairman who will gladly supply you or who will send additional seals if you can purchase more than were supplied.

No home is safe until all homes are safe. Give your generous support to this Health Crusade and buy your seals in Newton for the benefit of Newton.

HARTSHORN—PRESCOTT

Miss Olive Marion Prescott of 117 Adena rd., West Newton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Prescott of Waltham, was married to Arthur Nelson Hartshorn of 137 Central ave., Needham, on Wednesday evening, November 24, at eight o'clock in St. Mark's rectory, Brookline. Rev. Dr. Leslie performed the ceremony.

The bride was attended by Miss Della Fisher of West Newton and the best man was James Trefethan of Wareham, Mass.

A reception was held at the rectory immediately following the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Hartshorn will reside on Bowers st., Newtonville.

The groom is a graduate of Massachusetts State College, 1937.

Dogs are oftentimes shot in vain as I think this story from Athelstan, Iowa, will sustain. John Clark, a farmer who lived on the outskirts of town, had a trap line which he was in the habit of walking every evening with his dog "Jack." One day he came across a skunk den on the side of a creek bank, and as he was digging the den out the bank collapsed burying him beneath. "Jack," who was standing nearby immediately started to dig and paw at the mound of earth, seeming to know that he must do something to help his master.

Six hours later a band of searchers, who had been organized when Mr. Clark had failed to return home at his usual time, found the dog standing on the mound of earth still digging. He had succeeded in uncovering all of his master with the exception of his head and shoulders. The dog refused to allow anyone to approach and help yards. A high to Kirrane short pass was complete and the latter, behind five interferers seemed headed for a long gain but Castoldi reached right over the interference, grabbed Kirrane with one hand and hung on until he had pulled the Brookline carrier to earth, inches shy of a first down. The tackle saved an almost certain touchdown. An exchange of kicks put the ball on the Brookline 41 and with a Foster to Kirrane pass clicking for 15 yards Brookline picked up a first down on the Newton 47 as the period ended.

Second Period

Myers nailed Foster for minus 3 yards and Fisher tossed High back 5 more. Foster's punt went outside at the 27. Here Newton started its first touchdown march. Castoldi, 9 at the tackle; Fisher, 9 at the line; a first down on the 45; Newton offense, 5-yard penalty; a long pass, Fitzgerald to Paglia, complete for a 29-yard gain to the Brookline 26. A Fitz to Hines short pass incomplete; a Fitz plunge for 3 yards; Castoldi's 5-yard gain when no receiver for an attempted pass was free; and Fisher's 3-yard plunge made it first down on the 15-yard line. Here the Fitzgerald to Paglia to Hines forward-lateral play clicked beautifully. The Brookline secondary turned to tackle Paglia and the Newton end tossed the ball over him to Hines who was never touched. Castoldi's point was perfect. Castoldi kicked off and two plays later Newton took the ball again on a punt to mid-field. Fisher reeled off 12 yards, was almost free but slipped in the mud and went down. Fitz lost 3 with the team still in the muddy spot. Fitz then tossed a 10-yard pass to Hines who shook himself free from three tacklers and sped across the goal, 25 yards away. The try for point was blocked but Duffy ran over the line with the ball to make the score 14 to 0. Castoldi kicked off to the Brookline 30 and on the next play intercepted a Brookline pass. Roughing his tackler, Newton was penalized 15 yards to the Newton 36. Coach Sanborn sent in Manchester to replace Castoldi. More Newton substitutes came racing in as time for the half expired with little further action of much moment.

Third Period

Castoldi's kick went outside and it was put in play at the 35. A long pass by High was intercepted by Castoldi on the Newton 46. Castoldi fumbled on a run around right end and Sutherland recovered for Brookline at the Newton 45. Foster kicked on fourth down to the Newton 33. Fisher, plus 5, in two rushes. A Fisher to Soshaki pass clicked for 30 yards but the ball was brought back and Newton penalized 15 yards. Fitz kicked to the 35 but Brookline was clipping, drew a 15 yard penalty and it was Newton's ball. A Brookline offense gave Newton 5 yards. Castoldi gained 4 yards and a Fitz to Castoldi pass 7 for a first down on the Brookline 46. On fourth down Fitz kicked, Paglia nailing Foster in his tracks in coffin corner on the 10-yard line. Brookline kicked but Newton was offside. Kicking again Foster's punt only traveled a few yards before going outside and Newton had the ball on the Brookline 23. On second down a Fitz to Castoldi pass was good for the touchdown with the Newton fullback catching the ball on the 5 yd. stripe. Castoldi's placekick was perfect for the 21st point. Following the kickoff a Brookline punt and an interception of a Fitz pass gave the Wealthy Towners the ball near midfield. A Foster to High pass was good for 11 yards. Nine yards in three plays ended the period.

Fourth Period

Robey intercepted a pass and ran 45 yards for an apparent touchdown but the ball was brought back and given to Newton at their own 45. Castoldi swept left end for 15 yards. Robey hit the line for 4. A Fitz to Castoldi pass was complete for 15 yards but Newton drew a penalty of 15 yards to their own 47 on the play. Castoldi gained 10 yards after finding no one able to receive a pass. Sutherland intercepted a long Robey pass on his 15 yard line and ran it back to the 41. Robey nailed the Brookline carrier for a 3 yard loss on the deceptive play which nearly worked wonders for Brookline in the first period. Fitzgerald made his brilliant run of 150 yards to no avail and was so exhausted he was relieved by Smith. A statue of liberty play with Smith holding and Hines taking the ball off his outstretched arm sent the Newton speedster down the side-line for 23 yards. A Smith pass was incomplete but his next was completed spectacularly by Hughes. It was a 45 yard pass with Hughes taking the ball away from a Brookline defender and running 20 yards for the score. Robey rushed the point. Smith kicked off and after an incomplete Brookline pass and a rush for a one yard gain Powers intercepted another Brookline pass as the gun barked to end the game and the schoolboy football career of many of the Newton squad.

FRAZIER FILLS RESERVE ROLE ON BOWDOIN TEAM

Brunswick, Me.—No football team could get very far without substitutes, and no matter how little publicity the second and third team men get as compared with the regulars, they are every bit as important to a season's success.

Nowhere has this been proved more conclusively than at Bowdoin College during the past three years, where Adam Walsh, captain and center of Notre Dame's great 1934 team, has been the Polar Bears' head coach. In all three years Walsh has consistently followed a policy of developing capable reserves and making mass substitutions in even the most important games, and his teams have won 14 and tied three out of 21 games played.

During those three years one of the reserves Walsh has called on most often and with full confidence has been the steady, dependable Claude Rand Frazier, formerly of Newtonville, now of Auburndale, and a graduate of Newton High School, where he was a star athlete.

Never a regular, Frazier, who is called "John" or "Whitey" usually, has nevertheless seen action in a great majority of the games during his football career. Frazier played at one of the halfback posts in every game but the Wesleyan and Williams games, and scored against Colby. He won a varsity letter in his sophomore and junior years and will very likely get one this year also. He was also a star halfback on his freshman football team.

Frazier has already won three varsity baseball letters and has been a member of the Bowdoin independent basketball five since it was organized three seasons ago.

SPORT NOTES

John P. Kelsey of 246 Central st., Auburndale, has been awarded class numerals for his work on the football squad of the Mercersburg Academy for the fall term.

Kelsey, who is the son of Mrs. Joel Kelsey, entered Mercersburg in September.

Stanley Gruber, a freshman at Colby College, and son of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Gruber of 38 Whittemore rd., was voted by the Council on Athletics to receive his 1941 class numerals in freshman football for the 1937 season.

SIDELIGHTS

The Newton band, between the halves, spelled out B. H. S. by holding the orange side of their two-color cloaks as they faced the stands. On the signal of the drum major different members of the band would reverse their cloaks to form the necessary letter.

Newton won its third Suburban League title in succession. They practically clinched the honors nearly a month ago by toppling an undefeated Rindge team, and only needed a tie.

Several members of the Newton Board of Aldermen attended the game as did many former Newton High football players of recent years. Among those present were Aldermen McKay, Temperley, Gaddis, Bacon and also Mayor Childs.

The field was very muddy in spots and sawdust spread over the worst places was not of much use by the second half. Many plays were ruined because the players could not keep their feet in the slippery ooze.

Fitzgerald's play was outstanding for Newton although nearly every player showed their ability at one time or another. The game was filled with unusual plays, unusual situations, and thrilling moments. Brookline threw quite a scare into Newton followers in the early moments. Its deceptive attack seemed destined to bring it a score. Once Newton took the lead there was little question as to the ultimate outcome.

Fence Destroyed, No Prosecution

On Halloween night over 200 feet of fence at the home of the Welch brothers, elderly men residing at 22 Cummings rd., Newton Centre, was maliciously knocked down. Patrolmen Hoyt and Taffe investigated the case and obtained an admission from a 16 year old youth residing in the neighborhood that he and three other youths about the same age, had knocked down the fence. The youths appeared in a juvenile session of the Newton court but the youth who made the admission retracted it. Because of lack of evidence the judge was forced to dismiss the charge against the four youths. The Welch brothers will receive no reimbursement for the destruction of their property.

Continue Newton Youth's Case

A 16 year old Newton Centre youth who is a student at Newton High School was arraigned before Judge Swift in the Superior court at Cambridge last Friday on a charge of having received a stolen watch; the watch having been stolen from an automobile by a younger brother of the defendant. Judge Swift said he would continue the case until next month.

Choose Senior Play Cast

After weeks of difficult elimination, due to the great number of capable aspirants, the cast of the senior play, "Leave It To Psmith" has finally been selected.

Ellis Dierdorff has been chosen to play the title role of the versatile hero. Opposite him will be billed Ann Reynolds, librarian at the Middlewick, which part will be taken by Richard Keefe. His dominating wife, conqueror of the Dulworth diamonds, will be portrayed by Natalie Norton.

Peter Geisler will portray the none too dutiful son, Freddie. In the role of his enterprising fiancée, Joan Cox, will be seen. Cast as the notorious post-gangster, is Virginia Wilson. Leonard Accetullo will characterize her adoring accomplice Eddie Cootes. As husband and wife—continually at odds with one another, Sally Cushing and Parker Pitts will portray the McDotts.

A typical English butler, but even more British than Jeeves, in real life is Julian Allen—the inimitable Bel-lows. And the secretary, dry and humorless, will be seen in the person of Oliver Wyman.

Exactly opposite from the hat-check girl described in modern American Scripts, is the cold, relentless Rumble-bow of the Morpheus Club—in real life, Mona Hoyt. Barbara Davis will appear as the distinctive Ethelberta Fitzwiggan, defeated foe of Eustacia Middlewick.

Society's children, Walderwey and Agatha, will be played by Paul Bulling and Irene Butchart and Charles Brickett takes the part of the loquacious elevator-man, Augustin Root will characterize the pompous Viscount Chipstead from London's elite society.

Alumni Notes

Joseph H. Manning, '33 of Auburndale and Robert G. McPhee, '30, of Newton have been elected to Phi Beta Kappa at Tufts.

Miss Barbara G. Kimball, an alumna of Newton High School, and a junior at Pembroke College in Brown University, was honored at the annual Honors Day Convocation held recently.

Cavalry Club

Organized three years ago to provide an interest in a recreational activity which does not end with school days, the Cavalry Club has more members participating this year than ever before. In addition to the riding done by the club, members and fathers are riding together.
